Walnut Ridge Earns Approval Rating Of AAA

EARNS SEAL OF APPROVAL - The Walnut Ridge Bed and Breakfast in Grantsville recently earned the right to display the distinctive oval AAA approval sign. The inn was in the vanguard in Garrett County to be accepted by the American Automobile Association. See story.

The Walnut Ridge Bed and Breakfast in Grantsville has earned the approval rating of the American Automobile Association (AAA). With this endorsement comes the opportunity for the B&B to be listed in the 1999 AAA travel guide. The inn was the first in Garrett County to be so distinguished.

Owned by Tim and Candy Fetterly, Walnut Ridge opened to guests about three and a half years ago. Candy Fetterly said she began the process of applying for the AAA seal of approval about a year ago. "They have some pretty stringent guidelines in safety, cleanliness, and hospitality," she noted.

Though it meant doing some additional work to the vintage 1860s inn, Fetterly said she felt it was worth it in order to receive the rating and the listing. "There were some extra locks we needed to add and a few other things. It wasn't anything major," she explained.

Once the requested additions and changes were made, an inspector from AAA visited Walnut Ridge to scrutinize the accommodations. All was found to be in order, and the oval AAA sign was awarded, noting the high standards of the establishment.

"An inspector will return each year for a follow-up inspection," Fetterly said.

The Walnut Ridge B&B offers two rooms, a country suite, and a log cabin in the woods. Up to 10 visitors can be accommodated at a time.

Fetterly decorated the rooms in colors, furnishings, and fabrics reminiscent of the 19th century farmhouse lifestyle. Quilts cover beds and hang on walls. Blue patterns are hand-stenciled on the walls of one bedroom, and crocheted afghans drape over backs of rocking chairs.

"Each morning I cook a complete breakfast. Sometimes we eat out on the porch, where there is a view of the mountains. In the winter we may eat in the sitting room in front of the fire," Fetterly explained.

There are gardens, trees, and shrubbery on the grounds surrounding the B&B. There is also a wood-fired hot tub outside.

"People enjoy the hot tub. It is rather unusual. We like to offer things that are just a little bit different than you find elsewhere," Fetterly said.

Guests at the B&B previously came mostly from along the east coast. But Walnut Ridge now has an Internet address and Fetterly has found that it is bringing tourists to the Garrett County lodging from other parts of the country.

Visitors to Walnut Ridge will later receive a newsletter from Fetterly outlining some of activities of the area and special package deals that the inn is offering. "I want it to be a bit personal so I include a recipe and gardening tips," she said.

For information on the Walnut Ridge Bed and Breakfast, persons may call 301-895-4248.

Cornucopia Day In Grantsville Hosted By GGBA

The Greater Grantsville Business Association (GGBA) recently held its third annual Cornucopia Day throughout the town of Grantsville. According to event chair Trish Morgan, several thousand people visited the town-wide yard sales, sidewalk sales and craft booths, as well as enjoyed complimentary refreshments at select Grantsville businesses during the day.

"We had so many folks in town early in the day that the famous Grantsville Lions Club chicken barbecue sold out just shortly after lunchtime," added Morgan.

Twenty-four children participated in the Children's Afternoon at Spruce Forest Artisan Village, which offered games, prizes, refreshments and sing-a-longs. GGBA members Edna McKenzie and Candy Fetterly led the scarecrow-making activities, and Morgan led the games and singing.

GGBA businesses donated toward the "Crazy Hay" game, where children dove into a huge hay pile and scrambled for over $60 in coins. Those children earning prizes were: Dustin Klotz, Alex Kulick, Amy Willison, Jason D'Atri, Levi Rishel, Nick Morris, Caleb Donnelan and Jordan Swinehart.

Next year's Cornucopia Day has already been scheduled for Sept. 11. Activities planned include expanded crafts sales and demonstrations, strolling musicians, children's activities, town-wide yard sales, chicken barbecue, and special merchant discounts and sales. For more information persons may call Trish Morgan at 301-895-3332.

Local Students Begin College Studies at WMC

A pair of Garrett County residents have enrolled in the fall semester at Western Maryland College in Westminster.

Jason E. Herman of Friendsville, son of Deborah Herman of McHenry and Donald Herman Jr. of Friendsville, and Joe L. Weimer, son of Lonita and Harry Weimer of Lonaconing (Garrett County), are among the approximately 1,500 undergraduates enrolled for the 1998-1999 academic year, the college's 131st year of liberal arts and sciences education.

FESTIVAL EVENT SPONSORS - Two local financial institutions are among the corporate sponsors of events of the 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival, which will be held Oct. 8-11. Farmers & Mechanics Bank & Trust of Oakland will sponsor the Autumn Glory Craft Show, while American Trust Bank will sponsor the Maryland State Fiddle and Banjo championships (see story for details). In the photo above, festival chairman Diane Wolfe accepts a check from Jeff McCauley, vice president of FAM Bank. At right, she receives a check from John J. Sisson, vice president at American Trust Bank.

American Trust To Sponsor Banjo, Fiddle Contests

American Trust Bank will be sponsoring the Maryland State Banjo and Fiddle Championships as part of the 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival.

Some of the best banjo and fiddle players in the area will compete on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9 and 10. The Maryland State Banjo Championship will be held Friday, Oct. 9, and the Fiddle Championship Saturday, Oct. 10, at the Southern High School gymnasium.

These championships will feature competitions between top banjo and fiddle musicians from five states. Each contest will begin at 7 p.m. "American Trust's sponsorship of these championships represents its second year of commitment to help defray the costs of producing these exciting events," stated festival chairman Diane Wolfe of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. American Trust has also supported the Autumn Glory Festival by purchasing Golden Ambassadorships for many years."

Scholarships To Entrepreneurship Forum Available

The Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC), in partnership with the nonprofit Corporation for Enterprise Development (CED), is seeking applications from Appalachian community, business, and education leaders for scholarship opportunities to attend the 16th annual Entrepreneurship Education Forum to be held in Nashville, Tenn., from Oct. 31 to Nov. 3.

The Entrepreneurship Education Forum brings together many of the nation's leading business trainers and educators. A total of 35 ARC scholarships will be awarded based on need.

Returning from the conference, scholarship recipients will be asked to lead sessions in their communities about entrepreneurial education practices and activities.

The ARC is offering this scholarship opportunity as part of a region-wide, multiyear, Entrepreneurship Initiative, seeking to strengthen local economies in Appalachia by increasing "home-grown" businesses and jobs.

A copy of the scholarship may be down-loaded from ARC's website: www.arc.gov/infopubs/releases/relmain.htm.

For more information, persons may contact Ray Daffner, ARC Entrepreneurship Initiative director, at 202-884-7777, or the Corporation for Enterprise Development at 202-408-9788.

Community Day Set On Bypass In Meyersdale

The Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT) will open a portion of the new Route 219 Meyersdale, Pa., bypass Sunday, Oct. 4, to allow the members of the community to get an up-close look at the new highway.

Slated as the Meyersdale Bypass Community Day, the event will permit pedestrians, bicyclists, joggers, and rollerbladers to examine and enjoy the construction project from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The starting point for the event will be the Route 219 interchange located on the site of former IGA Foodliner, south of Meyersdale. A span of about four miles will be open, which will offer water stations and portable toilet facilities, and chairs for those needing to rest.

Organized by Pastor Craig Lyman of the Meyersdale United Methodist Church, a "Crop Walk" to raise money for hunger projects around the world will also take place on the bypass during the Community Day activities. Registration to participate in the Crop Walk will take place at the starting point for the walk and bike area.

Joining PennDOT in issuing the invitation to the community event are the contractor, New Enterprise Stone and Lime Co. Inc., design consultant Gannett Fleming, environmental consultant Greenhorne and O'Mara Inc., and the project's construction inspection consultant, SAI Consulting Engineers Inc.

PennDOT's district engineer, Earl Neiderhiser, stated that construction is on schedule for the bypass to be open to vehicular traffic by the end of October.

FSU To Host Razumovsky String Concert

The Frostburg State University Cultural Events Series Sunday Afternoon Showcase will present The Razumovsky String Quartet this Sunday, Oct. 4, at 3 p.m. in the Lane Center Greenhouse.

Violinists Peter Sirotin and Alexander Zhuk, along with violist Michael Stepniak and cellist Igor Zubkovsky, comprise the quartet, which recently reached the semi-final round of the Fischoff Chamber Music Competition.

The quartet, which is actively performing throughout the United States, was formed in 1997 when the members were students of the Peabody Institute of Johns Hopkins University. They are currently principals or former principals of the Peabody Symphony Orchestra.

Selections for this performance may include Mozart's Quartet in B flat Major or Mendelssohn's Quartet Op. 44, No.1 in D Major.

For information and ticket reservation, persons may call the Lane Center Box Office, 301-687-4411. Light refreshments will be available.

The Sunday Showcase performances for this season's Cultural Events Series are sponsored by the FSU Foundation Inc. CES also acknowledges the Peabody Institute of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore for its support of the performing arts. The series is funded in part by the Maryland State Arts Council and is presented in association with WFWM 91.9.

FIRST UNITED SPONSORS PARADE - For many years First United Bank & Trust has been the sponsor of the Autumn Glory Festival's Grand Feature Parade, and this year is no exception. Above, festival chairman Diane Wolf accepts a check from Steve Lantz, senior vice president and senior lending officer at First United. See story.

First United To Again Sponsor Festival Parade

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce has announced that First United Bank & Trust, Oakland, with five community offices located in Garrett County as well as 15 additional offices throughout Maryland and West Virginia, will sponsor the 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade. The Autumn Glory Festival will be held Oct. 8-11, in downtown Oakland, and throughout the county, with the Grand Feature Parade beginning at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 10. This parade is the largest and most well-attended event of the four-day festival, which boasts an attendance of tens of thousands.

First United employees will staff a festival information booth at the intersection of Second and Liberty Streets from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday before the parade.

"First United Bank & Trust's sponsorship of the Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade represents its ninth year of commitment to defray the tremendous costs of producing this spectacular event in Garrett County," said Diane Wolfe, executive director of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. "First United has also supported the Autumn Glory Festival by purchasing Golden Ambassadorships since the program's beginning."

For more information or a free festival brochure, persons may contact the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone 301 334-1948, E-mail info@garrettchamber.com.

Antiques

Motorcycle memorabilia is a relatively new collecting area. Full-sized motorcycles, clothing, signs, catalogs, trophies, giveaways, jewelry and toys are selling well. Those items made before 1930 or those that are three-dimensional, such as the toys, are the highest priced.

In the 1920s, '30s and '40s, Marx made dn motorcycle toys. But the best known and most collectible toys today are the cast-iron toys of the 1930s made by Hubley Manufacturing of Lancaster, Pa. Other cast-iron toys were made at the same time by Arcade Manufacturing Co. of Freeport, Ill.

The iron toys tried to be miniatures of the real motorcycles, while the tin toys were made for children and had more imagination in the design.

Many of Hubley's imaginative toys came with removable drivers.

The toys, which were about four inches long or larger, originally sold for 10 cents to $5. Today, iron toys still covered with the original paint can be worth more than $1,000.

Q. How should I clean rhinestone and pearl jewelry?

A. Most jewelers clean jewelry using electronic devices and professional tools.

If you plan to clean pearls at home, never immerse them in water or any other liquid. The cord holding the pearls could be damaged by soaking.

Place real pearls in a glass jar with a half-cup of powdered magnesia or potato flour. Shake the jar for a few minutes and wait for 24 hours. Repeat the process, then remove the excess powder with a dusting brush. Wipe artificial pearls with a chamois moistened with water.

Never soak rhinestones in water either. They often have a backing that can be damaged by water.

To clean rhinestones, dip a cotton swab or soft, small brush in a glass-cleaning solution or dishwashing liquid and lightly brush each stone. Then polish the stones with a soft linen cloth.

Home Tips

PILLOWCASES – There was a great sale on designer sheets at a local department store. I found king-size sheets in an attractive pattern but no matching pillowcases. Actually, two pillowcases were the same price as one sheet. What to do?

I bought one matching flat king-size sheet. I'm not much of a seamstress, but I can sew a straight seam. I measured carefully, allowing for extra hem widths, tore down instead of cutting to make sure they were on the straight and sewed them up with nice full hems and reinforced seams. One sheet was enough for eight cases. Our bed looks fantastic and I saved a lot of money. Wilma L., Columbia, S.C.

GUMMY LABELS – I keep my address and telephone list up to date by using strips from my VCR tapes and also the sheet that comes with some prescriptions. There are many areas that are plain white and sticky that you can peel right off.

I cut strips to cover changed addresses and telephone numbers. Then I have a clean surface to write the new information. The result is an up-to-date and neat book. Anne T., Fairfax, Va.

BAG IT – Sheet sets are sometimes sold in clear plastic bags with great zippers. They can be used to store all sorts of things. I am filling one up with goodies to send to a friend who is away in the Peace Corps. I am sure she will be able to put it to good use. Edna K., San Antonio, Texas

Biography®

SANDRA DAY O'CONNOR: FIRST LADY OF THE LAW

As the nation's highest court begins its new term on the traditional first Monday in October, Sandra Day O'Connor, the first woman justice to sit on the Court, will embark on her 18th year as a justice. To many, including O'Connor, it seems like only yesterday President Reagan appointed her, fulfilling a campaign promise.

Growing up on her parents' Texas cattle ranch, O'Connor, featured in October's Biography magazine, began life more accustomed to cowboy boots than a judge's robe. Yet her mother, a college graduate, taught her to read early. She was an excellent student, participating in honors classes, skipping two grades and graduating at 16.

O'Connor attended Stanford University and Law School, graduating third in her class. While checking citations in the library, she met fellow law student John O'Connor and married following her graduation. Her superb qualifications notwithstanding, she was unable to find a job at any of the large firms because of her gender, and worked as a civilian lawyer while her husband was in the service.

While raising children, O'Connor took a hiatus, concentrating on volunteer work, including jobs for the Republican party. She eventually ran for an open state senator seat and was re-elected twice, becoming the first female Senate majority leader.

Eventually, O'Connor was appointed to the Arizona Court of Appeals, where Reagan tapped her to replace retiring Justice Potter Stewart because of her gender and middle-ground positions. With the Court often divided, O'Connor frequently serves as a "swing vote," able to win concessions from the others, bringing them closer to her views. Hers is not the kind of jurisprudence likely to be studied in law books. But it does generate criticism from more forceful conservatives like Justice Scalia. She spends long hours at Court searching for elusive right answers and then defends them with confidence. She's prepared, and she knows it.

Road Closings, Detours Noted For Grand Feature Parade

The Autumn Glory Festival Committee reports that because of potential traffic and safety hazards, the Maryland State Highway Administration has again recommended policy for the 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade, slated for Saturday, Oct. 10.

As has been customary with previous Autumn Glory festivals, some roads will be closed for the parade (see map); however, the festival committee requests local residents to note that at 7 a.m. on Saturday, October 10, Green Street will be closed for vendors to set up on the street and in the American Trust Bank drive-in parking lot.

• At 11 a.m. that day, all southbound traffic on U.S. Route 219 will be routed through Oakland via Fourth Street and trucks will be routed by Oakland via Sand Flat Road. Beginning at 11 a.m., Route 219 will be open to permit holders only, and all traffic will be southbound only. No parking will be allowed along Fourth Street, and Memorial Drive will be closed for westbound traffic at Fourth Street. Through traffic on Memorial Drive will be detoured at Eighth Street. Memorial Drive will be open for parking and local traffic only between Eighth and Fourth streets.

Roads will be closed in several more locations at 11 a.m.: U.S. Route 219 between Fourth and Oak Streets, Memorial Drive between Third and Fourth Streets, and Pennington, Crook and Omar streets on both sides of Third Street.

Center Street will be open for cross-town traffic only until 12:45 p.m. Signs advising travelers of the detour will be provided by the Maryland State Highway Administration, and help to travelers at closed roads will be provided by personnel from the Maryland State Police, Garrett County Sheriff's Office, and the Oakland Police Department. Permits are being issued by the festival committee to local merchants and festival participants who need to go through the roadblock on Saturday, Oct. 10. The units of the Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade will set up within the closed area, and the parade will begin at 1 p.m. Handicapped parking will be available at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Lodge on First Street.

For more information, persons ntay call the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce at 301-334-1948.

First-Time Home Buyers May Get Low-Rate Loans

Potential first-time home buyers in Garrett County still have the opportunity to take advantage of Maryland's low interest rates to help keep mortgage payments affordable.

To create this situation, the state has partnered with local governments and private lenders to provide $75 million for 30-year mortgages at 6.1 percent interest under the Maryland Mortgage Program. The money is available in 21 of Maryland's 23 counties and Baltimore City.

Montgomery and Prince George's counties have separate home-buying programs, but home buyers in those counties may be able to tap another $15 million available in statewide funds that are not issued on behalf of the local governments.

Each county has targeted the money in a way that beat meets its housing needs, by tailoring the income requirements and purchase price limits to best reflect the local market. Many jurisdictions use state or Farm Home Administration limits. In Garrett County, income limits are $47,360 for one person households and $56,240 for two or more person households. The maximum acquisition cost in the county is $86,317.

Loans are limited to first-time home buyers, except in federally targeted areas. Most counties in western Maryland, southern Maryland and northeast Maryland have most of their allocations still available.

In western Maryland, Frederick County has about $1.96 million of its allocation remaining, Carroll County has $1.88 million available, Allegany County still has $1.14 million, and Garrett County still has nearly $600,000 available.

In southern Maryland, Charles County has $1.82 million, St. Mary's County still has $1.62 million, and Calvert County has $1.29 million still available. In the northeast corner, Cecil County still has $1.22 million.

All of the money available for Harford County has been reserved, and only a little over $3,000 remains in Washington County (not enough for one loan), but home buyers in those areas also may be able to tap the $15 million state-wide pool.

In other areas of the state, Baltimore County and Wicomico County also have used up all of their allocations and are eligible to use money in the state-wide pool.

Homes in some sections of Allegany, Frederick and Washington counties also may be eligible for purchase under the state's "Forty at Four" program, which has made $40 million available to certain home buyers at 4 percent interest.

For information about the Maryland Mortgage Program or "Forty at Four" program in any part of the state, lists of participating lenders, and county-by-county eligibility requirements, persons may call 410-514-7501, toll free at 800-638-7781 or Maryland Relay for the Deaf at 800-735-2258.

Autumn Passage

A criss-cross current of wind sweeps leaves from the path before me, swirls them behind me; erases evidence of my passing.

A piercing ray of sun stabs the
of flaming maple, each leaf
a tongue of fire that licks the cerulean sky and crackles against the bowl of blue.

Frost-rimed grass crunches underfoot, yields, springs back reluctantly, preferring to rest against the cold, quiescent earth; listening, listening for its Mother's voice.

Celebrate The Glory October 8-11

Garrett County's 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival, celebrating the glory of the autumn foliage season is slated for October 8-11 in downtown Oakland and the surrounding area. This year's four-day festival begins Wednesday, Oct. 7, with the Kick--Off Reception and crowning of Autumn Glory Queen Andrea Bender at the McHenry House at Wisp Ski & Golf Resort at Deep Creek Lake.

Events begin Thursday, Oct. 8, with special hours at the Garrett County Historical Museum and the Firemen's Parade and Oktoberfest meal and celebration at the Oakland fire hall. Other events of the festival include the "Offi-

AUTUMN LEAVES are not only beautiful, but they can also be a lot of fun, especially for little people like the one pictured above. The autumn leaf is a symbol for Garrett County's annual Autumn Glory Festival, a celebration that includes a wide variety of entertainment for people of all ages. Plans for the 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival have been finalized, and the four-day schedule of events was got under way at the kickoff reception held Wednesday evening at the McHenry House, Wisp Resort. This publication contains the complete schedule of events and detailed information about the festival.

Rosey Grier To Lead Festival Parade

Rev. Rosey Grier, retired professional athlete, successful actor, singer, author, and an ordained minister, will be a guest in Garrett County during the 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival, during which he will serve as the parade marshal of the AGF Grand Feature Parade on Saturday, Oct. 10, and as the guest speaker and celebrity host for the Day of Hope Golf Tournament at the Golf Club at Wisp on Friday, Oct. 9. The announcement was made this week by the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the Day of Hope Golf Tournament Committee.

Grier leaped into national prominence as an All-Pro defensive tackle with the New York Giants of the National Football League in 1955. His notoriety as a pro star increased when he was traded to the Los Angeles Rams and became the leader of the "Fearsome Foursome," acclaimed by experts as the best defensive line in professional football history.

After retiring from professional football in 1968, Grier became one of the first professional athletes to make a successful transition to movie and television acting. He has since starred in 10 movies and has guest starred in over 70 television roles. He has toured with Bob Hope and has been a guest performer on several television specials.

An outstanding singer, Grier has performed at Carnegie Hall and other prestigious concert halls and cabarets throughout the country. His album Committed was released nationally by Word Records. Grier has several books to his credit, including his autobiography, Rosey, The Gentle Giant, as well as All American Heroes and Shooting Star.

Grier is also etched in the memory of America because of his historic role in subduing and disarming Sirhan Sirhan seconds after the assassination of Robert Kennedy. Today as an ordained minister he is committed to bettering the conditions of the inner cities of the country. Over the past decade he has developed a series of prototypical educational and spiritual programs, which have trained and benefitted young people in the inner cities.

Grier was elected to the Foundations of the Milken Family's and CAP CURE's board of directors in 1993. The Foundations of the Milken Family's focus is on education, and community and human development. CAP CURE's goal is to find a cure for prostate cancer, a common goal of the Day of Hope Golf Tournament, which attracted Grier to Garrett County.

"Rosey Grier represents what is good about America," stated a Chamber of Commerce spokesperson. "He is one of 11 children of a Geor

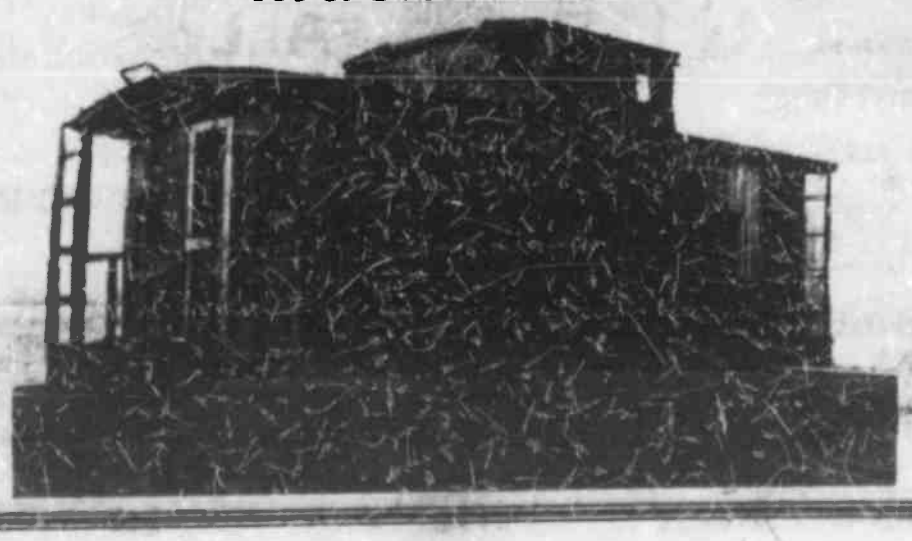
Andrea Bender Named Festival Queen

Miss Andrea Leigh Bender, the daughter of Dave and Lisa Bender, Mtn. Lake Park, will reign as queen of Garrett County's 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival, which will be held October 8-11 in downtown Oakland and the surrounding area. She will be crowned at the Kick-Off Reception on Wednesday, Oct. 7, at the McHenry House at Wisp.



Andrea, a senior at Southern Garrett County High School, serves as Student Council president and National Honor Society president. She is enrolled in Advanced Placement courses at school and has been nominated as a Maryland Distinguished Scholar. She was chosen as the Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership winner as a sophomore and has been an active member of Student Council, having served as both an executive board member and class representative.

Athletically, she has been a recipient of the Minds in Motion award for excelling in both academics and athletics.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Balsamic vinegar adds a sophisticated touch to fruit desserts. Mix 3 Tbs. balsamic vinegar with ¼ cup brown sugar and ½ to 1 tsp. coarse-ground black pepper. Stir in strawberries, cut-up apple and bananas and let the mixture stand 15 minutes as flavors develop.

Portobello mushrooms may sound Italian, but they really come from Pennsylvania. They're just brown button mushrooms allowed to grow a few extra days.

Place thin slices of cheddar cheese, smoked ham, red onion and tomato on good country-style bread, add more cheese, then the top piece of bread. Spread the outsides of the sandwich with butter seasoned with mustard and herbs. Cook in a nonstick skillet.

What is that special, subtle flavor? Maybe the cook pureed a teaspoon of capers in the vinaigrette. The versatile berry is great with fish and chicken, and in pasta sauce with black olives.

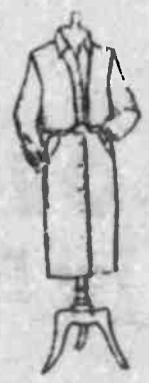
Crystal Hinnant, Dana Braskey Selected Festival Princesses

CRYSTAL HINNANT

DANA BRASKEY



Crystal Hmnant and Dana Braskey have been selected princesses for the 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival slated for October 8-11, in downtown Oakland, Maryland, and the surrounding area. Andrea Bender of Mtn. Lake Park will reign as queen (see separate story).

Crystal Hinnant, daughter of Charles and Sally Hinnant of Oakland, is a senior at Southern Garrett County High School. She is an honor roll student and has received several prestigious awards, which include Who's Who Among American High School Students and Minds in Motion. Crystal has been involved in many extra curricular activities, including serving as president of the 1999 senior class, a member of the graduation committee, captain of the Varsity Cheerleading Squad, and a member of the Varsity Track Team. She has also participated in the Oakland Ecumenical Youth Ministries program and the Garrett Swim Team. Crystal's interests include snow skiing, water skiing, and swimming. She has been a volunteer for the Maryland Special Winter Olympics and the Blind Skier Program at Wisp, and she has been a volunteer for the Needy Families at Christmas Program in Garrett County. Panelcraft Building Systems

The time to be concerned about how to keep your heating fuel tank full is when you build!

Use Panelcraft's Structural Insulated Panels (SIPs)

SIPs use Polystyrene Insulation which results in Super Energy Efficiency! One example was a 6,500 sq. ft. building being heated with a little Fisher wood stove in the basement with no ducts.

SIP structures go up faster and are stronger than conventional!

track and field meet as a sophomore and has been the WMIL champion in both high jump and triple jump. This year, Andrea will travel to Dallas as a member of the Southern High cheerleading squad for national competition. She was also selected as an All-American Cheerleader this year and will have the opportunity to perform at the Outback Bowl in Florida or the Hula Bowl in Hawaii.

Andrea is a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church and has been active in the community, assisting with the Oakland Rotary Christmas Drive, Cycle Across Maryland, Service Club Basketball and various other school events. She plans to attend a four-year university and would like to major in sports medicine.

Andrea will be accompanied throughout the Autumn Glory Festival by Princesses Crystal Hinnant of Southern High School and Dana Braskey of Northern High School. The queen and princesses will participate in the Fireman's Parade Thursday evening, Saturday's Grand Feature Parade and numerous other festival activities, and will award trophies to the winners of the Official Maryland State Banjo and Fiddle championships Saturday evening.

The Grand Feature Parade is sponsored by First United Bank & Trust, and the Official Maryland State Banjo & Fiddle championships are sponsored by American Trust Bank, and the Autumn Glory Craft Show is sponsored by Farmers & Merchants Bank & Trust. Bell Atlantic Maryland, and GFU Energy are patron sponsors of the festival.

American Trust Bank Will Sponsor Banjo, Fiddle Events

American Trust Bank will be sponsoring the Maryland State Banjo and Fiddle Championships as part of the 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival. Some of the best banjo and fiddle players in the area will compete on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9 and 10. The Maryland State Banjo Championship will be held Friday, Oct. 9, and the Fiddle Championship Saturday, Oct. 10, at the Southern High School gymnasium.

These championships will feature competitions between top banjo and fiddle musicians from five states. Each contest will begin at 7 p.m. "American Trust's sponsorship of these championships represents its second year of commitment to help defray the costs of producing these exciting events," stated festival chairman Diane Wolfe of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. American Trust has also supported the Autumn Glory Festival by purchasing Golden Ambassadorships for many years."

For more information, persons may contact the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone 301 334-1948, E-mail info@garrettchamber.com.

Beaver Creek Band To Perform At Banjo Championships

The official Maryland State Banjo Championship and concerts by the Beaver Creek Band will be held Friday, Oct. 9, in the Southern High School gymnasium, just outside Oakland. Entertainment will begin at 7 p.m. with a concert and will be followed by the Banjo Championship at 8 p.m. and another concert immediately after the contest. The championship features competitions between top banjo players from a five-state area, and trophies and prize money will be awarded to the top four contestants, with a special award for the best "old-time" banjo player and special awards for youth contestants.

The Beaver Creek Band started entertaining audiences in 1980 with a style planted firmly in traditional bluegrass, but with a strong sense of establishing its own sound. The group has developed a reputation as the premier bluegrass band in Western Pennsylvania, with a repertoire that covers bluegrass, gospel, original songs, country ballads, and a large variety of dance tunes. The band includes Mary Kissel and Randy Ord on guitar, lead and harmony vocals; Richard Ord on bass and harmony vocals; Don Shean on banjo, fiddle, guitar, lead and harmony vocals; and Scott Pearson on mandolin, fiddle, and guitar. The band has several recordings, including its most recent project 'Having a Wonderful Time," and performs at numerous festivals and events primarily in the eastern United States.

BEAVER CREEK BAND

The Banjo Championship is sponsored by American Trust Bank. Refreshments will be available and doors open at 6:15 p.m. Admission is $6 for adults and $3 for BAILING OUT A LITTLE EARLY is this young would-be aviator at the annual Greater Gortner Airport Fly-in and Open House. This popular event will begin at noon on Sunday, Oct. 11, at the Greater Gortner Airport, located along Blue Ribbon Road off Rt. 219 South. There will be plenty of sights and events for youngsters and the young at heart, including skydiving demonstrations, an airplane candy drop, airplane rides, aircraft and helicopter displays, the Shriner clowns, and more. This is a great family outing, and admission is free.

Arts, Crafts, Antiques To Be Available During Fest

Garrett County's 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival, which will be held October 8-11 in downtown Oakland and the surrounding area, will again feature a variety of arts, crafts, and antiques.

The festival will feature the 25th annual Civic Club Antique Show, the Autumn Glory Contemporary Craft Show, and the Heritage Craft Fest, with unique artwork, antiques and craft items on display and for sale.

The Antique Show and Sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9 and 10, and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 11, at the National Guard Armory, 8th and High streets, Oakland. This show features over 30 dealers displaying antiques, and homemade food will be available. The show is sponsored by the Civic Club of Oakland. Parking is free and admission is $2 per person.

The Autumn Glory Craft Show will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct.

BEAUTY LIES OUTDOORS AND INDOORS during the 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival, as colorful leaves will adorn the trees and the works of talented local artisans may be viewed at the Mt. Arts Pavilion Cooperative Autumn Glory Show & Sale. The event will encompass two locales from Thursday, Oct. 8, through Sunday, Oct. 11, at the Mt. Arts Pavilion, located along Liberty Street in Oakland (in the former Fritts Garage), and in the former Flinn's Family Store at the corner of Second and Green streets. Popular artist Ken Bauer is pictured above, apparently discussing his work with an admirer. The display sponsored by the Greater Oakland Business Association and funded in part by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council. Other works of art can be seen at the annual Heritage Craft Fest at Broad Ford Elementary School and the Autumn Glory Craft Show at Dennett Road Elementary School, both of which will be open on Saturday and Sunday. See schedule of events for more information.

MOLLY PITCHER couldn't have done it any better than Oakland Volunteer Fire Department chief Tom Swiger at last year's Oktoberfest, one of the major events of the Autumn Glory Festival. The 21st annual Oktoberfest will be held Thursday, Oct. 8, with music and dancing getting underway immediately following the 7 p.m. OVFD Firemen's Parade. Revelers may want to come to the fire hall early, though, to enjoy a menu of German-style food and beverages and to get a good seat for Oakland's biggest party of the year. (Chief Swiger's hat was obviously placed on his head by the same person stacking the pitchers!)

As Americans grow older, their needs change. They often need a little help in order to remain living at home or travel on vacation. Traditionally, this help is provided by family members, but as lifestyles change, family members are not always able to provide this help.

GARRETT HOME CARE, INC. can provide a companion, home health aide, housekeeper, or RN or LPN to help the elderly maintain their independence in the privacy of their own homes. We are located in Oakland, phone 301-334-1844.

GARRETT HOME CARE, INC. provides in-home care tailored to the individual's needs. We carefully select and screen the right person for specific situations, whether it's light housekeeping, personal care or professional nursing.

We arrange in-home evaluations and assessments at no charge. Help is available seven days a week, 24 hours a day. We are an equal opportunity provider/employer.

Call for the health care alternative that helps someone you love maintain dignity, and independence by continuing to live at home. For further information call us today at 301-334-1844.

HISTORY IS STITCHED FROM MANY THREADS, figuratively and literally, and in the exquisite cross-stitch embroidery of Marilyn McCain and the fine hand-quilting of Karin Rodeheaver, intersecting here in the 19th annual Heritage Craft Fest quilt. This fine needlepoint depiction of Oakland's historic B&O railroad station will be raffled off to benefit the Garrett County Arts Council on Sunday, Oct. 11, at 3:30 p.m. at Broad Ford Elementary School. The Heritage Craft Fest, featuring the works of dozens of artisans and artists, is slated for Saturday, Oct. 10, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Sunday, Oct. 11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at both Broad Ford Elementary and Southern Middle School. Quilt raffle tickets will be available during the festival at $1 each, and the lucky winner need not be present at the time of the drawing. Prior to the Heritage Craft Fest, the quilt will be on display at the Not Just Quilts Shop, 210 East Alder St., Oakland, where raffle tickets are also available.

Variety Of Events Set For Friday

As part of the 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival, a variety of "Celebrate the Glory" activities are scheduled for Friday, Oct. 9, at the Mtn. Fresh Pavilion in the Oakland town parking lot. Festivities scheduled throughout the day include:

9 a.m.-5 p.m. — Mountain Fresh Producers' Association Farmers' Market, featuring arts and crafts, baked goods, flowers, maple syrup, painted pumpkins, coffee, and hot chocolate.

Noon-1:30 p.m. — Country music by Jim Hollis and the Boys.

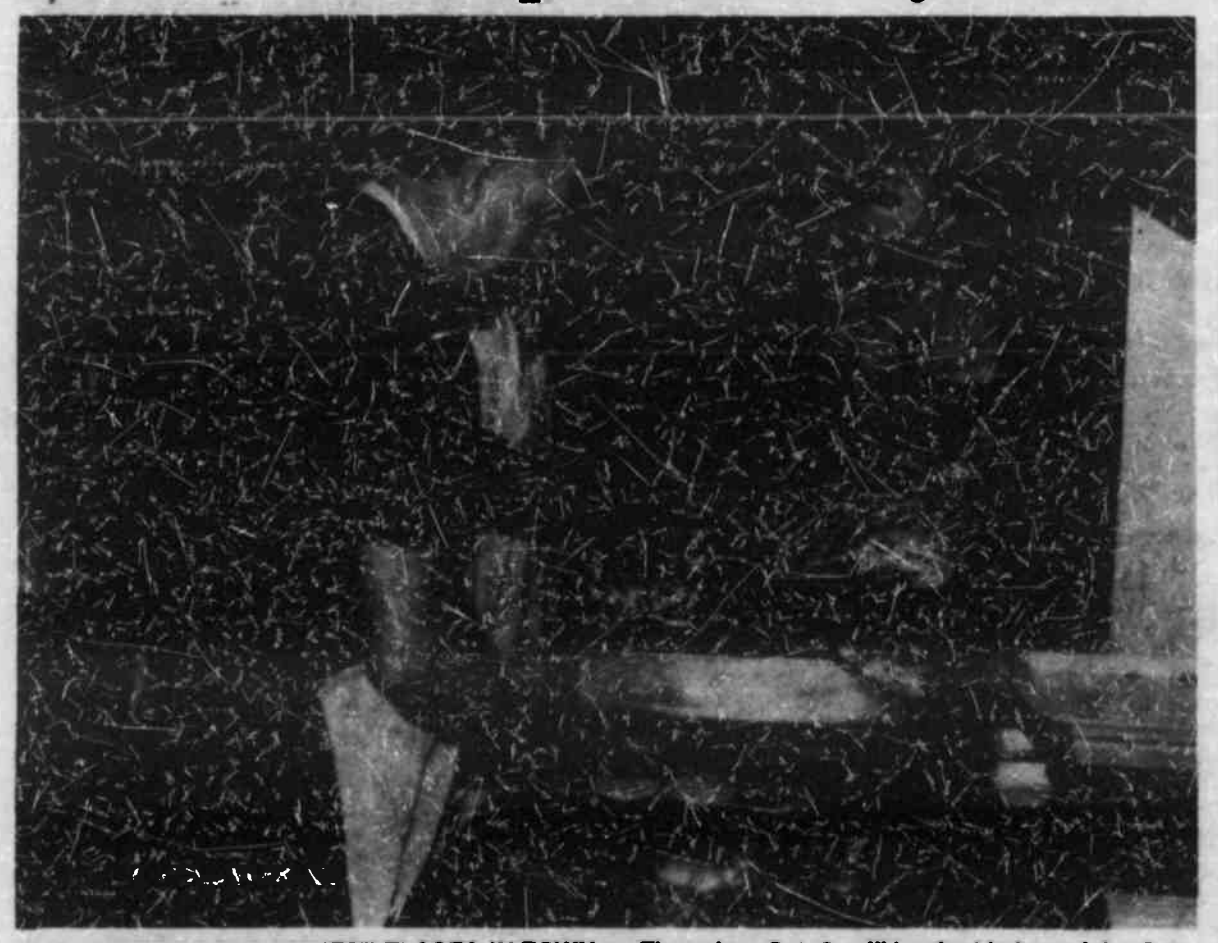
Noon-5 p.m. — Oakland FFA Petting Zoo.

1-3 p.m. — Balloons and entertainment by the Ali Ghan Shrine Clowns

3 p.m. — Lakeside Assembly of God Church music and drama performances.

3:45 p.m. — Gospel music by One Accord.

Spectators should plan to bring a lawn chair for these performances. For more information, persons may contact the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone 301-334-1948; www.garrettchamber.com, E-mail info@garrettchamber.com.



"READY; AIM; EAT!" - Hovering over (and some on) their prey, participants prepare for battle in the No-Hands Sundae Eating Contest at the Lakeside Creamery on Garrett Highway at Deep Creek Lake. The contest to benefit Big Brothers/Big Sisters is scheduled, appropriately enough, for Sunday, Oct. 11, beginning at 2 p.m. Contestants in different age groups will attack a three-scoop sundae with toppings and whipped cream. Prizes will be awarded, not the least of which will be the dreaded "brain freeze."

Food, Parade, Oktoberfest, Bingo, Dance To Be Sponsored By OVFD

ONE OF THE BUSIEST PLACES IN TOWN on Thursday, Oct. 8, will be the kitchen of the Oakland fire hall, where members of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department will be preparing hundreds of beef and pork sandwiches, knockwurst, and a variety of other food items that will be sold prior to their annual AGF Firemen's Parade and following the parade during the OVFD's 21st annual Oktoberfest celebration, which will be held in the engine room of the fire hall. Thousands of persons enjoy the Oktoberfest every year, which features the 24-piece OVFD Oktoberfest Band, conducted by Menning Smith. OVFD members pictured above, from left, are former chief Buzz Updyke, Kevin Savage, and Clay Winters.

Garrett County's 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival will celebrate the glory of the fall foliage season from Thursday, Oct. 8, through Sunday, Oct. 11. The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department will open the festival with a variety of events on Thursday evening in downtown Oakland.

The first event on the Autumn Glory agenda will be the ever-popular Oktoberfest meal held at the Oakland fire hall on Third Street from 4 to 7 p.m. Oakland firefighters will bring "a little of old Germany" to Garrett County with Her accomplishments at Virginia Tech include receiving the Outstanding Student Leadership Award and being a student representative to the University Council; the Maryland Governor's Special Citation, a personal award presented at high school graduation for founding L.I.F.E. Program, and other honors. Heather has been employed as a university PR assistant, an AT&T customer service operator, assistant manager for Telecom firm, and as an anchor/reporter for Tech Tonight, LSU Review, and VT News. She has served internships with CNN, CBN, WVEC-13 (ABC), WSLS-10 (NBC) and WPAR-FM Radio.

Miss Davis's talent is classical piano, and her platform issue is employing peer mentorship to fight substance abuse in elementary and secondary schoolage children through a six-year program called L.I.F.E., which she founded as a senior in high school. Her career ambition is to be a member of a TV news broadcast team, teach mass communication at the university level, and teach classical piano to children. She is the daughter of John and Sharon Davis of Severna

German-style food and drink.

The Firemen's Parade, which will begin at 7 p.m. that same evening, will feature bands, drill teams, fire equipment, antique fire apparatus, and rescue apparatus traveling over 200 miles from throughout the tri-state area. Participating departments are judged in several categories. Firemen from Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and the surrounding areas are invited to join the parade. Prior to the parade, apparatus judging will be held at the Farmer's Market parking lot on Route 219 north of Oakland from 5:30 p.m. until parade time, when the participants will parade south on Route 219 through downtown Oakland.

Wrapping up the evening will be the Oktoberfest Celebration. This popular event takes place each year at the Oakland fire hall immediately following the parade. The celebration includes German-style food, drink, a live "oompah" band, and presentation of the Fireman of the Year Award by the Garrett County Firemen's Association. There is no admission charge.

On Friday, Oct. 9, beginning at 6 p.m. at the Elks Lodge on Elk Street in Oakland, the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and the Oakland Elks will host "Big Bucks" Bingo. Tickets are $30, include all regular games, and are available from any fire department or Elks member. Everyone must be 18 or over, and refreshments and food will be available. For tickets and information, persons may call 301-334-1119 or 301-334-3535.

The OVFD will also hold an "oldies' dance" on Saturday, Oct. 10, at the fire hall, beginning at 8 p.m. Admittance is restricted to persons age 21 and older. Dan Daniels will be the DJ.

The Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club will host a 5-K Run/2-Mile Walk for Sight on Saturday, Oct. 10, as part of Garrett County's 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival. This run and walk will begin at 8:30 a.m. at Broadford Lake Park and will cover a mostly flat course.

This competition will be divided into the following age groups: 13 & under; 14-19; 20-29; 30-39; 40-49; 50-59; and 60 & over, with awards given to the top three finishers in each age group. An award will be given to the first male and first female runners and walkers, with no duplication of awards. Race participants will be eligible for prize drawings, which include two grand prizes: a Trek mountain bike and a mini ski or golf vacation for two at Wisp Resort.

The registration fee is $15 if received by October 1, and souvenir sweatshirts will be given to the first 150 entrants ($2 extra for XXL). After October 1 and on the day of the race, the registration fee is $16. Registration will be held the day of the race at 7 a.m., and packets may be picked up that day from 7 to 8:30 a.m. For race information, persons may contact Paul Shockey, 920 Broadford Road, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone 301-334-4287.

This event is sponsored by the Oakland-Mountain Lake Park Lions Club, and proceeds benefit the sight and hearing impaired. First United Bank Will Again Sponsor Grand Feature Parade

FIRST UNITED SPONSORS PARADE - For many years First United Bank & Trust has been the sponsor of the Grand Feature Parade of the Autumn Glory Festival, and this year is no exception. Accepting a check from Steve Lentz, senior vice president and senior lending officer, in the above photo is festival chairman Diane Wolf.

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce has announced that First United Bank & Trust, Oakland, with five community offices located in Garrett County as well as 15 additional offices throughout Maryland and West Virginia, will sponsor the 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade. The Autumn Glory Festival will be held Oct. 8-11, in downtown Oakland, and throughout the county, with the Grand Feature Parade beginning at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 10. This parade is the largest and most well-attended event of the four-day festival, which boasts an attendance of tens of thousands.

First United employees will staff a festival information booth at the intersection of Second and Liberty Streets from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday before the parade.

"First United Bank & Trust's sponsorship of the Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade represents its ninth year of commitment to defray the tremendous costs of producing this spectacular event in Garrett County," said Diane Wolfe, executive director of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. "First United has also supported the Autumn Glory Festival by purchasing Golden Ambassadorships since the program's beginning."

For more information or a free festival brochure, persons may contact the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone 301-334-1948, E-mail info@garrettchamber.com.

NORDIC LOG HOMES & CABINS

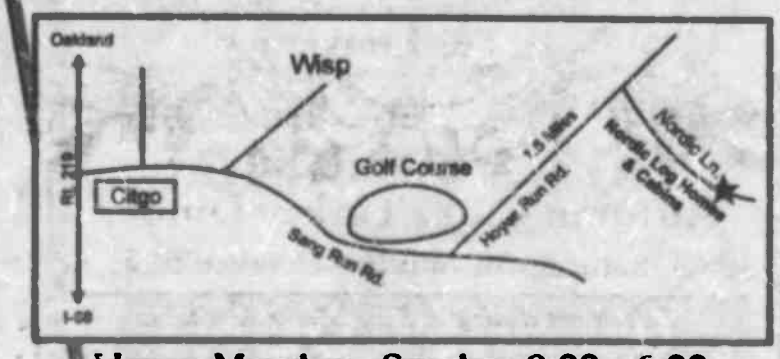
Our NORTHERN WHITE CEDAR log homes reflect the needs of our customers, people who appreciate beauty as well as function. Unlike pine, our logs are naturally insect repellent and rot resistant thus no chemicals or insecticides are added so none can leach out. Nordic Log Homes & Cabins also offers insulated log homes at no extra charge. Come visit our model and you'll agree, NORTHERN WHITE CEDAR does it naturally.

Kurt Meyr
Nordic Log Homes
174 Nordic Lane
McHenry, MD 21541

Dear Kurt,

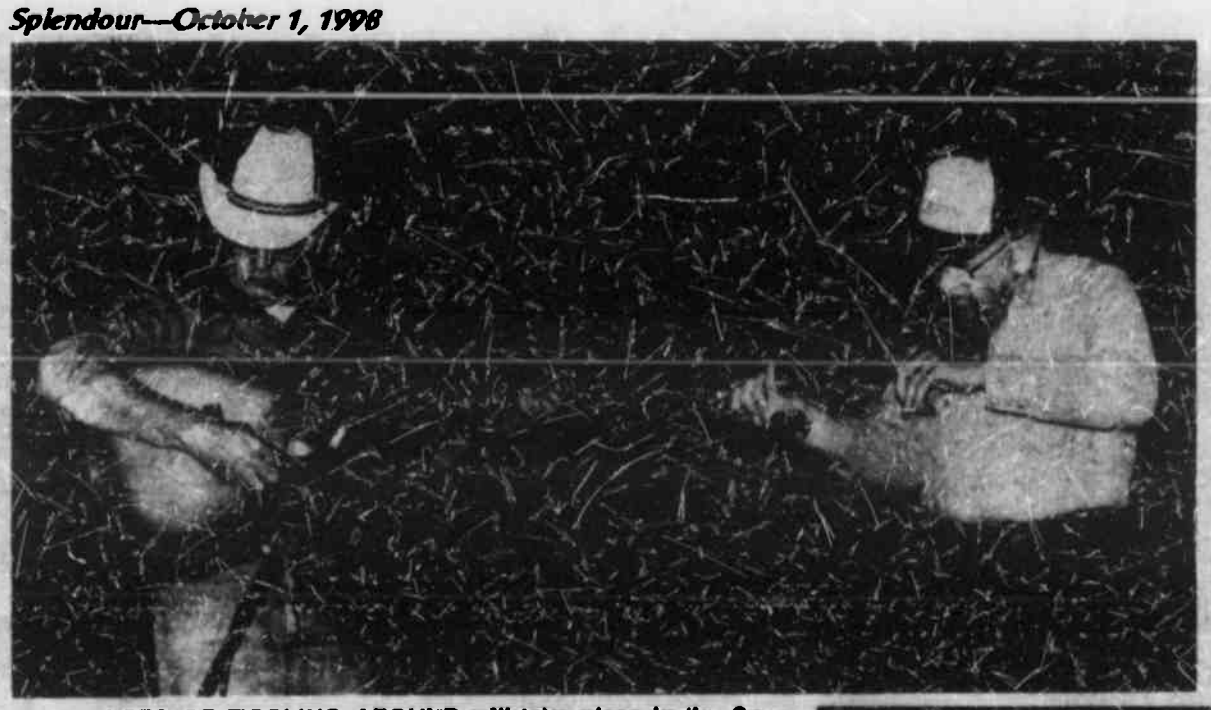
As my home is now completed, it is with pleasure that I recommend Nordic Log Homes as a log homes supplier, and you as general contractor. I am very happy with my dream home, which would not have been possible without your "team" working on my behalf.

My log home is made of excellent quality materials—from the Northern white cedar logs to the wonderful windows to the special stain railings and spindles—every item that came through Nordic Log Homes has exceeded my expectations. In addition to the quality of the materials, I have been impressed by the low-to-moderate cost for my package—an important consideration for someone pursuing this dream on a single income.



As for you, I have nothing but the highest regard and praise. Even my friends, who have watched my progress closely, have learned to say "Think goodness for Kurt!" You have been supportive whenever I needed advice, extremely fair in all your dealings with the suppliers, and have become known as a person to work with. You have been instrumental a lot during the process of building my home, and I feel qualified to say that you know your business, and do your job very well.

I am very proud of my home, and welcome a visit from anyone who would like to see an example of a Nordic Log Home.



Sincerely,
Lowell V. Monk

"...we looked at every log home company in Deep Creek Lake and by far, yours was the best package for the price. I would recommend Nordic Log Homes to anyone." — Robert Smith

LOTS OF FIDDLING AROUND will take place in the Southern High School gymnasium the evening of Saturday, Oct. 10, where the annual Maryland State Fiddle Championships will be held as one of the events of the 31st Autumn Glory Festival. The event will feature top fiddlers from many states and the fun will get under way at 7 p.m. See story for details.

Fest To Again Host State Fiddle Contest

The "Official" Maryland State Fiddle Championships will be held Saturday, Oct. 10, featuring a full evening of foot-stomping music at the Southern Garrett County Senior High School gymnasium during Garrett County's 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival.

This contest features competitions among top fiddle players from numerous states, and contestants will be judged in three amateur categories — age 60 and over, 13-59, and youth 12 and under. First-, second-, and third-place winners in the adult categories will be awarded prize money and trophies, and prize money and medals will be awarded in the youth category. The fiddle contest will also fea-ture a "professional/championship" category, with prize money awarded to first- and second-place winners.

The evening begins at 7 p.m. and contestants should

by Ali Evans

The night sir closes with quiet chill.
Fall winds flicker lightly through the hills.
When the light dawns in crisp morning air,
There's a unique scene that nature shares.
It glimmers and sparkles from the rays of light,
Making a brilliant, clear, and most majestic sight.
The panorama shines like a mountain of gold,
As the shades of red, orange, and yellow unfold.
As you stand before this grandeur and gaze
At the array of color and glittering maze,
You know the bitterness of winter's story
Begins with the majesty of autumn's glory....

Announcing that summer has Uttered its final goodbyes and
The hues of red and yellow have been Unleashed!
Myriads of leaves swirl grandly as Nature is transformed by the creator into a

Golden galaxy of colors - and now,
Lord, we ask that you would Open our eyes and speak to our hearts as you Reveal your majesty and Your sovereignty to us through your handiwork.

"For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness, because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shown it unto them. For the invisible things from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse; Roman1:18-20

"HI, I'M SUPER DAVE, JUST DROPPING IN" - There's more than one way to make an entrance at the 14th annual Greater Gortner Airport Fly-In/Open House, slated for Sunday, Oct. 11, beginning at noon; however, as there is no admission charge, most people will be driving to the event. The airport is located five miles south of Oakland off Blue Ribbon Road, and the day's program will feature skydiving, aircraft and hellcopter displays, including Maryland State Police Helicopter Trooper 5 and WVU's Healthnet Medevac, airplane rides, and airplane candy drop for the kids, Shriner clowns, endque engines, concessions, and other family entertainment.

Fly In/Open House Slated At Greater Gortner Airport

The Gortner Pilots Association will host its annual Fly-In/Open House at the Greater Gortner Airport off Blue Ribbon Road south of Oakland on Sunday, Oct. 11, as part of Garrett County's 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival.

This exciting event will begin at noon and feature skydiving, an airplane candy drop, airplane rides all day, aircraft and helicopter displays (including Maryland Trooper 5 and WVU Healthnet Medevac), Shriner clowns and exhibits, including antique engines, concessions, and other family entertainment. Admission is free.

A special attraction of this year's fly-in will be an appearance by Miss Maryland, Heather Davis of Severna Park. Miss Davis's visit is being sponsored during the festival by Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland.

For more information on the fly-in, persons may call Jane Simms at 301-334-3541. For more information or a free festival brochure, persons may contact the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550, telephone 301 3341948; www.garrettchamber.com, or E-mail info@garrettchamber.com.

Tale Tellers Invited To Tell Tales

Fishermen and fisherwomen, coal miners, farmers, business people, sports lovers, jokesters, and storytellers are invited to participate as tellers or listeners in the annual Tall Tale Story Festival, slated for the morning of Oct. 10 at St. Paul's Fellowship Hall, 316 Oak Street, Oakland. Adults will tell their tales at 10:30 a.m., but persons are urged to come a little early to get a good seat.

Each story need only be between 2 to 10 minutes long, according to Dr. Gail Herman, professional storyteller and organizer of the festival, who urges people to volunteer to tell a story or nominate a fellow co-worker, relative, or friend who enjoys telling stories. Herman said that the event is all for charity and the preservation of an old-time Appalachian art form. Out-of-town storytellers are also welcome to participate. Persons should call 301-387-9199 and leave name and phone number. Registration and/or admission for adults is $4.

Prizes by local businesses and organizations are awarded to tellers at the festival. Among them is a $50 U.S. Savings Bond donated by the American Association of University Women, Garrett Branch, a flower basket donated by Jan Florist, and a mint coin set donated by the First United Bank and Trust. Other prizes will be announced later.

STANDING TALL AMONG THE TALL TALE-TELLERS at the Autumn Glory Tall Tale Story Festival will be William "Doc" Savage, shown above making a point with all five digits. The stories begin at St. Paul's United Methodist Church on Saturday, Oct. 10, with a 9 a.m. children's contest, followed by a 10:30 a.m. adult contest. Admission will be $4 for adults, and $3 for children under 12. Rumours that "Doc" Savage, a local dentist, does not need to use laughing gas with patients in his dentist's office have not yet been verified.

Students from elementary and middle schools are also welcome to tell stories from 9 to 10:15 a.m. They should also call 301-387-9199 to register to tell a story from a book or an original tale.

Help on learning one's story is also available by telephone, as Dr. Herman will be willing to help a registered student from a Garrett County school if a time can be arranged during or after school. "Storytelling helps students to become comfortable in front of audiences and

Garrett County Home To Many Storytellers

"THAT FISH JUST KEPT GETTING BIGGER AND BIGGER," area storyteller Virginia Grove seems to be telling her audience. Grove will be among the storytellers at the Tall Tale Story Festival at Oakland's St. Paul's United Methodist Church. (The sign over her right shoulder seems to compliment her work in a rather odd way.)

Garrett County in Western Maryland is one area where an Appalachian oral tradition thrives. Stories have been told and retold for many years about real and not-so-real characters.

The Tall Tale Story Festival continues this tradition each year during the Autumn Glory Festival in Oakland, at the Fellowship Hall of the St. Paul's United Methodist Church, 316 Oak Street on the corner of Fourth Street.

Some of the folk who carry on this tradition include Paul Shogren, who has told what happened when Paul Bunyan made a few stops in Garrett County. William "Doc" Savage, a local and for-real dentist, has a whole kit of characters and a passel of places he says are real. He has been a favorite of the festival for years, with people traveling up to six hours just to hear him tell an old favorite story again. Gary Yoder from the Department of Natural Resources has been another favorite. Yoder tells about "famous" county folk; once his story was about a local dentist named "Doc" Savage!

Katie Ross, a Spanish teacher from Allegany County has told about some "local" mountain farmers with strong accents, as well as characters from the folktale traditions of other cultures. Molly Copes from Falls Church, Va., often told about her own "relatives" exploits. Gail N. Herman, the coordinator of the Tall Tale Story Festival, likes to tell "true" stories about her fisherman husband, who also happens to be the local community college president.

They are busy working on their real and not-so-real stories for October 10th at 10:30 a.m. Other tellers include Matt Novak a teacher of history from Southern High School, Larry Cosner from the Historical Society, Dick Good, a history folklorist, Bill Kolbe, English teacher from Northern High School, Charles McIntyre, Tom DeMay from Gramite, Howard Payne from Frederick, and Steve Schlosnagle of Accident, among many others.

These local tellers are not alone in their love of stories

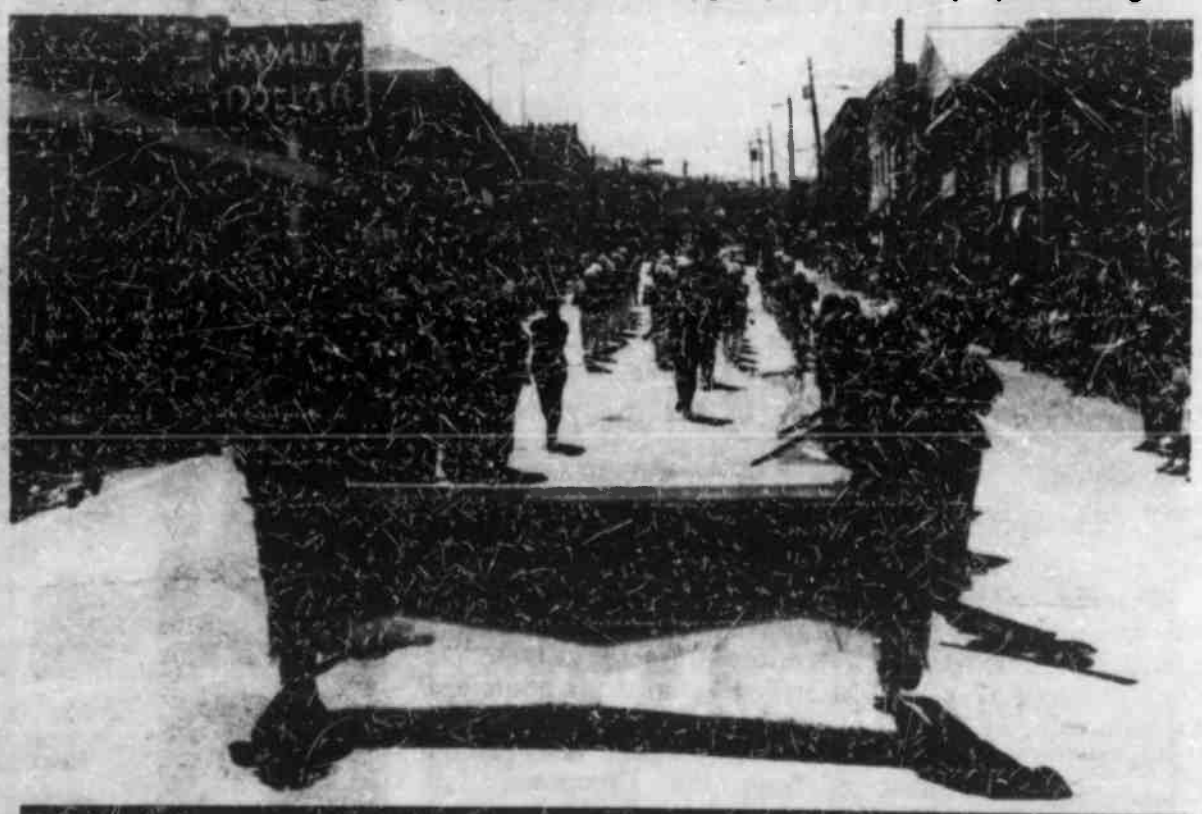
10, and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 11, at the Dennett Road Elementary School gym and cafeteria, and the Yough Glades Elementary School gym along Wolf Acres Drive off Weber Road behind Treasure Island. This show features a wide variety of contemporary crafts on display and for sale and is sponsored by Farmers & Merchants Bank & Trust. Refreshments will be available and admission is free.



The Heritage Craft Fest will be held from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday at Broad Ford Elementary School and Southern Middle School, both along Harvey Winters Drive outside Oakland. This show features traditional and contemporary Appalachian arts and crafts. "Victorian Station" quilt raffle tickets will be sold throughout the weekend, with a drawing held Sunday at 3:30 p.m. to benefit the Garrett County Arts Council. This event is sponsored by the Garrett County Arts Council and admission is free.

Shuttle service will be provided Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. between the Oakland town parking lot and the craft and antique shows. For information or a free festival brochure, persons may contact the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone 301-3341948, www-.garrettchamber.com, E-mail info@garrettchamber.com.

GARRETT COUNTY'S HIGH SCHOOL BANDS, Ste Rene of Southern High School, pictured above, and the Hustlin of Northern High school, below, will be on the march during the 81st annual Autumn Glory Grand Feature Parade, which steps off at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 10. Downtown Oakland will reverberate with the sounds bass drums, and excitement for all ages in the form of bands, marching units, clown, drum and bugle corps, floats, and best of all, good, old fashioned people-watching.

Road Closings, Detours, Noted For Grand Feature Parade

The Autumn Glory Festival Committee reports that because of potential traffic and safety hazards, the Maryland State Highway Administration has again recommended policy for the 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade, slated for Saturday, Oct. 10.

As has been customary with previous Autumn Glory festivals, some roads will be closed for the parade (see map); however, the festival committee requests local residents to note that at 7 a.m. on Saturday, October 10, Green Street will be closed for vendors to set up on the street and in the American Trust Bank drive-in parking lot.

At 11 a.m. that day, all southbound traffic on U.S. Route 219 will be routed through Oakland via Fourth Street and trucks will be routed by Oakland via Sand Flat Road. Beginning at 11 a.m., Route 219 will be open to permit holders only, and all traffic will be southbound only. No parking will be allowed along Fourth Street, and Memorial Drive will be closed for westbound traffic at Fourth Street. Through traffic on Memorial Drive will be detoured at Eighth Street. Memorial Drive will be open for parking and local traffic only between Eighth and Fourth streets.

Roads will be closed in several more locations at 11 a.m.: U.S. Route 219 between Fourth and Oak Streets, Celebrate the Glory!

"WE LOVE A PARADE!" The streets of Oakland will be lined with thousands of spectators for the Grand Feature Parade of the 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival, which is slated to get under way at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 10. The parade route includes Oakland's historic district on north Second Street, where many beautiful houses built in the late 1800s and early 1900s are situated. The big front porches of many such homes provide the perfect spot for parade parties and the family gatherings that often take place the weekend of the festival. The Grand Feature Parade features many of the region's most outstanding high school bands, a variety of both professional and amateur floats, various other marching units, and a number of dignitaries. The grand marshal for the parade this year will be internationally known athlete, actor, author, singer, and minister (and a master of needlepoint!), Rosey Grier. Persons are advised to arrive in town early the day of the parade, since road closings and detours will go into effect late that morning. (See map and article in this tabloid for specific information.)

USDA Official Explains Reason For Autumn's Glory

by Julie Bitz
U.S. Department of Agriculture

As days shorten and temperatures become crisp, the quiet green palette of summer foliage is transformed into the vivid autumn palette of reds, oranges, golds, and browns before the leaves fall off the trees. On special years, the colors are truly breathtaking.

How does autumn color happen?

For years, scientists have worked to understand the changes that happen to trees and shrubs in the autumn. Although we don't know all the details, we do know enough to explain the basics to enjoy more fully Nature's multicolored autumn farewell.

Three factors influence autumn leaf color: leaf pigments, length of night, and weather, but not quite in the way many think. The timing of color change and leaf fall are primarily regulated by the calendar — that is, the increasing length of night. None of the other environmental influences — temperature, rainfall, food supply, and so on — is as unvarying as the steadily increasing length of night during autumn. As days grow shorter, and nights grow longer and

Southern Garrett Marching Band To Host Western Maryland Tournament

SERVING AS HOST of the annual Western Maryland Tournament of Bands are the members of the Southern Garrett Marching Band, some of whom are pictured above during last season's field show. This year's tournament will include bands from Westmar, Northern, Tygarts Valley, Phillip Barbour, Allegany, Frankfort, Fairmont, University, Keyser, Seneca Park, and Preston High schools, with four different classes of competition, depending upon band size. Trophies, which will be presented in each class, are being sponsored by Uno's Restaurant, Buffalo Coal Company, Metiki Coal Company, First United Bank & Trust, American Trust Bank, Mane Attractions, WKHJ Radio, Terra Alta Bank, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, and Dr. Margaret Kelow. See story for more information.

The annual Western Maryland Tournament of High School Bands will be held Saturday, Oct. 10, beginning at 6 p.m. at the Southern High School athletic field as part of the 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival. This tournament offers continuous entertainment "for the whole family" with outstanding bands of the region competing for trophies in a display of field show competition of high school marching bands.

Bands participating in this year's tournament will include: Group I-Westmar High School, Lonaconing; Northern Garrett County Se-cooler, biochemical processes in the leaf begin to paint the landscape.

Where do autumn colors come from?

A color palette needs pigments, and there are three types that are involved in autumn color:

• Chlorophyll, which gives leaves their basic green color. It is necessary for photosynthesis, the chemical reaction that enables plants to use sunlight to manufacture sugars for their food. Trees in the temperate zones store these sugars for their winter dormant period.

• Carotenoids, which produce yellow, orange, and brown (sumac leaves) colors in such things as corn, carrots, and daffodils, as well as rutabagas, buttercups, and bananas.

• Anthocyanins, which give color to such familiar things as cranberries, red apples, concord grapes, blueberries, cherries, strawberries, and plums. They are water soluble and appear in the watery liquid of leaf cells.

Both chlorophyll and carotenoids are present in the chloroplasts of leaf cells throughout the growing season. Most anthocyanins are produced in the autumn, in response to bright light and excess plant sugars within leaf cells.

During the growing season, chlorophyll is continually being produced and broken down, and leaves appear green. As night length increases in the autumn, chlorophyll production slows down and then stops until all the chlorophyll is destroyed. The carotenoids and anthocyanins that are present in the leaf are then unmasked and show their colors.

Certain colors are characteristic of particular species. Oaks turn red, brown, or russet; hickories, golden bronze; aspen and yellow-poplar, golden yellow; dogwood, purplish red; beech, light tan; and sourwood and black tupelo, crimson.

Maples differ species by species. Red maple turns brilliant scarlet; sugar maple, orange-red; and black maple, glowing yellow. Striped maple becomes almost colorless. Leaves of some species such as the elms simply shrivel up and fall, exhibiting little color other than drab brown.

The timing of the color change also varies by species. Sourwood in southern forests can become vividly colorful in late summer while all other species are still vigorously green. Oaks put on their colors long after other species have already shed their leaves. These differences in timing among species seem to be genetically inherited, for a particular species at the same latitude will show the same coloration in the cool temperatures of high mountain elevations at about the same time as it does in warmer lowlands.

own pace, knowing he is safely off his feet. You might even feel like taking a break yourself. Come on in, the chairs are fine! (Sorry, mom, you can only park someone over 18.)

Men: This year's Autumn Glory Festival has a new feature that is tailored to that person who wants to participate in this exciting festival, but hates to leave the comfort of home. It is Our Town Theatre's "Autumn Glory Park Your Spouse." Our Town Theatre is located at 121 Center Street in Oakland. For only $2, you avoid complaints about being antisocial, and you save a bundle on shoe leather. The coffee's free and the easy chairs are very comfortable.

"Park Your Spouse" at Our Town Theatre will be open 9 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 10, and will remain open until 4 p.m.

Coffee House: Don't forget Our Town Theatre's Adult Coffee House on Friday, Oct. 9, from 7-11 p.m. We will feature live piano music, poetry, a play reading, free coffee, and lively conversation. It's very relaxing and fun.

For more information, folks may call the theatre at 301-334-5640. Our Town Theatre is a non-profit organization.

The schedule of event for the rest of the year at Our Town Theatre is as follows:

Oct. 9 - Coffee House for Adults, 7-11 p.m., $2 cover charge.

Oct. 10 - Autumn Glory Food Sale and Park Your Spouse.

Turkey Dinners A Favorite During Festival

In the early days of the celebration, the Autumn Glory Festival was called Garrett County's Turkey Festival. Today, the traditional turkey is still a favorite during the festival. While these meals may be purchased at many locations around the county, some may still choose to cook their own turkey dinners at home.

Though turkey is a traditional American holiday meal, not everyone knows how to safely thaw and cook this festive fowl.

Turkey comes in many sizes, shapes and forms in the local grocery store. It may be fresh or frozen, whole or in parts. When purchasing, the buyer should be aware of signs that the bird is going to be a safe and wholesome meal.

Frozen turkeys should not show signs of thawing and refreezing. Fresh turkeys should not have overly dry parts or excessive liquid in the tray. Color is also an important factor.

Storing the holiday fowl will also ensure quality. Fresh turkeys should be stored at or below 40 degrees Fahrenheit until it is time to thaw. A frozen bird needs to be kept at or below 0 degrees Fahrenheit.

Thawing the turkey can be tricky. The safest place to defrost is in the refrigerator. This method can take from 1-2 days for 8-12 pound turkeys and up to 4-5 days for 20- 24 pound birds. Those ranging 12-16 pounds take 2-3 days while the 16-20 pounders need 3-4 days thawing time.

If time does not permit the refrigerator method, the turkey can be thawed in cold water according to this time table: 8-12 pounds, 4-6 hours; 12-16 pounds, 6-9 hours; 16-20 pounds, 9-11 hours; and 20-24 pounds, 11-12 hours.

If a frozen turkey is prestuffed when purchased, it should not be thawed but put directly into the oven. Roasting time will be longer for the frozen bird.

Stuffing expands when it cooks inside a turkey, so stuffing the bird loosely is important. For each pound of turkey, 3/4 cup of stuffing can be used. For safety, the turkey should be stuffed just before it goes into the oven.

There should be no interruptions of the roasting. If the cooking process is stopped and the bird allowed to cool before the cooking continues, there is the possibility of bacteria multiplying.

Roasting time for turkeys will also vary according to weight. The small bird weighing 6 pounds will cook in 2¼-3¼ hours, while the 28 pounder will take up to 6½ hours. These times refer to unstuffed turkeys. When the turkey is stuffed, cooking time increases. It is important to check a cookbook to verify this information. The turkey is done when the temperature of the inner thigh of the bird is 180 degrees Fahrenheit.

Left-overs often follow a turkey dinner and need to be stored properly to avoid contamination. Stuffing should be stored separately from the turkey. Turkey, or any food, should be refrigerated after being out of the oven for two hours. Once in the refrigerator, the turkey can be kept 3-4 days. For longer storage, properly wrapped meat can be stored in a freezer.

Anyone wishing more information on safe methods of storing, thawing, and cooking turkey can contact the local Cooperative Extension Service office, 301-334-6960, or call the meat and poultry hotline at 1-800-535-4555.

tions that occur before and during the time the chlorophyll in the leaves is dwindling. Temperature and moisture are the main influences. A succession of warm, sunny days and cool, crisp but not freezing nights seems to bring about the most spectacular color displays. During these days, lots of sugars are produced in the leaf, but the cool nights and the gradual closing of veins going into the leaf prevent these sugars from moving out. These conditions — lots of sugar and lots of light — spur production of the brilliant anthocyanin pigments, which tint reds, purples, and crimson.

Because carotenoids are always present in leaves, the yellow and gold colors remain fairly constant from year to year. The amount of moisture in the soil also affects autumn colors. Like the weather, soil moisture varies greatly from year to year. The countless combinations of these two highly variable factors assure that no two autumns can be exactly alike. A late spring, or a severe summer drought, can delay the onset of fall color by a few weeks. A warm period during fall will also lower the intensity of autumn colors. A warm wet spring, favorable summer weather, and warm sunny fall days with cool nights should produce the most brilliant autumn colors.

What triggers leaf fall?

In early autumn, in response to the shortening days and declining intensity of sunlight, leaves begin the processes leading up to their fall. The veins that carry fluids into and out of the leaf gradually close off as a layer of cells forms at the base of each leaf. These clogged veins trap sugars in the leaf and promote production of anthocyanins. Once this separation layer is complete and the connecting tissues are sealed off, the leaf is ready to fall.

What does all this do for the tree?

Winter is a certainty that all vegetation in the temperate zones must face each year. Perennial plants, including trees, must have some sort of protection to survive freezing temperatures and other harsh wintertime influences. Stems, twigs, and buds are equipped to survive extreme cold so that they can reawaken when spring heralds the start of another growing season. Tender leaf tissues, however, would freeze in winter, so plants must either toughen up and protect their leaves, or dispose of them.

The evergreens — pines, spruces, cedars, firs, and so on — are able to survive winter because they have toughened up. Their needle--like or scale-like foliage is covered with a heavy wax coating and the fluid inside their cells contains substances that resist freezing. Thus the foliage of evergreens can safely withstand all but the severest winter conditions, such as those in the Arctic. Evergreen needles survive for some years but eventually fall because of old age.

Autumn's Glory

The leaves of broadleaved plants, on the other hand, are tender and vulnerable to damage. These leaves are typically broad and thin and are not protected by any thick coverings. The fluid in cells of these leaves is usually a thin, watery sap that freezes readily. This means that the cells could not survive winter where temperatures fall below freezing. Tissues unable to overwinter must be sealed off and shed to ensure the plant's continued survival. Thus leaf fall precedes each winter in the temperate zones.

What happens to all those fallen leaves?

Needles and leaves that fall are not wasted. They decompose and restock the soil with nutrients, and make up part of the spongy humus layer of the forest floor that absorbs and holds rainfall. Fallen leaves also become food for numerous soil organisms vital to the forest ecosystem. It is quite easy to see the benefit to the tree of its annual leaf fall, but the advantage to the entire forest is more subtle. It could well be that the forest could no more survive without its annual replenishment from leaves than the individual tree could survive without shedding these leaves. The many beautiful interrelationships in the forest community leave us with myriad fascinating puzzles still to solve.

Where can I see autumn color in the United States?

You can find autumn color in parks and woodlands, in the cities, countryside, and mountains — anywhere you find deciduous broadleaved trees, the ones that drop their leaves in the autumn. Nature's autumn palette is painted on oaks, maples, beeches, sweetgums, yellow-poplars, dogwoods, hickories, and others. Your own neighborhood may be planted with special trees that were selected for their autumn color. New England is rightly famous for the spectacular autumn colors painted on the trees of its mountains and countryside, but the Adirondack, Appalachian, Smoky, and Rocky Mountains are also clad with colorful displays.

In the east, we can see the reds, oranges, golds, and browns of the mixed deciduous woodlands; in the west, we see the bright yellows of

Crellin Will Serve Turkey Dinners Again

For the 31st consecutive year, turkey dinners in the town of Crellin will be a feature of the Autumn Glory Festival. United Community Services, Inc., (the non-profit volunteer organization which owns and operates the Crellin Community Building) is the sponsor.

The Crellin Community Building group originated the tradition of turkey dinners with the first Autumn Glory Festival in 1968. This year, the original menu is being repeated--roasted turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, dressing, sauerkraut, green beans, applesauce, cranberry sauce, roll, drinks, and harvest apple cake. Prices are $6 for adults and $3 for children under the age of 12. All carry-out orders will be at the $6 adult price.

Everyone is invited to come to Crellin folkwing Saturday's parade to enjoy a home-cooked turkey feast and help support the community of Crellin.

aspen stands and larches contrasting with the dark greens of the evergreen conifers. Many of the United States Forest Service's 100-plus scenic byways were planned with autumn color in mind. In 31 states, travelers can drive on over 3,000 miles of scenic byways, and almost everyone of them offers a beautiful, colorful drive sometime in the autumn.

When is the best time to see autumn color?

Unfortunately, autumn color is not very predictable, especially in the long term. Half the fun is trying to outguess Nature. But it generally stasts in late September la New England and moves southward, reaching the Smoky Mountains by early November. It also appears about this time in the high-elevation mountains of the West. Remember that cooler high elevations will color up before the valleys.

-The Forest Service's Fall Color Hotline is: 1-800-354-4595. Callers can learn details as the autumn color display progresses.

Vehicles Airborne In Two Accidents; Occupants Injured

In two separate accidents Tuesday, reported by Maryland State Police at the McHenry barrack, occupants were injured when the vehicles involved became airborne and overturned.

Police said that at 1:55 a.m., Jeromy Baker, 22, Oakland, was southbound on Route 219 when his 1987 Jeep left the roadway, struck a culvert, traveled airborne for 27 feet, overturned, and slid before coming to a stop.

Baker and two passengers, Joseph Germain and Stephen Shockey, were taken by Southern Rescue Squad to Garrett Memorial Hospital. Shockey and Baker were treated and released. Gerassis was admitted for treatment.

Police charged Baker in the incident.

In a separate report, police said Benjamin K. Newman, 19, Oakland, was westbound on Ben DeWitt Road at 8 p.m. when he failed to negotiate a turn.

The 1994 Chevrolet Newman was driving crossed the center line, returned to the southbound lane and left 127 feet of tire marks before leaving the roadway, traveling over an embankment, and striking a fence post. The car then continued traveling westbound in a field, where the left rear wheel dragged in the soft ground and broke off.

The car then went airborne for approximately 67 feet, where it struck a telephone pole, six or seven feet above the ground, with the underside of the vehicle. The car again became airborne a second time, for about 37 feet, and a third time, for about 12 feet. It finally came to rest on its top, the report said.

The collision with the telephone pole broke the right passenger-side seatbelt, and Shad R. Green, 19, Oakland, was partially ejected.

Newman, Green, and another passenger, Ronald A. [illegible], Oakland, were taken by Southern Rescue Squad to Garrett Memorial Hospital, where all three were admitted for treatment.

Police charged Newman in the incident. Oakland VFD had also responded to both accident scenes.

Oakland Man Dies In Traffic Accident Friday

A 74-year-old Oakland man was fatally injured early Friday afternoon when he was pinned under his farm tractor after it was struck by a pickup truck at the junction of Maryland Highway and Oakland Drive between Oakland and Mtn. Lake Park.

Henry Daniel Petersheim died of injuries following the 12:44 p.m. accident. The Garrett County Sheriff's Office stated that Petersheim was operating his Case 300 farm tractor westbound on Oakland drive when a pickup truck operated by Rosa Helen Brown, 67, of Gormania, W.Va., struck his tractor as she turned her vehicle from eastbound Maryland Highway onto Oakland Drive. The left front portion of the pickup truck reportedly struck the left rear tire of the tractor, causing it to skid into a ditch along Oakland Drive and overturn.

Petersheim was transported to Garrett Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad. The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and personnel from the Maryland State Highway Administration also responded to the accident scene.

The sheriff's office collision reconstruction team is investigating the accident, and yesterday afternoon the sheriff's office indicated that charges are pending against Brown.

Mr. Petersheim was born Aug. 3, 1924, in Garrett County, a son of the late Daniel and Katie (Swartzentruber) Petersheim. He was also preceded in death by two brothers, Harvey and Allan Petersheim; one foster brother, [illegible]; one foster sister, Carrie (Wiles) Yoder.

He was a member of the Gortner Amish church.

Survivors include his wife, Elizabeth (Shetler) Petersheim; two sons, Paul Nevan Petersheun, Oakland, and Edward Lewis Petersheim, Grantsville; one daughter, Irene Ellen Yoder, Oakland; his stepmother, Annie (Beachy) Petersheim; two brothers, Floyd Ervin Petersheim and Fred Petersheim, both of Oakland; two sisters, Matilda Kauffman, Bittinger, and Barbara Yoder, Butler, Ohio; and 12 grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Pleasant Valley Community Center, where a service was conducted Monday, Oct. 5, with Bishop Norman Schrock officiating. Interment was in the Slabaugh Cemetery.

Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, was in charge of arrangements.

LOTS OF LAUGHS were enjoyed by guests at the Autumn Glory Festival Kickoff Reception last night, partially because of the guest speaker, Bill Hillgrove, sports reporter/announcer for WTAE Television, Pittsburgh, and the Pittsburgh Steelers. Hillgrove shared recollections from his long career, and described experiences with a number of noted athletes, television personalities, and other known individuals, incorporating funny stories all the while. He said that he has been to Garrett County several times in the past and has always enjoyed his stay. The reception was held at the McHenry House of the Wisp Resort.

County Awarded $30K Community Service Grant

Garrett County has been awarded a $30,000 community service grant to enhance its adult offender court-ordered community service program. The local funding is part of a $710,866 package distributed throughout Maryland by the state's Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services, Division of Parole and Probation.

Under the community service program for adult offenders, judges have the option of sentencing non-violent offenders to community service rather than sending them to jail. Offenders must volunteer to be eligible for community service participation, and may be assigned to legislatively authorized work sites of governmental agencies and charitable and nonprofit organizations.

"Garrett County's community service program, which is operated by the local State's Attorney's Office, administered 365 individual cases this past fiscal year," said Bill Ferry, local community services coordinator and investigator, "and $42,000 worth of services were provided by the program's participants."

"I am very pleased that these grant awards will help ensure that community service programs operate across the state," said Stuart O. Simms, secretary of the Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services. "The people of Maryland realize many benefits from these workers that otherwise may not have been possible because of fiscal constraints. These programs provide assistance to governmental agencies, allowing them to concentrate resources in other areas.

"Communities are cleaned up and maintained," Simms continued. "Litter along Maryland roadsides is removed; walking trails are constructed in recreational parks; playgrounds are built; [and] offenders are held accountable while providing much-needed services. At the same time, prison beds are freed up for violent offenders who pose the greatest risk to public safety."

Governor Parris N. Glendening commented "Minor offenders need to pay for their crimes. They must understand there are consequences for their actions. The community service grants go a long way in accomplishing this goal," Glendening said.

Rep. Bartlett To Miss Grand Feature Parade

As a result of the impending impeachment hearings on Capital Hill, Representative Roscoe G. Bartlett will be forced to miss the annual Autumn Glory Grand Feature Parade for the first time in many years.

"I'm very disappointed that I will not be able to enjoy the Autumn Glory

Meeting On Bear Creek Bridge Project Slated

The western Maryland office of the State Highway Administration has scheduled a public meeting for Monday, Oct. 19, at Northern Middle School to provide information and collect comments on the proposed Bear Creek bridge replacement project.

The bridge, which carries Route 219 traffic over Bear Creek just north of Accident, is slated for replacement by SHA next year because of structural deficiencies. Bridge division engineers, led by Fred Crozier, District 6 engineer, will be on hand for the meeting to provide information on the project, including its justification and its scope, and the projected effects on traffic in the immediate area during the construction process. Plan sheets will be also be available for public inspection.

A spokesperson for the District 6 office said that SHA intends to open the $7.1 million project for bidding in mid-December, the bids will be opened on January 21 of next year, the notice to proceed will be issued near the end of March, and construction could begin as early as April 1.

For further information on the public meeting, interested persons may contact SHA's District 6 office in LaVale at 1-800-760-7138.

LOCAL YOUTH WINS INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION - National 4-H Week is an excellent time to announce that a Garrett County 4-H member, Brandon Kling, placed first in his class at the International Holstein Show in Madison, WI. Brandon began his winning streak locally, then for the first time in memory, a Garrett County 4-H member won grand championship honors in 4-H/FFA dairy breed competition at the Maryland State Fair. The 14-year-old showman is the son of Richard and Linda Kling of Grantsville, and is a member of the Buffaloseasers 4-H Dairy Club. Brandon purchased his 4-H calf, Ennast-Anthony SD Tobi-ET "Tobi", in North Carolina in the spring of 1996. He showed her in 1996 and 1997 and is showing her in 1998 for the first time as a milking cow. His achievements so far this year are: 1st Senior 2 Year Old (Open & Junior) at the Maryland Spring Holstein Show; Reserve Grand Champion Junior at the Maryland Spring Holstein Show; 1st Senior 2 Year Old, Senior and Grand Champion at the Somerset, PA, Holstein Show; 1st Senior 2 Year Old, Senior and Grand Champion (Open and Junior) at the Garrett County Holstein Show; 1st Senior 2 Year Old, Senior and Grand Champion at the Maryland State 4-H Fair where he received the purple ribbon over 180 entries in the Holstein show; 2nd Senior 2 Year Old, Open, Maryland State Fair; 1st Senior 2 Year Old (Open and Junior) at the Eastern National Holstein Show in Harrisburg, PA, Reserve Intermediate Champion Junior, Eastern National Holstein Show; Member 1st Produce of Dam, Eastern National Holstein Show; and 1st Senior 2 Year Old, Junior Division, International Holstein Show in Madison, WI. Brandon's parents are naturally very proud of him and his attitude in and out of the show ring. "He has shown great sportsmanship and determination," his father said. He proved his determination again in Madison by entering and showing in a class that lasted an hour with a broken leg. Many there were proud of the courage it took to show Tobi under those circumstances. Brendan and Tobi are pictured above at the Maryland State Fair with 3rd Runner Up Maryland State Farm Queen Sarah Bedgar (left), and Garrett/Allegany Dairy Princess April Enlow. More information on National 4-H Week can be found in the farm section of today's paper.

Tree-Planting Ceremony Set To Honor Glotfelty

A tree-planting ceremony in memory of the late Roger P. Glotfelty, former Garrett County commissioner, will be held at the Garrett County courthouse plaza on Thursday, Oct. 15, at 2 p.m.

Persons who contributed to the [illegible] have been invited to the ceremony, as well as local officials. Members of the public are welcome to attend, organizers said.

Award-Winning Shrine Temple Motor Corps To Be In Parade

The International Association of Shriae Motor Corps champions of 1997 aad 1998 from Kena Shrine Temple, Fairfax, Va., will appear le the Autumn Glory Festival Parade in Oakland this Saturday, Oct. 10. The motor corps rides mostly white, Shrine limited-edition Harley-Davidson motorcycles, also known as "Harley Hogs."

The Kena Motor Corps was formed in 1970 and is celebratiag its 28th anniversary this year. The unit has won numerous awards over the years.

In 1997, the corps not only participated in three competitions, but also won all three, first in Kena Temple's history. The 1997 competitions were: the International Association of Shrine Motor Corps (IASMC) at St. Louis; the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association of Shrine Motor Corps at Virginia Beach, Va.; and the South-Atlantic Shrine Association of Shrine Motor Corps at Myrtle Beach, S.C.

In 1998, the Kena Motor Corps traveled to the Imperial Shrine Convention held at Disney World in Orlando, Fla., where it successfully defended its title of international champions and, together with the Kena 500 Mini-Corvettes, won the IASMC Sportsmanship Award. At the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association Motor Corps Competition at Virginia Beach in September, the Kena Motor Corps fielded teams in the Harley Hogs class and in a mixed-match class, where they won first place in both classes. The Harley Hogs team also won the high-point trophy for all two-wheel teams in the competition.

At the South-Atlantic Shrine Association Motor Corps Competition at Gatlinburg, Tenn., in Septem- [illegible] The mixed class team won first place in the obstacle course, and the Harley Hogs won second place is the drill competition. The Kena Motor Corps parade unit won second place for all motorcycle units in the South-Atlantic Shrine Association Parade at Gatlinburg.

The 1998 officers of the Kena Motor Corps are: Doug Windsor, director; Tom Martin, assistant director; Tom Howie, secretary; Jack Lohman, treasurer; Billy Ray, quartermaster; and Clark Sprouse, drill instructor.

Two members of the Motor Corps hold offices in regional Shrine associations. They are Doug Windsor, chaplain of the Mid-Atlantic Association of Shrine Motor Corps, and Jim Emery, 2nd vice president of the South-Atlantic Association of Shrine Motor Corps.

AFRICAN CHILDREN WIN LOCAL HEARTS — Many local churches and individuals showed their support of the ministry of the African's Children's Choir, which performed at the Faith Evangelical Free Church in Mtn. Lake Park last week. Combined contributions from that program totalled approximately $3,500, according to a spokesperson. Most of this money will be used to directly help other young Africans, especially Sudanese, who are currently in need of food, clothing, and education. Persons who wish to contribute may still do so by sending donations to Friends in the West, P.O. Box 250, Arlington, Washington 98223. For information about the choir or its mission, persons may call the organization at 360-435-6983, or may visit the website at <www.fitw.com>.

Christian Crossings Thrift Shop Plans Open House Event

An open house and dedication ceremony will take place at the Christian Crossings Thrift Shop, located at the railroad crossing in Loch Lynn, on Saturday, Oct. 17, from 9 a.m. until noon. The dedication will be held at 10 a.m. The public is invited to attend.

The thrift shop is a project of the Garrett Cooperative Ministry, and has been created to serve local persons in critical need. Clothing, appliances, tools, and other items are donated to the shop, and then are provided to persons who are in need.

The undertaking has been a year in the making, according to Robert Huebner, president of the cooperative ministry's board of directors. The directors met about 12 months ago, [illegible] real estate for the shop, and have been working since to renovate and prepare the site. The shop has been operating for several weeks, as the directors' first goal was to have it "up and running for those whose needs we want to serve," Huebner said. "We'll complete the work on the physical facility in phases, as time and donations permit."

Tours of the facility will be given as part of the open house activities.

State Police Family Violence Unit Active In Garrett County

Response to incidents of family violence in Garrett County has been intensified through the recent expansion of the Regional Family Violence Unit of the Maryland State Police. Initiated in Maryland about one year ago, the unit extended into Garrett County last month.

Tfc. James Hovis, an 11-year veteran of the state police, is now serving residents of Allegany and Garrett counties through the Family Violence Unit. In this capacity Hovis has a three-part mission: victim [illegible] services, and legal prosecution of the abuser.

One goal of the investigators in the Family Violence Unit is to get the necessary documentation that will lead to prosecution of abusers. "We need to get the proper statements and information so that the case can be prosecuted," Hovis said. "Lisa Thayer Welch in the States Attorney's Office has a strong interest in following through on these cases," Hovis noted.

Assisting the victim is another goal of the investigators. "I am here for the victims. I am here to help them feel safe in their environment," Hovis said. To accomplish this he advises victims of the legal options available to them. "We will have the abuser removed from the home. I will go to court with the victim and help to fill out the necessary paperwork. I will help the victim get an ex parte against the abuser," he explained.

His initial contact with a victim is not his last. He will continue to follow up by calling and checking on an abuse victim. "Within 48 hours I will recontact a victim. I want to be sure that the abuse is not continuing. I may call daily or weekly. I want to know just how I can help the victim," he explained.

Hovis provides help in the form of referral for further services. As liaison between the McHenry barrack and the local agencies and organizations that support victims of family violence, Hovis spoke of the need to establish and maintain open lines of communication, and to share information that may be of assistance to the victims.

As an example of this cooperative effort, he described talking and working with Linda Spassil, the director of the Dove Center, on cases of domestic violence or sexual abuse. "This can help us see how to best help the victim," he said.

Hovis will also be working with children and with elderly family members who may suffer from abuse or violence within the home. Recognizing the private and sensitive nature of investigations into family situations, he explained the need for consideration. "We don't want police cars driving up to the house. We want to be discreet. I will arrive in an unmarked car and I will be wearing plain clothes," he said.

Instrumental in the development of this unit and its mission were Col. David B. Mitchell and Garrett County native Col. Cindy Smith. "We want people to know that this issue of family violence is a high priority with the Maryland State Police," Hovis concluded.

Anyone wishing to discuss a problem associated with family violence may contact Tfc. Hovis at 301-387-1101, 301-895-1101, or 301-729-6467.

BOE Announces October Meeting

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its next regularly scheduled monthly meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 13, in the Board of Education building meeting room.

At 3 p.m. the meeting will be called to order, followed by public comment, with executive session to begin at 3:05 p.m. The public session will re-open immediately following the executive session at approximately 5 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

During the meeting the board will consider administrative issues, including budget recommendations.

Instructional concerns will include: a proposal to expand summer technology camps, SAT results, a Health Advisory Committee report, and high school field trip requests.

A public comment session is scheduled for 7 p.m., followed by action on personnel matters and board concerns. The board will review a first draft of an Internet usage policy.

EYM To Perform At St. Peter's, Meet With Grier

The Ecumenical Youth Ministry will perform at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland this Saturday, Oct. 10, at the 5:30 p.m. Mass and Sunday, Oct. 11, at the 10 a.m. Mass. They will incorporate into the Mass several numbers, such as, "Lead Me, Lord," "Praise You," "Simple Gifts," and "Jesus Will Make A Way." This will be one of the first appearances of the EYM this fall. All are welcome and invited to attend.

The EYM will also be performing today, Oct. 8, at 4:30 p.m. at St. Peter's Parish Hall for the Grand Marshal of the Autumn Glory Parade, Rosey Grier. This is open to all youth in the area. Grier, a retired All-Pro NFL football player, actor, author, and ordained minister, will be speaking with the youth of Garrett County. All young people (not only EYM members) are welcome to attend.

The Ecumenical Youth Ministry is sponsored by St. Mark's Lutheran, St. Peter's Catholic, and St. Matthew's and St. John's Episcopal churches.

CHOICE— INDEPENDENCE— DIGNITY— FREEDOM FROM FEAR...

This is our goal for all Victims of Abuse in Garrett County.

As part of the campaign to lessen the devastating effects of elder and vulnerable persons abuse, the Area Agency on Aging, Seniors And Law Together, and the Dove Center are dedicating Tuesday, October 20, 1998, to this issue. We will have a "hot line" to take calls and to answer any questions or concerns.

Learn the signs and symptoms indicating mistreatment, neglect or abuse of the elderly. In a domestic setting there are also indicators of actual and potential problems. By knowing and watching, you may be able to initiate actions to reduce or prevent the situation from deteriorating. Take a stand and reach out to someone you believe to be a victim of abuse.

Definitions of abuse and neglect for persons to consider are as follows:

Psychological Abuse

Infliction of mental anguish by demeaning, name-calling, insulting, ignoring, humiliating, frightening, threatening, isolating, etc.

Material/Financial Abuse

Illegally or unethically exploiting by using funds, property, or other assets of another person for personal gain, etc.

Active Neglect

Intentional failure to fulfill caregiving obligations; infliction of physical or emotional stress or injury, abandonment; denial of food, medication, personal hygiene, etc.

Physical Abuse

Infliction of physical pain or injury, physical coercion; confinement; slapping, bruising, sexually molesting, cutting, laceratmg, burning, restraining, pushing, shoving, etc.

DNR Keeps Pact, Gives County 25% Of Year's Income

The annual allotment of funds from the Department of Natural Resources to Garrett County was presented this week to the commissioners in the amount of $617,618. As per the reimbursement agreement between the DNR and the county, this amount represents 25% of the income generated from public lands in the county during fiscal year 1998.

The allotment of funds coincided with the proclamation of Maryland State Parks Week, Oct. 3-11.

Because of the size of DNR's public land holdings in Garrett County, the Maryland State Forest and Park Service reimburses the county 25% of all revenue collected from its public lands. Most counties in Maryland receive 15% of the generated funds.

"Garrett County's public lands are managed to provide a sustainable supply of timber for the forest products industry, as well as high quality natural resources to support the growing tourism industry," said John R. Griffin, DNR secretary.

Delegate George Edwards said the allotment of funds is "a big plus for Garrett County" and that it is a result of "cooperation between the state and county in utilizing the tremendous natural resources the state has in the county."

Last year's payment was $406,182. Allegany County this year received $125,343; Washington County, $56,691; and Frederick County, $64,020. Statewide, counties will receive a total of $1,364,801.

DNR PRESENTS FUNDS TO COUNTY — The celebration of Maryland State Parks Week (Oct. 3-11) was crowned Tuesday by the presentation of $617,618 to Garrett County from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). The money constitutes 25% of the income generated from public lands in Garrett County during fiscal year 1998. DNR has agreed to reimburse the county this amount each year. See story. The proclamation document signed by the Garrett County commissioners notes that Maryland State Parks "provide for health, inspiration, and education" by providing quality outdoor recreation, and that Maryland is blessed with a variety of natural and historical parks that provide positive recreational experiences for 10.8 million visitors each year. The theme of the special week is "Maryland State Parks — A Healthy Habit." Pictured are several state park officials as they both present the 25% reimbursement check and celebrate the signing of the proclamation. Shown left to right are Lt. Steve Hamilton, manager of Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Park; Capt. Chris Anderson, regional manager; Lt. Paul Durham, Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area manager; and Commissioners Wayne Wilt, Gary Fratz, and Wayne Johnson.

Republican Office In Grantsville Posts 219N Plans

The four alternative plans developed by the State Highway Administration for Route 219N are posted in the display windows of the Grantsville office of The Republican.

Along with the maps are descriptions of each potential course suggested for the stretch of highway, which extends from I-68 north to the Pennsylvania border. Posted along with the plans are addresses and phone numbers for those who wish to comment on the proposals.

The office of The Republican is located in the Grantsville Plaza, near the intersection of Routes 40 and 219.

DLC Boater Found Guilty Of Reckless Operation, OUI

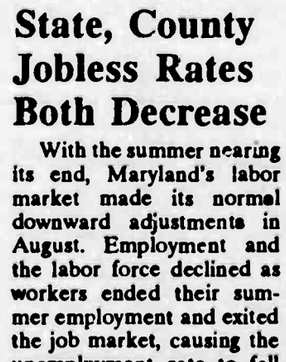
A McHenry man was declared guilty this week of two boating violations on Deep Creek Lake. David R. Bumgarner, 30, was convicted of reckless operation and operating a boat while under the influence of alcohol (OUI). He had pleaded guilty to reckless operation charge, but had entered a not-guilty plea to OUI.

District Court Judge Ralph Burnett found him to be guilty of both offenses and fined him $100 for reckless operation. For the OUI charge, Bumgarner was fined $300, with $100 suspended. He was also sentenced to jail for 30 days, with 16 suspended.

Bumgarner was charged by the Natural Resources Police (NRP) on July 31. A water-skier apparently contacted the authorities to report the reckless operator, and the NRP used the caller's description to locate Bumgarner some time later.

State, County Jobless Rates Both Decrease

With the summer nearing its end, Maryland's labor market made its normal downward adjustments in August. Employment and the labor force declined as workers ended their summer employment and exited the job market, causing the unemployment rate to fall by 0.2 percentage points to 4.5 percent in August.



"The continued drop in the state's unemployment rate is good news in light of the fact that seasonal employers began to trim their work forces during August," said Governor Parris N. Glendening. "Not only did increasing employment in other industries absorb declines in the seasonal jobs sector, but Maryland's unemployment rate is lower than it was a year ago, indicating our strong economy is becoming even stronger."

Meanwhile, Garrett County's jobless rate also decreased, from 8.8 percent in July to 8.0 percent in August. The August 1997 rate for the county was 11.8 percent.

Nationally, downsizing in the labor force caused the same unemployment decline, from 4.7 percent to 4.5 percent.

During August, employment declined by about 31,700 people as positions in restaurants, amusements, agricultural services, hotel and outdoor maintenance and recreation programs began to retreat. The withdrawal of workers, such as college students, from the job market more than offset this decline, leaving just 128,336 people unemployed during August. In addition, hiring continued in construction, business services, and printing, and recalls took place in food processing and local transportation. A year ago, more than 139,000 job seekers, or 4.9 percent of the labor force, were unemployed.

Locally, unemployment rates either dropped or held steady in all but seven jurisdictions.

Oakland Man Is Found Guilty Of Burglary, Theft

A jury in Garrett County Circuit Court convicted a former Oakland man last week of second degree burglary, felony theft, and malicious destruction of property. The defendant, Dwight Howard Clary, 20, has been remanded to the Maryland Department of Corrections pending sentencing for these crimes. He is currently an inmate there, serving a separate 44-month prison term for violation of probation in a prior burglary case, according to information from the county state's attorney.

Clary was arrested by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office after an investigation implicated him in a February break-in and theft incident at Bob's Garage, Kitzmiller. A number of juveniles were also charged, according to the report, and their cases were heard in April.

Sentencing for Clary will take place within days, according to the report.

COUNTRY CURRENT TO BE GLAF'S SEASON FINALE — The final presentation of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival's 1998 season will be a free outdoor concert by the U.S. Navy Band's premier bluegrass group Country Current. The show is slated for Sunday, Oct. 11, at 3 p.m. at the Wisp Resort. Prior to Country Current's performance, the local dance band Heart-N-Soul will entertain. The program is being sponsored by the Wisp Resort. Since Country Current's formation in 1973, the band has received wide acclamation for its country and bluegrass music. The seven-member group has performed with such artists as Boots Randolph, Charlie Daniels, and Vince Gill, and has appeared on the Grand Ole Opry and the Academy of Country Music Awards. Heart-N-Soul consists of four local musicians, who together present a repertoire ranging from Brooks and Dunn to the Doobie Brothers. There is no admission fee for this performance, which will take place at the bottom of the "Face" ski slope at Wisp. Guests may bring lawn chairs and picnics. Food will also be available for purchase.

The Festival, The Future...

The Autumn Glory Festival is a wonderful opportunity for us to promote Garrett County and all it has to offer. Thousands of visitors will be here this weekend, some for the first time, and it's important for many reasons that they return home with a positive impression.

It's important from the standpoint of pure economics, since such a significant chunk of our county's income is tourist dollars. Thus, the quality of our roads, our schools, our services, and life in general hinges upon how successful we are with our number one "industry." We want people to come back.

It's also important to present a good impression of our county just from the standpoint of pride; pride in our county, its resources, and most importantly, its people. We want our visitors to know that we are a warm, courteous, hard-working, well-educated segment of our nation's population that gets a real kick out of seeing visitors enjoy their stay with us.

With all of this in mind, festival time also makes us ponder the important decision-making that lies ahead, in both the near and not-so-near future. There are a number of crucial issues that require wisdom and keen foresightedness so major mistakes are not made today that could destroy what Garrett County offers and what Garrett County is. A couple that come to mind are the plans/talk/threats of the construction of by-passes and superhighways. Another is the apparently impending establishment of a major discount department store in Oakland which, in our opinion, could have devastating effects on the town (we'll write more about this one next week). Another is whether or not it is time, or past time, for some form of county-wide zoning to help guarantee necessary, but responsible, development, be it residential or commercial.

Errors in any one of these areas of planning/decision-making could have serious, detrimental effects on our future, as the uniqueness, beauty, and attraction of our county could be ultimately destroyed, all for the sake of what some short-sighted, narrow-minded individuals believe to be progress.

But, it's festival time, and we don't want to end this column on a gloomy note. So, let's have a blast for the next four days or so, and address more serious matters next week.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The gall of our government to take the funds from the Veterans Trust Fund for Health Care to help pay for the Rt. 219 superhighway and other projects! This is like robbing Peter to pay Paul. Apparently these government officials don't have a veteran relative or they would be concerned with this mismanagement of funds. Our veterans have served our country and this money is for their benefit, and not for some superhighway. The money should be put back! Thanks to George Falter, candidate commissioner District 3, for pointing this out.

If there are excess dollars in this trust fund, then they should be given to these veterans, or provided for them in some way or create jobs for them with this money.

If the funds are not available for a superhighway, then it should be scrapped.

Sincerely,
Charlotte Harkins
Swanton

Dear Mrs. Harkins,

We pointed out this information in one of our articles in our May 28 issue (pg. 3-A), and noted that Congressman Roscoe Bartlett voted against the transportation bill for that very reason. Apparently more people read my "mail" than our news columns.

Editor

To the Editor:

For many months now, I have read with great interest the on going debate for the proposed Route 219 "expressway." It deeply saddens me each time my family and I travel back to the Swanton area to visit friends and relatives, to see a somewhat struggling economy away from the Deep Creek Lake region.

While the economy around the lake is continuing to prosper, the overall business development in the rest of the county continues to suffer. With grocery stores, restaurants of all types, and several other "attraction developments" continuing to grow at an astonishing rate, the rest of the county just goes along with "business as usual."

As I sit here this morning thinking about this expressway, I wonder who this benefits the most? I have a difficult time in believing that it will benefit the businesses and/or the residents of the greater Oakland area, as there will most likely be more access to the lake than to the rest of Garrett County. The Naylors, the Brownings, the Greggs, and the other families that many of us have done business with over the years cannot possibly feel that this highway will help their respective businesses in any way. Yet the businesses that have a mainstream of tourist activity will most graciously accept more and more business. If this happens, the greater Oakland area will possibly be no more than a ghost town in a short period of time.

State and local government continues its campaign that this will considerably boost the economy of the county. In some respects, that is true. However, in the era that I grew up in, my father and the fathers of most of my friends during childhood received nothing from the lake, other than inflated prices and a higher tax assessment. Most of the adults worked at Westvaco, Bausch & Lomb, or were farmers by trade.

Now let's roll this era ahead to the year 2000. Gone is Bausch & Lomb, the farm land has become resort communities, most of the Westvaco employees of this era have either retired or are close to the retirement age. What do our forefathers have for their years of hard labor, and life-long residents of Garrett County? Very simply put, inflated prices and ever increasing tax assessments.

If you, as residents of Garrett County, are truly interested in what your "super highway" will look like, when and if completed, I invite you to take a ride through Pennsylvania, taking "old" Route 219, and look at the eyesore that Pennsylvania has created. Look at the beautiful farm land, the forests, the countryside, and the homes and/or businesses that have been lost due to this totally distasteful highway.

This county is going no where at all, since the only thing that gets attention is Deep Creek Lake. Let's all lobby our state legislature to legally change the name of the county to Deep Creek County.

My grandfather has been gone since 1986. I can honestly say that the economics of Deep Creek Lake never put a meal on his table. And rest assured, natives of the county, a lot of you can say the same thing.

Saddened by the death of the past,
Leslie Beckman

To the Editor:

Recently my family and I went on vacation to Florida. We traveled I-95 from Virginia to Florida I was amazed at the number of vehicles on this interstate, so much so, that I decided to count the vehicles (tractor trailers and cars) that we passed. Of course, making a trip such as this, you look for things to do to keep your children occupied, so counting vehicles took up some travel time. To be fair, we took this test in each state we drove through: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. We did this on the way down, (1-95 South) and coming home (1-95 North) We took a 15-minute time frame, and began counting. I then averaged the amount of vehicles from each state for my totals. They are as follows: cars passed in 15 minutes, 589: tractor trailers passed in 15 minutes, 172; and total vehicles passed in 15 minutes, 761.

Now, this is an average, as some states (like Florida) had over 150 more vehicles passed than other states. We drove on Wednesday going down, and on Thursday coming home. So as you can see, this is not weekend traffic. And remember, this is in 15-minute time frame!

I have been reading so much lately on the new by-pass, interstate, whatever you want to call it, but this is what Garrett County has to look forward to if this happens, as we would be that continuing route to New York and Canada. I cannot imagine the traffic would be less than that through the Carolinas to Florida.

Another observation we made was the debris on the interstate. Trash, tractor trailer tire debris (which was tremendous), and totting animals. Construction was everywhere, through each state, as I am sure re-paving, fixing pot holes, line painting, and general maintenance is needed constantly with such a high level of traffic that travels I-95. Bridge repair was also being done on many of the bridges farther south. I couldn't help to think about the winters in Garrett County. Snow removal would be a costly expense, as would the other maintenance mentioned above. This burden would most likely come from taxpayers from Garrett, Allegany, and all counties in Maryland.

We cannot forget the need for gas stations, convenience stores and fast food restaurants that would

REMEMBERING COLUMBUS ON COLUMBUS DAY

In the backwards way of our post-modern age, one of the ways to discern that an event has been downgraded is if 30 years ago it merited a school assembly, and today it is an excuse for a day off — from work, from school, perhaps from life. The discovery of the New World by Christopher Columbus on October 12, 1492, has suffered precisely this fate.

When I was a child I did not know much about Columbus, but I knew that without him I would probably be living in Europe eating kale, oats, and black bread every day and perhaps only once a day. Most, maybe all, the progress made in improvement of the standard of living during the past half millennium hangs on Columbus's discovery.

We summed it all up in the rhyme, "In 1492 Columbus sailed the ocean blue." I can remember sitting on the floor of our school gym, watching skits that re-enacted the great event and celebrating its results, which we were enjoying 24 hours a day.

To my dismay there has been a movement in the intervening 30 years to discredit Columbus. Its success is signified in part by the fact that many people now have a day off for Columbus Day rather than a school assembly.

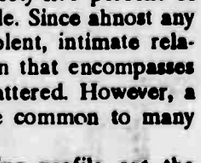
There are two types of rationale (or irrationale) for the discrediting of Columbus. The first argument is that Columbus did not really discover the New World because there were indigenous peoples already here, and who had been here for thousands of years.

The Scandinavians jump in at this point, and add that Columbus wasn't the first European to sail to the New World, as the Vikings had beached their long boats on the shores of Newfoundland 400 years earlier. An Irish patriot may then leap into the fray to say that Irish monks in coracles may have landed somewhere in North America three centuries before that, as indeed they might have. But so what?

It was because of Columbus that the cross-pollinization not only between Europe and what was to be called the Americas, but, in fact, between all the continents of the globe became possible. Some may argue that this cross-pollinization may not have been a good thing. Those people should return to the continent of their predominant ancestry and live the life of average 15th century folk.

The second argument for discrediting Columbus is that he launched what became a program of genocide against indigenous peoples, as well as the African slave trade. These are grave charges, and are substantially true. They do not, however, indict the man, Columbus; rather they indict his age.

It's difficult to postulate any other explorer at the end of the 15th century doing any better than Columbus on this score. This is to say, then, that the vices of Columbus were largely the vices of his culture, but his discovery of the New World was his own.



Those who, like me, believe Columbus to have been a great man and one to whom all the world owes a great debt might be interested to know what he was doing just 500 years ago this year, in 1498. That was the year of his third voyage. Like most great discoveries, the New World was not found all at once.

For six years Columbus explored what we now call the islands of the Caribbean Sea. He was sure that there was a continent still to be found. On August 1, 1498, Columbus found the mainland of South America, and spent the rest of the month following the coastline of the continent.

Columbus's life became more tumultuous in 1499, and though there were still a few notable achievements in his future, his discovery of continental South America was his last great success. In 1506 Columbus died. Others may have equalled him in his exploration as an endeavor of daring-do, but none has ever equalled Columbus in the re-

Domestic Violence Awareness Month

Profiling A Victim; Why Does She Stay?

by Linda Spassil
Director, The Dove Center

Who are the victims of domestic violence and why do they stay in such a relationship? Ninety-five percent of victims of domestic violence are female. Since almost any woman can become involved in a violent, intimate relationship, there is no single description that encompasses all aspects of every woman who is battered. However, a profile listing characteristics that are common to many battered women has been developed.

The characteristics in the following profile are the result, not the cause, of the distinctive environment in which the woman has been living. The woman profiled accepts traditional male and female roles; is passive, placating, and easily dominated; accepts male dominance and the myth of male superiority; equates dominance with masculinity; and feels she has no rights, including the right to be free from physical harm.

The woman in this profile also accepts guilt when there has been no wrongdoing; accepts her partner's reality as being the only reality; acts as a buffer between her partner and the rest of the world; feels she must help her mate even if it is at her own expense; has a strong need to be needed; and underestimates or downplays the danger in her situation.

In addition the woman profiled has an unshakable faith that things will improve or else feels that there is absolutely nothing she can do about her situation. She bases her feeling of self-worth on her ability to attract a man and maintain a relationship, suffers from low self-esteem, and doubts her own sanity.

One may ask why a woman would remain in an abusive situation? Usually there is not one reason for staying in a violent relationship, but several overlapping ones. Reasons for staying that have been cited by abused spouses include: fear that leaving will precipitate even more violent incidents of abuse directed toward them or their children; emotional dependence on the marital relationship, accompanied by feelings of low self-esteem and self-blame; lack of financial resources and employment income necessary to establish and maintain an independent household; and concern about the effects of separation or divorce on the children.

Others reasons given for not leaving an abusive situation include: concern about the loss of economic security and benefits such as retirement income and health insurance; feelings of love toward the spouse, coupled with hope that the relationship will improve and the violence will cease; denial of the potential for severe abuse; rationalizations and excuses for the abuser's behavior, as well as the inability to assess accurately the risks of the situation; physical and/or social isolation from family, friends, and community resources; and concern about the negative implication of divorce affecting her career.

Also among the reasons women listed for staying were strong cultural and religious beliefs about the importance of maintaining a marriage, regardless of "marital" problems; feelings of shame about the occurrence of violence in the relationship, preventing requests for help; acceptance of violence as normal in families, resulting from exposure to violent episodes as a child; lack of or perceived lack of, police protection and other forms of intervention; lack of information regarding legal rights, legal options and resources available for victims; and prior unsuccessful attempts to obtain help from extended family or from the law enforcement, legal and social service systems.

EPIPHANY
by Melodee Hill

Last week while I was reading Mary's Tangent about never being able to finish a sentence, much less a conversation, because her children are always interrupting her, I experienced an epiphany. Fortunately I was alone, so no one was hurt.

What a word — epiphany. When I was growing up Epiphany was the name given to a religious occasion and no one ever used it much unless he was a priest or a catechism teacher. I could find no other meaning in my 30-year-old Webster, so I'm assuming that the word has been bowdlerized for the new millennium. Now, people use it to describe experiencing very profound revelations about themselves and how such an experience really does feel like a light bulb going on above their heads or exploding beside their ears. However, there is a tendency to use the word too much. Discovering that you would much rather eat oatmeal instead of Pop-tarts for breakfast does not make for an epiphany of any proportion. It's not even all that interesting.

Anyway, back to the thoughts that worked their way up through my subconscious, like bubbles to the surface of an unfathomable depth. I realized that my sons are not rambunctious toddlers anymore. The biggest clues being that they are both several inches taller than I am, they get more phone calls on a daily basis than the White House Press Secretary, and they now interrupt my conversations in throaty voices dripping with testosterone. This is scientific proof of the one caveat we heard repeatedly from friends with slightly older children when our toddlers were going through their "stages" — It doesn't get better, it just gets different.

The other revelation that I experienced was that after 14-plus years of aborted, diverted, and interrupted conversations, I seem to have lost the skill to maintain an entire conversation through to its conclusion. I can usually get things started, but about halfway through it slips out of my grasp and rolls away, like Sisyphus's rock. The little half-asleep guy in Brain Central Station keeps looking at his watch and tapping me on the cerebrum while he mutters, "There's a kid interruption due on synapse nine at any second, wonder what's holding it up?" I could tell him. The kids don't need a ride (yet), they don't need any money (yet), and hanging around their geeky parents is about the uncoolest thing teenagers trying to be hip could do (except actually have a conversation with their parents that doesn't begin with "Can I have...?").

So, whenever this BCS guy is tapping and whistling and the kids are off goofing around and spending money with their equally cool friends (whose parents, unfortunately, are also relegated to geekdom, so it's okay if they hang out with the rest of us geeks), the strangest thing happens. As if my brain has actually been trained to expect the kids' interruption, and it doesn't happen, I start to.... talk about my kids. Somehow the conversation derails and there we are discussing kids' activities, the friends they hang out with, and how much of our money they can spend in 15 minutes. Is there no hope for adult-oriented, mature conversation? Maybe we could talk about the president's activities, the friends he hangs out with, and how much money he spends? On second thought, did you know my older son has his license now?

Why Here? Why Now?

In celebration of October as Arts and Humanities Month, The Republican presents the following commentary written by Steve Schlosnagle, executive director of the Garrett County Arts Council.

At the Garrett County Arts Council, I encounter one question more than any other: "How do you account for the remarkable diversity and quality of artistic talent and expression in Garrett County?"

I've been afforded opportunity to consider numerous variations of this question on many occasions through the curiosity and interest of arts advocates from around the state, outside the region, and primarily from within our own community.

How would you account for the current emergence of a growing, distinctive arts community here?

I can't. There are simply too many variables to take into account to fit any one theory. I'm happy, however, to suggest some social and historic considerations from which to frame the question.

First, Garrett County presents a beautiful natural environment with four distinct, stunning seasons. "Truth is beauty; beauty, truth . . ."

The second consideration relates to the Garrett County climate and our local economy. These have always challenged the people who live here. Mere survival has called forth creativity and ingenuity along with a certain individual scrappiness. Creativity, ingenuity, and independent thought, combined with real life experience, constitute the unwritten page, the blank canvas, and the basic instrument from which artistic expression is most likely to spring forth.

A third consideration is this: While Garrett County has never been a truly closed society, it has (for most of its history since settlement) been a relatively closed-in society, isolated from outside influence. There have been three notable periods of exception. The first occurred with the advent of the National Road and the flow of westward demographic expansion through our mountains in the early nineteenth century. The second period of cultural influx accompanied the establishment of Oakland, Deer Park, Mountain Lake Park, and adjoining areas as popular and elite resort destinations during the heyday of the railroad in the age of steam. In our century, the development of Deep Creek Lake — accompanied by ease and accessibility of personal transportation — has served as a magnet attracting direct outside influence to this neck of the woods.

Each period of social influx has produced a certain cultural synergy, which has stimulated the diversity and quality of artistic expression and opportunity here.

A fourth consideration also has social and economic underpinnings. Ours has been a half-century of relative affluence and leisure. Those of us who now live here can afford to visit elsewhere — and return. Our children can pursue education in the outside world — and (with spunk and dedication) return. Natives and long-time residents who move away for employment and social opportunities, or adventure, can (and in growing numbers do) return. It is not possible to leave these mountains and then return without a broader perspective of the world we live in and the immediate area we inhabit. This going and coming contributes to a social environment of increasing openness, tolerance, receptivity, and experimentation — all hallmarks of free, original artistic expression and exploration.

OCTOBER IS ARTS AND HUMANITIES MONTH, as proclaimed this week by the Garrett County commissioners and numerous local artists and art supporters. The document signed by the commissioners states that "the arts are good for us; enhance the quality our lives, promote free and creative expression and exchange of ideas and emotions; contribute to life-long and well balanced education and healthy development of mind, body, and spirit; stimulate economic development and diversity; spark our imaginations; comfort us in times of trouble and loss; exult us in celebration; engage us in mindful living and civil communication; and entertain us throughout life." The month of October has been recognized as National Arts and Humanities Month by the U.S. Conference of Mayors to encourage participation of the nation's 23,000 cultural organizations and 3,000 local arts agencies in a nationwide celebration of American arts and humanities. Many arts supporters and organization representatives were on hand for the signing, and are pictured above with the commissioners (seated left to right: Wayne Johnson, Wayne Wilt, and Gary Fratz). Standing in the first row, left to right, are Clint Englander, member of the Garrett County Arts Council (GCAC) board; John Grant, Garrett County Historical Society; Steve Schlosnagle, GCAC executive director; Judy Bertach, Our Town Theatre (OTT) board of directors; Betty Mettingly, Hammers & Strings; Summer DeBastiani, director of Pandora's Box; Sonia Pratt, artist and GCAC member; Jennifer Maatej-Pietta, artist, Marcene Huebner, chair of Garret Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF); Beth Johnson, GLAF board; and Wendell Teets, superintendent of schools. In the back row, same order, are Dave Bertach, OTT board; Rebecca McClive, artist; Charles P. Evans, artist; Ron Skidmore, professor of art at Garrett Community College; Laura Stutzman, artist; Mark Stutzman, artist; Glenn Tolbert, Main Street Maryland manager; and Sheila Hughes, Ruth Enlow Library representative.

JENNIFER EVANS REMEMBERED — In keeping with October as Arts and Humanities Month, a painting by the late Jennifer Evans was presented to the Garrett County commissioners this week by Steve Schlosnagle, pictured, executive director of the Garrett County Arts Council (GCAC). Also in attendance at the presentation were Jennifer's father, Charles ("Chip") Evans, and her sister, Rebecca McClive, both of whom are also painters. Jennifer had attended the Art Institute in Baltimore and had owned and operated the Art Corret in Oakland. She died suddenly on Oct. 8, 1997, at the age of 30. Her painting titled "View from Lillie's" was given to the commissioners to be displayed in the public meeting room. GCAC made the presentation in memory of the artist and in celebration of the artistic talent within the Garrett County community.

be needed for all these travelers. Or how about the information centers and rest stops that would be needed, and weigh stations for tractor trailers? More of Garrett County's beautiful land would be destroyed and more tax dollars spent to accommodate an interstate.

In closing, please think about all aspects of an interstate running through Garrett County: costly maintenance, more travelers than we can imagine, land destruction, tax increases, wildlife destroyed, and crime. Is this really what we want? People from the cities are running away as fast as they can to places like Garrett County for peace of mind, relaxation, less traffic, less crime, and for the nature and beautiful landscapes we provide. I don't think the city dwellers are crazy for wanting what we have, but they do not have to get here on an interstate. We will be voting in the election soon. Please review the candidates' opinions on the interstate, as several are in favor of this. Garrett County, not even one inch of (our) land, should be compromised to get travelers to New York or Canada faster.

Thank You,
Brenda Thomas

Expedition Gets Underway Today

Friendsville's Roger Zbel and three fellow kayakers began a journey across Tibet today, as they kayak down unexplored reaches of that Asian region's Yarling Tsang Po River on an expedition sponsored by National Geographic magazine.

In a live feature interview broadcast during today's Morning Edition news program on National Public Radio, expedition leader Tom McEwan, a Washington, D.C.-area resident, said that the team is eager to begin after a journey of several days from Katmandu to the river's edge.

"With walls sometimes reaching to 16,000 feet above the water, this is the deepest river gorge in the world," McEwan explained over the satellite telephone feed provided by the government of the People's Republic of China. "It's four times deeper than the Grand Canyon. The water flow right now is running more than the Potomac River would at floodstage in Washington."

McEwan, Zbel, and their fellow paddlers will be on the 1,000 mile river for over a month. The 42-year-old Zbel is the founder, owner, and operator of Precision Rafters in Friendsville.

CHARLES C. COSNER

Charles C. Cosner, 64, Mt. Storm, W.Va., died Saturday, Oct. 3, 1998, at his home.

Born Nov. 3, 1933, in Bismark, W.Va., he was a son of the late Burza M. and Agnes L. (Moreland) Cosner. He was also preceded in death by one brother, Harold Cosner.

He was a retired heavy equipment operator for Buffalo Coal Co., Bayard, W.Va., and was a member of the Locust Grove Church of the Brethren.

A U.S. Army veteran of the Korean Conflict, he was a member of Kelly Mansfield Post 52, American Legion, Piedmont, W.Va., and was a life member of Abraham Lincoln Post 6735, VFW, Mt. Storm.

Survivors include his wife, Hilda M. (Berg) Cosner; one daughter, Barbara M. Cosner, Chambersburg, Pa.; three sons, Charles D. Cosner Sr., Mt. Storm, John C. Cosner, Waynesboro, Pa., and Sgt. Daniel R. Cosner, USAF, Colorado Springs, Colo.; two sisters, Evelyn Streets and Darlene Bonner, both of Mt. Storm; and four grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland. A service was conducted at the Locust Grove Church of the Brethren on Wednesday, Oct. 7, with the Rev. John Walker officiating. Interment was in the Locust Grove Cemetery.

Military honors were accorded at the cemetery by members of the various veterans organizations in southern Garrett County, the American Legion, Piedmont, and the Mt. Storm VFW. The family requests that memorials take the form of contributions to the Locust Grove Church of the Brethren Building Fund, c/o Pearl McDowell, Treasurer, HC 76, Box 470, Mt. Storm, WV 26739.

ALL GARRETT AMBULANCES PASS INSPECTION — The seven ambulances used by the Southern and Northern Garrett rescue squads were all inspected last month and were all found to be in satisfactory condition. The annual voluntary inspection is completed by officials of the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Service Systems (MIEMSS), with the help of local mechanics and emergency care professionals. In the photo above, Mike Saunders, first lieutenant for Southern rescue, is shown at left as he watches Dave Ramsey, Region I MIEMSS director, check equipment. Phil Rook, another local Region I inspector, is pictured just inside the vehicle, and Ken May, the chairman for MIEMSS Transportation Committee, is shown in the captain's chair. Edgar Yoder, a local mechanic and a member of the Northern rescue squad, is pictured below as he checks out the engine of Southern rescue's newest unit, a 1998 Ford rescue unit that has been used in only two or three calls so far.

ANNIE R. BICKFORD

Annie R. Bickford, 91, Swanton, died Tuesday, Oct. 6, 1998, at the Goodwill Mennonite Home, Grantsville.

Born May 31, 1907, in Grantsville, she was the daughter of the late Emory and Isabelle (Butler) Durst.

Survivors include three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland, where a service was conducted earlier today, Oct. 8, with the Rev. Robert Fletcher officiating. Interment was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens, Oakland.

HARRY W. MOTT

Harry Wardwell Mott, 90, Whiting, N.J., died Monday, Oct. 5, 1998, at the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, Oakland.

Born June 15, 1908, in Brooklyn, N.Y., he was the son of the late William and Emma Mott. He was also preceded in death by his wife, Helen K. Mott.

He was a former employee of Con Edison.

Surviving are two sons, William J. Mott, Germantown, formerly of Oakland, and Robert H. Mott, Gig Harbor, Wash.; five grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

Friends will be received at the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, on Friday, Oct. 9, from 1 to 2 p.m., time of the service, with the Rev. Michael Robinson officiating. Cremation will follow the service.

JAMES A. KISNER

James A. Kisner, 56, Fisher, W.Va., died Tuesday, Oct. 6, 1998, at Grant Memorial Hospital, Petersburg, W.Va.

Born April 7, 1942, in Bayard, W.Va., he was a son of Luvada Frances (Dunithan) Rinker, Petersburg, and the late James F. Kisner. He was also preceded in death by one brother, David Dunithan.

He was formerly employed by Alt's Furniture in Petersburg.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by one son, James A. Kisner, Oakland; five sisters, Jean Miller, Indianapolis, Ind., Loretta Mae DeWitt, Virginia Beach, Va., Debra Lee Barber, Philadelphia, Pa., Melody King, Oakland, and Mary Ellen Brown, Elk Garden, W.Va.; and four brothers, George Paugh, Oakland, Roy Lee Stickley, Keyser, W.Va., John D. Kisner, Oakland, and Joseph Trumble, Gaithersburg.

Friends were received at the Schaffer Funeral Home, Petersburg, where a service was conducted at 1 p.m. today, Oct. 8, with the Rev. Richard L. Longbon officiating. Interment was in the Lahmansville (W.Va.) Cemetery.

The family suggests memorials be directed to the family, c/o Tom and Vera Michael, HC 85, Box 9A, Fisher, WV 26818.

LOUISE E. RODEHEAVER

Louise E. Rodeheaver, 55, Oakland, died Thursday, Oct. 1, 1998, at her home.

Born April 6, 1943, in Bethlehem, she was a daughter of the late Loaring S. and Marie I. (Tasker) Green.

She was a former acquisitions administrator for Bausch & Lomb. She attended the Deer Park United Methodist Church and was active in the Ladies Christian Group. She was a member of the Deer Park Civic Club.

Surviving are her husband, Lonnie L. Rodeheaver; two sons, Dwayne I. Rodeheaver, Baltimore, and Mark A. Rodeheaver, Deer Park; two sisters, Elizabeth M. Theodore, Hurricane, W.Va., and Ellanorah F. Mayle, Oakland; one brother, Sheridau A. Green, Germantown; and one grandson.

Friends were received at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland. A service was conducted at the Kurtz Chapel United Methodist Church on Sunday, Oct. 4, with the Rev. Nell Parsons officiating. Interment followed in the Tasker Cemetery.

JACK E. BOOKOUT

Jack Ed Bookout, 67, Accident, died Wednesday, Sept. 30, 1998, after a prolonged illness.

Born in Muncie, Ind., he was a son of the late Chester H. and Lola (Snodgrass) Bookout.

He received his bachelor's degree in education from Ball State University and his master's degree in business administration from Western Michigan University. He relocated to Prince George's County in 1959 and taught high school business courses there. He and his wife retired to Garrett County in 1989.

Survivors include his wife, Eleanor (Hogsdon) "ELEE" Bookout; three daughters, Janice B. Soussanin, Annapolis, Julie B. Delaney, New Market, and Jennifer B. Woodring, Raleigh, N.C.; two brothers Jim Bookout and Chester Bookout, both of Muncie; and six grandchildren.

A memorial gathering will be conducted at his home at 906 Rabbit Hollow Road, Accident, on Saturday, Oct. 17, from 2-5 p.m.

Cremation services were handled by the Durst Funeral Home in Oakland.

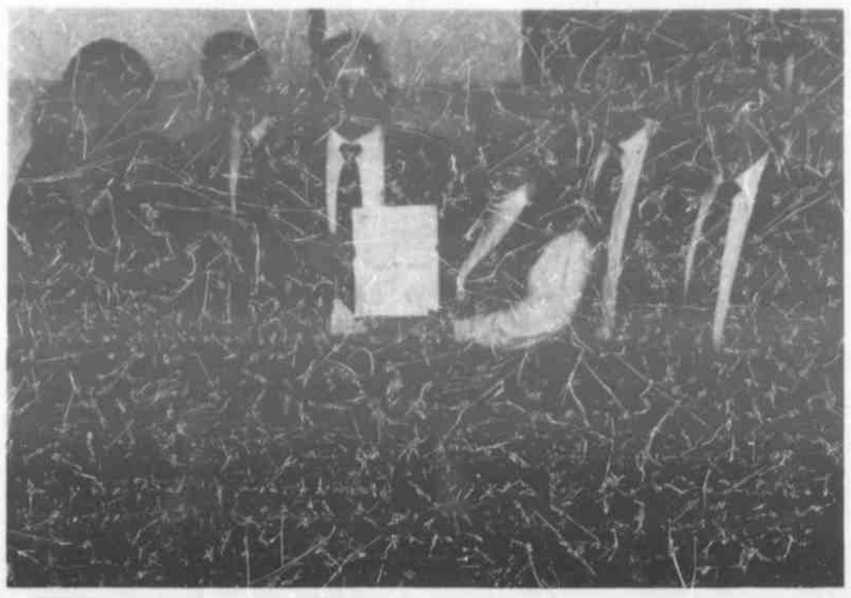
RAM Notes

by Chuck Harkins



• The Class of 2001 will sponsor a Joe Corby Pizza Sale as a class fund-raiser beginning on October 8. Orders will be taken until October 22, and delivery of the pizzas will be on November 6. The proceeds of this fund-raiser will be used for next year's prom, traditionally sponsored by the junior class. If you would like to help the Class of 2001 increase the treasury and enjoy some good food in the process, see any member of the sophomore class or contact Valerie Frazee or Athena Wilson at the school.

• The Maryland Functional Writing Test is slated for Wednesday, Oct. 21. Parents are reminded that students must be properly rested and eat a good breakfast prior to coming to school that day.

• Parents are reminded that pick-up and drop-off of students is permitted only in the turning circle below the gym. Parents are urged to follow these directions to avoid safety hazards for buses entering or leaving the school premises.

• Parents and students are also reminded that it is posted that all cars must turn left when exiting the student lot at the front of the school from 3:15 until 3:30 p.m. everyday. Students who fail to obey this rule will lose parking privileges. The sheriff's office frequently patrols this area and will issue citations to those individuals who choose to disobey the law.

• Parents are urged to check with Guidance about the upcoming PSAT tests on Tuesday, Oct. 20, and the College Expo, scheduled for this Monday evening, Oct. 12, at GCC.

MENTAL ILLNESS AWARENESS WEEK PROCLAIMED — The Garrett County commissioners teamed up this week with Garrett County Lighthouse Inc. to proclaim Mental Illness Awareness Week, Oct. 4-10. The proclamation states that severe mental illnesses — such as schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, major depression, obsessive-compulsive disorder — affect one in every five families annually, and that these disorders are more common than cancer, diabetes, and heart disease, being the number one reason for hospital admissions nationwide. The treatment success rate for schizophrenia is 60%, 65% for major depression, and 80% for bipolar disorder, compared to roughly 50% for chronic physical disorders (such as heart disease, diabetes, or cancer). However, brain disorders continue to be shrouded in stigma, and those who suffer from them are regularly discriminated against, the document states. Organizers hope that the designated week will help increase public awareness of severe mental illness and promote greater understanding of those who suffer from the potentially disabling symptoms of these disorders. Pictured at the signing, left to right, are Lighthouse officers Martha Jachowski, president; Barbara Briggs, vice president; Commissioners Wayne Johnson and Wayne Wilt; Debbie Jo Adams-Noroski, executive director; Commissioner Gary Fratz; and Arthur Naylor, treasurer. "We commend the Garrett County commissioners for their efforts in helping Lighthouse educate the people of our county about the true nature of these illnesses and to end the discrimination that our consumers and family members frequently face," said Adams-Noroski.

Questions should be directed to the SGHS Guidance Office at 301-334-1660.

• On October 5, Southern hosted an all-school assembly called "Flashpoint," from ARC productions. By using live Top 40s music, live drama, and video, the group showed students the danger of using drugs to solve problems or hide emotions. The group also witnessed how anger has destructive results on relationships and productivity. We would like to extend our appreciation to the Garrett County Health Department for sponsoring the "kick-off" of Red Ribbon activities for the month of October.

SGHS has been fortunate enough to have received a grant from GARF in Boise, Idaho, to help establish reef farming procedures by raising corals this year. Diana Marks, project coordinator at SGHS, believes that students will gain a wealth of knowledge and understanding about biology through their participation in the project.

Some modifications will need to be made to the 125-gallon marine tank in Room 2122 to begin the project. As everyone knows, instructional funds are usually in short supply, and Mrs. Marks is asking for public support through donations and fund-raising activities. Throughout the year, biology students will help to raise monies for these modifications.

The Southern High student body celebrated Fall Homecoming 1998 last week with a host of daily events which allowed students and teachers to participate. The week ended with both the football and soccer teams scoring big wins over their opponents.

Students danced around a bonfire pep rally Thursday night as the band, cheerleaders, sports teams, and the Oakland fire department helped get everyone into the spirit of the week. Friday night's game came down to the last play of the game, and the Rams pulled off an upset victory over Tucker County.

The 1998 Homecoming Court was presented at half-time. These students were selected by their fellow classmates: Lindsay Perry and Tony Wilson, freshmen representatives, Erin Orr and Rusty Strubin represented the sophomore class, and Heather Hanline and Uwe Dietzel were chosen as junior class representatives.

The following seniors were chosen for the court: Megan Conroy and Bo Jonson, Crystal Hinnant and Beau Gibson, Andi Bender and Jason Weaver, Sheri Perando and Keith Parks, and John Andrews and Britiney Slider. Crystal Hinnant was crowned queen and Keith Parks named king at the annual homecoming dance Saturday evening. Over 350 students attended.

SUNDAE EATING ON TRIAL - These four esteemed Garrett Countians will preside as judges for the annual No-Hands Sundae Eating Contest, slated for Sunday, Oct. 11, at 2 p.m. at the Lakeside Creamery to benefit Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Garrett County. Contestants competing in elementary, middle, and high school, "out of high school," and team divisions will pay a $3.25 entry fee, or $30 per team sponsor, to tackle a three-scoop sundae with toppings and whipped cream, armed only with their mouths. Shown above, from the left, Ralph Burnett, judge of the District Court, James Sherbin, judge of the Circuit Court, Lisa Thayer Welch, Garrett County state's attorney, and Lawie Jones, retired District Court judge, surround a sundae that will meet its fate this Sunday. (Burnett and Jones appear to be just a wee bit over-anxious to bite into their roles.) For further information interested persons may call Big Brothers/Big Sisters at 301-334-3591.

Cable Company Notes Changes; Solicits Input

Concerns expressed by customers of the FrontierVision cable company over the loss of local FM radio station signals that were carried on the local cable system have prompted the company to address the matter and seek the public's input via a mail-in radio station survey that appears on this page of The Republican.

Recent channel line-up changes, necessitated by a head-end consolidation, forced FrontierVision to use every available channel space in order to merge two channel line-ups into one. With the new line-up serving the Deep Creek, McHenry, Friendsville, and Accident communities, channels had to be added in order to keep as many of the existing programming services from each community as possible. With this merger, the cable system is channel locked, meaning no additional channel spaces exist.

As a result, FrontierVision plans to upgrade the cable system to 450 Mllz over the next 24 months. This upgrade will include new electronics, the replacement of some traditional coax cable, and the addition of state-of-the-art fiber-optic cable.

"This upgrade will deliver improved reception, increased system reliability, and increased channel capacity for expansion in the near future," said Gary Shoemaker, regional plant manager, adding that once the rebuild is complete, FrontierVision will be able to add additional programming services.

"FrontierVision still recognizes the need and demand for local news, weather, and information provided by local radio stations that are difficult to receive using traditional antennas," said Chris Piciacchia, regional marketing manager.

FrontierVision customers can complete the mail-in survey and send it in with their next payment, Piciacchia continued. The company will tally the results and add the local radio station most in demand. The station will be added to channel 97, which is the Garrett Community College channel, and will serve as a background audio feed when not in use by the college.

"For comments or concerns, please contact our customer service office at 1-800-753-0778," Piciacchia said. "We are delighted to deliver our customers the best television eutertainment and customer service available."

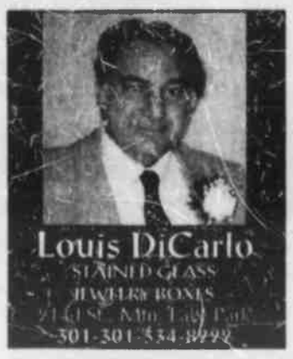
End-Of-Season Concert Slated At Puzzley Run

The final gospel concert of the 1998 season will be presented by Puzzley Run Folklife Center at Bietschehof, Crantsville. Beginning at 1 p.m., the music will continue until evening. The concert will be hosted by Lewis and Garrett and will feature many names familiar to Puzzley Run concert-goers such as Cross-Road Revival, Charlie Scott, the Starlighters, Glory Bound, and Gertie Wilburn.

Returning from a previous concert will be the Willing Hearts and Julie Wilburn. New to the Puzzley Run stage will be One Journey and Lead by the Spirit.

The Starlighters will also bring a concession trailer, which will offer hamburgers, hot dogs, french fries, and funnel cakes. The "bake lady," Ada Beachy, will have a table of homemade goods.



The Bietschehof petting zoo animals, including the Lamar Llama family, will be on hand.

"We are attempting to provide to the folks and families of our area a time of wonderful music, good food, and recreation to encourage the old-fashioned custom of visiting on a Sunday afternoon to enjoy Christian fellowship," said Bill Durst co-director of Puzzley Run.

Plan are also moving ahead for a three-day Christian Getaway weekend of music, workshops, spiritual renewal, and recreation at Bietschehof, Durst explained. Currently the event is scheduled for June 18-20, 1999. "Folks are invited to share their ideas with us for such a weekend," Durst said.

A freewill offering will be taken at the Sunday concert. Bietschehof is located between Grantsville and Keyser's Ridge, one mile north of Rt. 40. Persons may take Zehner Road to Hetrick Road to the Bietschehof sign. Guests are invited to bring a lawn chair.

For more information persons may call Bietschehof at 301-895-3742.

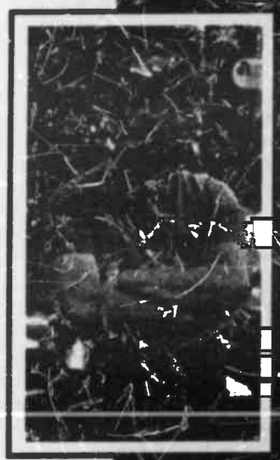
Richards Vies For Riley's BOE Seat

John Richards has announced his candidacy for the open District 2 Garrett County School Board seat being vacated by Pat Riley. He issued the following statement:

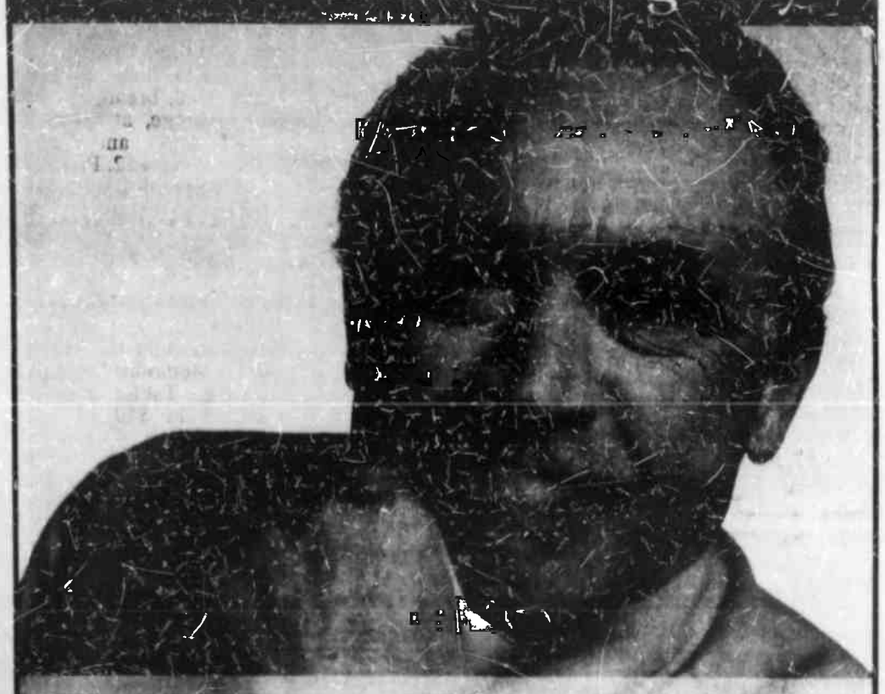
"I am committed to carrying forward the goals and objectives set by the current board four years ago. I do not believe in ambiguous outcome-based educational objectives set by Washington. I believe that decisions affecting our students' learning should be made closest to the local school level, based on objective standards of learning. I am pro life, pro abstinence, and pro character education.

"I feel that a specific character development curriculum, such as Character First or Character Counts, which are perfectly legal and successful, should be adopted by our county schools. Though we have a president who is confused about whether to tell the truth, our children do not need to be confused — They can be taught that it is right to tell the truth in all circumstances, and that there are moral absolutes — No court has invalidated character and moral education.



"I stand for consistent discipline in classrooms and on school buses. A regularly disruptive student should be placed in an alternative classroom with the structure he needs to learn and be controlled. A regularly disruptive student on the bus should find another way to school — Bus riding is a privilege, not a right.

"I support the capital development plan for Northern High School; I will oppose school consolidation when the local elementary school is perfectly viable. I support expanded opportunities for vo-tech and gifted/talented students, and I will work to bring parents into full participation and accountability in the educational process.



"I have more than 20 years' teaching experience — 11 years in Virginia public schools and 10 years in private schools, two of which I served as head teacher. I earned a master's degree in education in 1976. My wife Louise and I live near Grantsville, where she administers the Salem Children's Home, and I work as assistant director at the Salem School for troubled young people.

Union Ambulance Service Secures Legislative Grant For New Unit

Members of Union Ambulance Service, Aurora, recently received word that a legislative grant has been approved to help them purchase a new ambulance for their community.

"Senator Sarah Minear was instrumental in helping us obtain this $30,000 grant," said Ellen Harsh, speaking on behalf of the ambulance service. "We appreciate her help so much. We couldn't have done it without her."

Now the ambulance service has to come up with at least $50,000 more, according to Harsh, and must purchase the vehicle before June 1999, or the grant will be lost. "We have two other units that are both over 10 years old," she said, "and we hope to raise the money we need for a new one by the first of the year."

Among the first of the fundraising activities conducted by members of the squad was a quilt raffle during the recent Mt. Grove Potato Festival. Approximately $700 was realized from that effort, according to Harsh. The next project will be a "road block" on Rt. 50 in Aurora on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 17-18. Members will be accepting donations from motorists throughout the weekend.

The Union Ambulance Service has been an active part of the Aurora community since 1976, and relies primarily on donations from the public. Many volunteer hours by residents of Aurora and its surrounding communities are spent with the ambulance service as they answer emergency calls, assist the Aurora Volunteer Fire Department, as well as other area VFDs. Members also assist with safety drills and demonstrations at the Aurora school, offer CPR classes at the squad hall, provide a location for quilting and for residents to get their flu shots (which is planned in the near future, according to Harsh), and support other communities by offering "stand by" assistance at various festivals and events.

Persons or organizations interested in assisting the Union squad with their undertaking, or those who are interested in becoming a member may call Keith Douglas at 304-735-5228, or Harsh at 304-735-5468.

Film Showing Set At Church

Reprinting Of Killing Waters Book Announced

Publisher Bob Teets has announced plans to reprint Killing Waters: The Great West Virginia Flood of 1985 as a tribute to "the courageous people of West Virginia and the brave local newspaper reporters who faced this tragedy side by side."

"A North Dakota newspaper recently won a Pulitzer Prize for its coverage of a 1997 flood in that state, but West Virginians recall the superlative coverage by their own state newspapers about the 1985 flood that was featured in the best-selling book about the event," Teets said.

The 112-page book, compiled by Teets and Shelby Young, chronicles the November 1985 flood with over 160 photographs and 50 stories, most of which originally appeared in state newspapers at the time. The disaster, America's worst that year, claimed 47 lives and resulted in damages exceeding $500 million in 29 of the state's 55 counties, according to sources listed in the book.

Teets is now president of Headline Books Inc., which is reprinting the book, and he works for the state Public Service Commission. Young works for the Putnam Democrat newspaper. The January 28, 1986, national edition of USA Today was first to declare Killing Waters a bestseller, only two months after its original publication in December 1985. At that time, the book had sold 25,000 copies. Most of those early sales were made through the same newspapers featured in the book. Within months, the book had sold 80,000 copies worldwide, prompting Teets's and Young's publishing company to donate over $25,000 to flood relief agencies and to provide free equipment to a number of newspapers wiped out by the killing waters.

The reprinted version of Killing Waters will sell for $15.95 plus $3 for shipping and handling when it is released in December, but Teets said people can save on the cost if they order the book now from the publisher at a pre-publication price of $12.95 plus the shipping cost (West Virginia buyers must also add 95¢ state tax.).

The process of reprinting the book will not be so easy, Teets explained. Few, if any of the original photographs or printing plates remain, he said, so the book will be reprinted by means of photographing and reproducing every page exactly as it first appeared. "We are very pleased that our printer can handle this exacting task," he said. Killing Waters: The Great West Virginia Flood of 1985 will also be available at bookstores or can be ordered direct from Headline Books Inc., P.O. Box 52, Terra Alta, WV 26764. Orders may also be placed by calling 1-800-570-5951.

Several from this area are involved with the mission group, and the public is encouraged to attend.

REVIVAL

The youth of the Maple Spring Church are planning a revival for the evenings of Oct. 22, 23, and 24, with special music and other activities also planned. Guest speaker is Craig Howard of Petersburg. Services begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening. Everyone is welcome.

QUILTING IN PROGRESS

With another quilt in the frames, the time of quilting at the Union Ambulance Squad Hall has been set for Wednesday afternoons at 1 p.m. Help with the project would be appreciated. Those who can quilt in the evenings are asked to contact Dolores Stemple to arrange a time.

PERSONAL MENTION

Courtney Fint, daughter of Joe and Stacy Fint of Aurora, served as maid to Queen Silvia at the 1998 Forest Festival in Elkins. Fint is a sophomore at West Virginia University.

Melvin and Melissa Frantz of Virginia visited this weekend with his parents, Don and Neva Frantz and Missy, Eglon, and with other area relatives.

Dorothy Knapp is spending this week with her daughter and son-in-law, Linn and John Crowe and Julie, at Eglon. Mrs. Knapp resides in Florida.

Jesse and Elsie Harsh of Silver Knob observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Sept. 22. They celebrated Oct. 3 with an open house at the Gortner Union Church. Jesse is a son of the late Nelson and Carrie (Lantz) Harsh, who were residents of Eglon, and Elsie is the daughter of the late Ed and Mary (Crowe) Hesse who had lived at Gortner. They are parents of two children, Mary Teets of Eglon and Charles Harsh of Oakland.

Dale and Mildred Stemple of Aurora visited in Charleston with their daughters, Peggy Cramer and family, and Sandra Stemple.

Word was received here that two former Eglon residents have been ill. Esther Fike Allen of Solon, Ohio, had surgically implanted stints which have reportedly improved her condition. Ellis Harsh of Bridgewater, Va., was the victim of a light stroke from which he is reportedly recovering, but will undergo further tests and surgery.

Those from the area United Methodist churches who went to Burlington last Wednesday to help with apple butter making were Alma Snyder, David and Wilma Mae Teets, Beatrice Ball, Carolyn Mullenax, Ressie and Bill Conrad, Pastor Joe Robinette, Gertrude Stemple, Marie Mullenax, Wilda Stemple, Shirley Parsons, Sheridan and Nina Layman, Paul and Steve Stemple, and Maxine Hauser and Pat Stemple. Ruth Snyder went along and was recognized on Saturday for the many years she had helped with the festival and apple butter making. She stayed with her son there, then returned to Aurora on Sunday.

Doyne Teets of Springfield, Va., and his mother Naomi Teets of Boonsboro, Md., made a brief visit in Eglon last week with Roscoe and Ruth Teets.

Maynard Lantz of Aurora was treated to a late birthday dinner on Saturday, when he and his wife Bonnylin hosted a dinner for their children and families. His birthday was Monday, the day after his return from the hospital.

Thirty-two people attended a meeting on Oct. 6, to establish the Aurora Historical Society. The newly elected officers are: president, Alice Penzo; vice-president, James Slawter; secretary, Virginia Martin; treasurer, Jo Ann Helton; historian, Dan Ingram; curator, Michelle Monne; and librarian, Martha Bolyard.

Last Thursday night, Roy Rogers movies were shown at the Community Building. More than 30 people attended. They enjoyed popcorn and drinks during the break. Some purchased books from the library book sale tables.

Anyone from the class of 1953 who would like a small copy of the cap and gown poster shot, please call Laura Frye at 304-735-5471.

Fundraising Festivities Set For Oct. 17 At Reckart's Mill

An afternoon of festivities on Saturday, Oct. 17, is planned at Reckart's Mill in nearby Cranesville, W.Va., to benefit the restoration of the historic gristmill.

A variety of activities, including tours of the mill, live music, a 50/50 drawing, prizes donated by local merchants, and concessions provided by the Cranesville Homemakers Club, will be provided from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Built in 1895, the mill is now on the National Registry of Historical Places and is currently owned by Glenn and Terrie Hardesty. The Friends of Reckart's Mill Foundation, a non-profit organization, is in charge of the fundraising event.

Rams Flatten Alco Before Upsetting Bishop Walsh

Playing outstanding soccer this past week were the Southern High School varsity boys, who avenged earlier losses to two teams and, in so doing, upset previously unbeaten (10-0) Bishop Walsh. The Rams first crushed visiting Allegany on Saturday, 6-0, in a Western Maryland Interscholastic League clash, and then they traveled to Cumberland on Tuesday afternoon where they stopped the area's number one ranked squad, Bishop Walsh, 2-1. Southern had lost to Allegany, 5-3, and to the Spartans, 6-1, last month.

The victories gave Southern a 5-2-1 record overall and a 5-1-1 mark in the WMIL standings.

Senior All-Area player John Andrews recorded a hat trick in the win over Allegany by scoring goals number two, four, and six. He also assisted on a pair of other goals.

German exchange student Uwe Dietzel scored off a feed by Andrews 9½ minutes into the match to put the Rams' first point on the board. Andrews then buried one in the net off an assist by Derrick Nelson with just under five minutes remaining in the first half to double Southern's total. A goal by freshman D.J. Parsons off Andrews' second assist with less than a minute to play in the half put the Rams on top 3-0 at intermission.

Andrews scored again with just under 25 minutes left in the match off an assist by Dietzel to make it 4-0. Nelson followed with a goal about three minutes later, and Andrews scored unassisted just a minute after that to complete the rout.

The Rams finished with a 23-13 advantage in shots on goal and had a 6-1 lead in corner kicks. Jonathan Price earned nine saves in goal for Southern, while Rob Stansbury recorded eight and Hodges had three for Allegany.

Defensive standouts for Southern were Nick Glotfelty, Chad Lovett, Bo Jonson, and Michael Schwalm.

In Tuesday's huge win over Bishop Walsh, it was Dietzel and Andrews who combined for both of Southern's goals, and both were scored in less than a half-minute.

Dietzel scored off an assist by Andrews with 16:51 remaining in the first half to give Southern a 1-0 advantage. It took just 26 seconds for the Rams to score again, this time by Andrews off a feed from Dietzel.

An unassisted goal by Paul Ruddell with 10:33 left in the match averted a shutout for the Spartans.

Each team was credited with 14 shots on goal, and the Rams finished with a 3-2 edge in corner kicks. Price had six saves for the Rams and John Meyers stopped eight shots for the Spartans.

The Southern junior varsity dropped the preliminary match, 1-0, as BW Jayvee Jason Miller scored the only goal of that contest. Brandon Heselbach had six saves in goal for the Rams.

The Rams, who are coached by Tom Powers, Mel Menker, and Bill Lovett, will play again this Friday at Northern. The junior varsity match will kick off at 6 p.m., and the varsity will get under way at 7:30.

AVENGING AN EARLIER LOSS to the Allegany Campers Saturday night at home were the Southern High School varsity boys, who crushed the visitors from Cumberland, 6-0, and upped their season record to 4-2-1 and their Western Maryland Interscholastic League mark to 4-1-1. Above, Ram freshman D.J. Parsons (#2, right foreground) fires a shot past Allegany's Rob Stansbury to record his first-ever high school goal and to put Southern on top 3-0 with less than a minute remaining in the first half. Also identifiable in the photo for Southern is senior Derrick Nelson, who scored Southern's second goal of the evening. In the photo at right, Ram senior Dustin Slider maneuvers around an Alco defender. The Rams also played at Bishop Welsh on Tuesday. See story for details. Photos by John McEwen.

Southern Girls Rip Cats Before Edging Allegany

The first season of girls' soccer at Southern High School is beginning to emerge as an outstanding one, as the Rams crushed visiting Westmar last Thursday, 7-0, and then recorded a big 1-0 victory Tuesday night over Allegany in Cumberland. The pair of Western Maryland Interscholastic League wins upped the Rams' overall season record to 6-1-1 and their WMIL mark to 6-0-1.

Seven different players scored in the easy win over Westmar, with six of those recorded unassisted.

Megen Burner hit the first one for the Rams with 34:12 remaining in the first half. Laura Friend and Krissy Kesner followed with goals at the 19:27 and 17:05 marks to give Southern a 3-0 halftime advantage.

Making it 4-0 was Gina Reeves with an unassisted goal less than two minutes into the second half. Her sister Charlene Reeves followed with an unassisted score at the 26:42 mark.

A goal by Desiree Spady [illegible] gave the Rams a commanding 6-0 lead with 18:20 to play. Coaches Nan Gangler and Ron Petrella then pulled Becky Martin from the Ram goalkeeper spot, and she scored the final point of the night with an unassisted shot at the 5:02 mark.

Southern finished with a 16-0 spread in shots on goal and recorded a 9-1 lopsided lead in corner kicks. Martin had to make only one save in the match from her keeper spot, while Westmar keeper Ashley McCutcheon stopped a dozen shots by the Rams.

Martin had to be carried from the field in Tuesday night's game against Allegany at Greenway Stadium after she sustained a severe thigh bruise. Taking her place was Gina Reeves, who also scored the only goal of the night to give the Rams their sixth win of the season.

Reeves' goal was recorded, unassisted, with 6:13 remaining in the first half. She also preserved the Rams' one-goal victory when she successfully stopped a penalty kick by [illegible] assist by Gina Reeves [illegible] Campers.

The Rams were outgunned by a 6-5 margin in shots, and Allegany finished with a 6-4 edge in corner kicks. Martin and Reeves combined for five saves, while Brooke Payton had six saves for the Campers. The loss dropped Alco to 2-5 overall and 2-4 in the WMIL.

Southern will return to action on Monday at Westmar for a make-up match with the Wildcats. Kick-off is set for 7 p.m. The Rams will then host cross-county rival Northern next Wednesday. The Rams and Huskies played to a double-overtime, 1-1 tie in their first meeting.

Drill-less Dentistry

New drill-less technology gently sprays away decay

YANT

There is a new dental instrument out called the KCP. Is it really a painless replacement for the drill? The term "painless" is probably an overstatement. However, the KCP™ Kinetic Cavity Preparation system can often be used without anesthesia. And though it doesn't replace the drill completely, it does provide an alternative way to prepare many teeth for fillings. It is especially beneficial in the treatment of children and in the care of patients whose medical conditions restrict the use of anesthesia.

How does it work?

Minute particles, almost too small to be seen with the naked eye, are carried to the tooth by a stream of air, gently and precisely spraying away decay. Think of it as a microscopically precise miniature sandblaster. There is little or no vibration and no whining sound.

Is it safe?

Absolutely. The particles used are alpha alumina, a pure, biocompatible food grade substance long used in medicine and food. Only a tiny amount is actually used in each procedure and most of it is removed by an evacuation system. Laboratory tests show that patients would have to undergo about 26 typical 20-30 second KCP procedures in order to inhale enough alpha alumina to equal the weight of one grain of table salt.

Is every patient treated with the KCP?

No. The drill is still needed to prepare teeth for crowns, remove silver-colored fillings and perform a number of other important procedures. And the KCP system is not used to treat soft tissue such as the gums. When the procedure does call for the KCP, it may be used in combination with other instruments such as the drill.

How can I learn more about the KCP?

If you call our office at 301-334-2225, we'll be happy to answer your questions.

Husky Booters Fall To University, Mount Savage

The struggling Northern High School boys' soccer team dropped a pair of matches this past week and is still working to record its first victory of the season. The Huskies were topped by visiting University High of Morgantown last Friday, 6-2, and were blanked by Mount Savage, 6-0, Tuesday night in a Western Maryland Interscholastic League game, also at the Cove. The losses gave the Huskies an 0-7-1 mark for the season.

Details of the match with University were sketchy; however, those scoring for the Huskies were Mike Fletcher on an unassisted goal and Josh Gilpin off a feed by Fletcher.

Leading the Mount Savage Indians against the Huskies to their seventh win in nine matches was Joe Shafter, who scored a pair of unassisted goals in Tuesday night's contest.

Shaffer put the first point of the match on the board about five minutes into the first half. Brian Dehaven then scored an unassisted goal about 10 minutes later to make it 2-0, and Karl Hartig's unassisted shot with 12:23 remaining gave the Indians a 3-0 lead. A successful penalty shot by Adam Moulden with 9:35 left put the visitors up 4-0 for the first half.

Shaffer's second goal of the night came with 31:28 remaining in the first half, and Cass Martin added an insurance goal, unassisted, with 16:24 remaining.

The Indians finished with a 19-7 advantage in shots on goal and a 2-0 edge in corner kicks. Jimmy Kenner recorded 14 saves in goal for the Huskies and Adam Stafford finished with six for Mt. Savage.

The Huskies will host the Southern Rams this Friday night, with the jayvees' match slated to get underway at 6 p.m. and the varsity contest at 7:30. Northern will play at Bishop Walsh next Tuesday.

Kenner, Butler Lead Huskies Over Sentinels

Goals by Kera Kenner and Brooke Butler powered the Northern High School girls' soccer team to a big 2-1 Western Maryland Interscholastic League victory over visiting Fort Hill last night, which upped the Huskies' overall record to 5-1-1.

Kenner, a midfielder for Coach Katie Kane, put the first point of the match on the board with 31 minutes left in the first half when she sent a shot from the right side over the head of the Sentinel keeper.

Butler doubled the Huskies' total when she scored an unassisted goal at the 16-minute mark.

The Sentinels (3-5) averted a shutout with a goal at the 37-minute mark of the second half. The rest of the match was all defense.

"It was a real defensive struggle, mostly because of the rain and a slick field," stated Coach Kane.

Further details of the match, such as shots on goal and corner kicks, were unavailable this morning.

The Huskies' next match is tentatively scheduled for Saturday at Bishop Walsh with a 4 p.m. kickoff; however, the schools are attempting to find a new date. Fans may contact Coach Kane at Northern on Friday (746-8668) for an update.

The Huskies will travel to Oakland next Wednesday for a return match with the Southern Rams. The two teams tied in a thriller at Northern.

Local Racquetball League Forming; Tourney Slated

The 1998-99 Winter Racquetball League, which plays its matches at the Board Room Health & Racquet Club in Oakland, is now forming. The league games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday nights. A sign-up sheet is currently posted at the courts, or interested persons may telephone Mike Stephens at 301-387-6604. League play will get under way November 10.

The league is also now recruiting players for a double-elimination tournament, slated for November 3, 5, and 7. The entrance fee is $10 per player. Competition will be held in A, B, and C divisions for all skill levels.

For more information about the tournament, persons may also contact Stephens at the above number, or telephone Stan Eggleston at 301-334-1677.

Rams Get Offense Going, Upset Mountain Lions

After several weeks of frustration, particularly with an offensive unit that just could not put the ball in the end zone, the Southern High Rams finally proved last Friday night that they did indeed have a good football team, as they recorded 34 points to upset visiting Tucker County, a team that came into the contest with a 5-0 record and ranked third in West Virginia's AA ratings. The Rams built an impressive 28-0 lead in the first half of play and then held on in the second half to record a 34-27 win.

The contest featured an eerie deja vu, as its conclusion was almost identical to that of the previous week's game against Grafton. The Rams lost that contest. 13-12, as Grafton took possession of the ball on a kickoff with 1:47 remaining, marched down the field, and with .8 second left, and after several tries inside the Rams' three-yard line, scored a touchdown and an extra point to win. Last week, Tucker County began its final possession of the game with 1:47 remaining on the clock, marched downfield inside the Rams' 11-yard line, and had several opportunities to score in the waning seconds. The final attempt came after the clock had expired because of a face-mask penalty. But this time the Ram defensive unit kept the Mountain Lions from scoring and preserved the big victory.

T - Derrick Simmons 23 pass from Jason Hetrick (Brett Goughnour kick), 2:06.

S - Josh Bosley 19 run (run failed), 0:00.

Fourth Quarter

T - Derrick Simmons 14 pass from Jason Hetrick (kick failed), 4:56.

Senior running back Josh Bosley had the best game of his career, as he rushed for 166 yards and four touchdowns, while co-back Jason Weaver picked up 94 yards on 16 attempts. Nick Dolan also had an outstanding night for the Rams on both sides of the ball.

Bosley put the first Ram points on the board with touchdown runs of 37 and 20 yards, both in the first quarter. Dolan ran successfully for the extra two points on the second TD to give Southern a 14-0 lead by the end of the quarter.

Dolan then made it 20-0 with a 15-yard touchdown run early in the second quarter, and Bosley scored his third six-pointer of the night on a two-yard carry with 4:32 left in the first half. Dolan again ran for the conversion to make it 28-0.

The Mountain Lions got a major emotional lift late in the first half when Jason Hetrick hit Wes Lambert with a five-yard touchdown pass with just 25 seconds remaining. Hetrick connected with Derrick Simmons for the extra two points, making the score 28-8 at halftime.

Coach Bill Haddox and the Lions capitalized on that momentum in the third quarter by scoring two touchdowns in a row. Marshall Morris capped one drive with a one-yard touchdown carry, and Simmons hauled in a 23-yard TD pass from Hetrick. Brett Goughnour's conversion kick closed the scoring gap to 28-21 with 2:06 remaining in the third quarter.

After sputtering for most of the third quarter, the Ram offense regained its composure and put a crucial final touchdown on the board when Bosley ran to the end zone from 19 yards out with no time left in the third. The score was set up by a huge, 40-yard, third-down pass from Justin Liller to Jason Rohrbaugh, which put the ball on the Lions' 15. The run for the two-point conversion failed, and Southern led 34-21.

Tucker scored again with 4:56 left in the game when Simmons received a 14-yard TD pass from Hetrick. The kick for the conversion was no good.

The Mountain Lions stopped the Rams on their next drive to give them one final scoring opportunity, but Hetrick's pass into the end zone was incomplete and the game was over.

The Ram defense limited the Lions to just 45 yards on 22 carries on the ground, although Hetrick hit 13 of 30 passes for 203 yards. The Rams finished with a 342-248 advantage in total offense.

Leading the Southern defensive unit were Robert Unger with 11 tackles, including four sacks, and Billy Stoner with a dozen tackles and a sack. All of their sacks were accomplished in the fourth quarter.

"The key play that really helped Tucker was the touchdown right before halftime," Southern coach Tom Woods said. "It really gave them a lot of momentum in the third quarter.

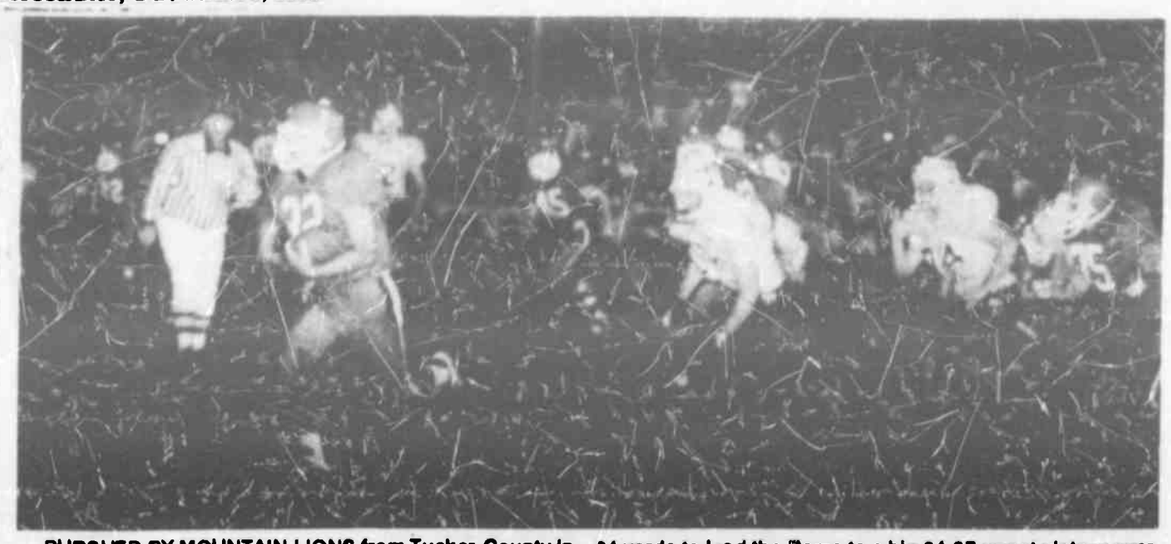
"The key play of the game for us was Justin's 40-yard pass to Jason Rohrbaugh," he said.

The final two minutes of the game were not pleasant for Woods and his staff, however. "When we looked up at the clock and saw 1:47 when Tucker took possession, we couldn't believe that the same thing might happen to us two weeks in a row," he said. "And then when we thought we had won the game on a quarterback sack, but got the face-mask penalty to give them one more chance, we again thought it might be the same outcome as the week before. But our defense did its job. It was a great game and a huge win for our kids."

Woods believed that the Mountain Lions came into the game over-confident, as he hoped they would. "They were 5-0 with practically all seniors and we were 1-3," he said. "It's always tough for a coach to make their players not be over confident in those circumstances."

Woods and his staff are in exactly the same spot this week, as the Rams are preparing to host an 0-5 team. Northwest is a new school in Montgomery County and, despite its winless record, Woods is quick to point out that this team's schedule is extremely difficult. "They are 2A like we are, but they play in a really good 4A league," he said. "Up in our area, they might have a 4-1 or even a 5-0 record."

Since Northwest is a brand new school, there are no seniors on the football squad. But Woods said that game films reveal a high degree of athleticism on the squad, which has him concerned.



"They really look good on film," he said, "and they have some outstanding skill-position players."

Northwest runs a wide open offense that features almost nothing but passing. "They throw the ball about 85% of the time, or 30-35 times per game," Woods said. "Fortunately, our secondary has faced a lot of passing the past two weeks."

Doing all that passing is sophomore quarterback Brian Shaw (6-2, 210), and his favorite targets are junior tight end George Hackey (6-2, 210) and sophomore wide-outs Anwar Phillips (6-1, 175) and Kenny Davis (6-2, 180). The top rusher is junior French Pope (5-7, 165).

Northwest's 4-3 defense is led by Hackey at middle linebacker, sophomore lineman Brad Stewart (6-2, 260) and Michael Benton (6-0, 205), and junior defensive end Michael Theberge (6-2, 205).

Friday's kickoff at the Southern athletic field has been moved from 7:30 to 7 p.m. Preceding the game will be the annual SHS Football Hall of Fame induction ceremony, which will get under way at about 6:45. Named to the list this year will be former Ram standouts Mike Bittinger, J.R. Gibson, Dave Terrant, and Al Marucci.

PURSUED BY MOUNTAIN LIONS from Tucker County in theee photos are Southern High School senior running backs Joeh Bosley, above, and Jason Weever, below, during last Friday's game at the Southern field. Bosley rushed for 166 yards and four touchdowns, while Weaver gained 94 yards to lead the Rams to a big 34-27 upset victory over the Lions. Tucker County came to Oakland with a 5-0 record and the third-place ranking in the state of West Virginia AA standings. The win upped the Rams' record to 2-3 and kept their playoff hopes alive. Vikes, Raiders Will Meet For Youth Title

The Parsons Vikings and the Oakland Raiders will meet each other this Sunday, Oct. 11, to determine the champion of the Oakland Youth Football League's 1998 season, NFL Division. The Vikings, who are undefeated on the season, topped the Oakland Ravens, 34-22, and the Raiders edged the Oakland Jets in overtime, 13-12, on Saturday to earn berths in the title contest.

The championship game will be played in Parsons, with the kickoff set for 2 p.m.

In NCAA Division action Saturday, the Gregg's Pharmacy Mountaineers maintained their unbeaten record with a 46-32 win over the Team One Terps, and also topped the Rinker Construction Nittany Lions, 39-32. The F.O.P. Fighting Irish stopped the First United Buckeyes, 45-31, and the Gonder Insurance Tigers defeated the Terps, 35-14.

Standings in the division are: Mountaineers, 9-0; Irish and Tigers, 6-3; Lions, 4-5; and Terps and Buckeyes, 1-8.

Games scheduled for this Sunday, Oct. 11, will pit the Mountaineers against the Buckeyes, and the Terps against the Lions, both at noon. The Irish will then play the Tigers at 1 p.m.

Women Golfers Meet For Lunch, Elect Officers

The Women's Association of the Oakland Golf Club closed its season with a luncheon meeting on September 24, and among the agenda items was the election of officers for 1999. Elected were: June Bray, president; Julia Sines, vice president; Carolyn Deverse, secretary; Sherry Grant, treasurer; and Cheryl Wotherspoon, corresponding secretary. Concluding a two-year term as president was Marion Boehmer.

The association wrapped up various old business items and heard year-end reports from committee heads. A 50-50 drawing was won by Angie Bosley. The group noted its appreciation to The Republican newspaper for publishing its news and play results throughout the 1998 season.

Any woman interested in joining the associatiou and/or obtaining more information is invited to attend another luncheon meeting next April 29, 1999, which will kick off the 1999 season.

Huskies Fall In Defensive Battle With Beall, 19-6

"It was a pretty even football game throughout," Phil Carr, Northern High School's varsity coach commented after his team's 19-6 loss to Beall Friday night. "We went toe-to-toe and the score doesn't really indicate how close the game was; the two teams were just a play apart all night, but our guys just didn't execute like they're capable of." The loss gives Northern a 3-2 record heading into tomorrow's match-up with Turkeyfoot in Confluence, Pa.

Beall put the first points on the Huskies' home scoreboard in the opening seconds of Friday's contest, as the Mountaineers' Ryan Brodbeck scored a touchdown on a 45-yard option play on the second play of the game. Mike King booted the extra point to make the score 7-0.

Northern retaliated in the second quarter when the defense stripped the ball from Brodbeck, with defensive back Adam Brenneman making the fumble recovery. The Huskies capitalized on this turnover when tailback Rob Dozier took advantage of several good blocks, and broke a tackle in the secondary, to scamper in from 23 yards out. The extra-point kick attempt was blocked, leaving the Huskies down 7-6.

7-60	Penalties-Yards	5-45
5-1	Fumbles-Lost	1-0
240	Total Offense	167

A one-yard touchdown plunge by Beall's Tom Leasure with four minutes remaining in the second quarter, followed by a blocked extra-point attempt, took the Mountaineers' lead to 13-6 at the half.

Both defenses hunkered down in the second half to basically stymie the respective offenses. "We stopped them three times on fourth down in the second half," Carr said, "and they stopped us twice on fourth down. A nice play by one of their defenders to break up a pass on our second fourth-down attempt came with just over two minutes to go in the game, and they followed up on that by breaking Nick Marsh through our defensive line for a 57-yard touchdown run." Marsh's score was followed by a failed point-after kick attempt, and the game ended with Beall up 19-6.

Dozier gained 105 yards in 19 carries for the Huskies, accounting for the lion's share of Northern's 167 yards of total offense.

"I told the team, 'Beall came to win, and we came to play'," Carr commented. "That was the difference. Our kids are disappointed, but hopefully they've learned from the experience. This week has been our most intense week of practices so far this year as we get ready for our next game."

Looking ahead, Carr noted that Turkeyfoot likes to run a Delaware Wing-T offense, utilizing a quarterback, a pair of halfbacks, and a tailback to make for a crowded backfield with lots of distracting motion. "It's worked for them in the past," Carr said. "They can run a lot of dives, options, and counter plays, which are dangerous misdirections where they will send two running backs in one direction with the ball, only to hand it off to the third back coming across the field in the opposite direction.

"We're hoping to hold their ground game and force them to throw," Carr continued, "although they do have a dangerous receiver in 6-1, 185-lb. Rich Parnell. He has good hands, fine end speed. Another standout of theirs is offensive guard and middle linebacker Marcus Rugg, at 5-11, 260 pounds. He and his cousin, 6-0, 270-lb. Amos Rugg, who helps Marcus anchor their offensive line, help Turkeyfoot outsize us. What we're going to rely on is our quickness, which has helped us get past their line in the past."

The day game is scheduled to begin at 1:45 tomorrow in Confluence.

Northern's Duffers Take WMIL Title With Strong Team Play

"We had a great day at the WMIL (Western Maryland Invitational League)," Northern High School golf team coach Harv Speicher commented after his Huskies took the championship at Maplehurst Country Club in Frostburg. The Monday match saw NHS come out on top of the nine-team field with a 353 team score, followed by Beall High's 370 and Southern High School's 384. Northern's second match of the week came yesterday at the Wisp, and the Huskies took a quadrangular with a 167 score to take their record to 26-1-1.

Key to Northern's success at the WMIL tourney was an excellent all-around team performance. "All six of our golfers broke 100," said Speicher, "and we were the only team there to have more than three players do so. We have a number of kids who can shoot a low score, while most teams only have a couple of players they have to depend on. Our balance is our biggest strength, coupled with the experienced players we have who came back from last year's team."

Senior Matt Settle led the Husky charge with an 84, finishing second in individual standings by a nine-stroke margin behind low medalist J.C. Armstrong and his three-over-par 75 performance. Rams' senior Kane Wengerd placed third with an 86.

Northern placed five golfers in the top nine of the 52-player field. Sophomore A.J. Thomas tied for fourth with an 87, Rob Taylor took seventh with a 90, Greg Speicher placed eighth with a 92, and Ryan Butler was in ninth place with a 95. The sixth Husky team member, Kenny Wampler, placed 12th with a 98.

Southern's Wengerd was joined in the top 10 by teammate Justin Stevens, who shot an 86, while Bryson Meyers finished 13th with a 99.

The top six finishers were named to the All-WMIL team, as Armstrong, Settle, Wengerd, and Fort Hill's Jacob Growden earned spots on the team for the second consecutive year. Thomas and Beall's Derek Yates rounded out the honorary squad.

Yesterday's squadrangular saw the Huskies outdistance second place Beall by 21 strokes. The Mountaineers shot a 188, Southern tallied a 191, and Fort Hill came in last with a 202.

Low medalist was Northern's A.J. Thomas, who carded a 38, ahead of teammate Taylor who shot a 41, tied for second with Beall's Armstrong. Southern's Wengerd had a 43, while Speicher and Butler each had 44s for the Huskies. Paugh turned in a 48 for the Rams, and teammate Justin DiSimone shot a 49. Jordan Swerbinsky shot a 51 for Southern.

"The Wisp is the hardest course in the area," Speicher commented, "and we're lucky to be able to practice on it daily. We really have to hit precise tee shots there to do well, and that precision carries over to the other courses, making us comfortable and confident. We can't thank Jerry Geisler and the Wisp enough for all of the support, it's been a big part of our success in the three years we've had a golf program here at Northern."

Speicher's Huskies will host Westmar on Monday afternoon. The Garrett County Championship follows next Thursday at the Wisp, when the Huskies and the Rams go head to head for the county bragging rights. Play begins on each day at 4 p.m.

Southern's Golf Team Splits In Regular Matches

The golf team of Southern High School dropped a match to Keyser this past Thursday, then came back to take a quadrangular over Frankfort, Bishop Walsh, and Allegany on Tuesday. The WMIL tournament intervened on Monday, in which the Rams finished third in a field of nine, behind Northern and Beall (see Northern golf coverage for WMIL results).

The Rams' 178 was seven strokes off Keyser's winning 171 at the conclusion of play at Polish Pines Country Club last week. Kane Wengerd led Southern with a 38, while Keyser's Joe Farrell shot a 37 to take low medalist honors.

Wengerd and his teammates roared back in the quad match-up at Cumberland, as the senior shot a 42 to lead the Rams to a 202 stroke finish. Frankfort followed with a 209, Bishop Walsh had a 210, and Allegany finished fourth with a 224.

Southern's published schedule shows the Rams traveling to Preston High for a triangular against the hosts and University High of Morgantown this afternoon. The Garrett County Championship follows Thursday at the Wisp, when the Rams take on the Huskies. Play begins at 4 p.m. each day.

Huskies' JV Defeated By Beall, 20-6

Northern's junior varsity football squad still seeks its first win, but the Huskies had a bright spot in Monday's 20-6 loss to Beall when Matt Layman scampered 95 yards for a score in the second quarter.

Beall had opened the scoring on a five-yard run by Zach Roberts, which was followed by a missed point-after kick attempt. Layman's long distance run tied the score at six.

Beall's Chuck Carter lit up the scoreboard with a seven yard run in the second quarter, followed by a two-point conversion run attempt which failed, and a 94 yard touchdown run in the second half, which was paired with a successful two-point conversion on a Chuck Whetstone run.

Behind some fine blocking, Carter finished with 150 yards on the night.

Beall	8	6	8	0	- 22

B - Zach Robarts 5 run (kick failed).

N - Matt Layman 95 run (kick failed).

B - Chuck Carter 7 run (run failed).

B - Carter 94 run (Chuck Whetstone run).

Runnin' Rams Win First, Second In Area CC Meet

The girls' cross country team of Southern High School captured the Area Championship Tuesday afternoon at Allegany College in Cumberland, while the defending state champion boys' team from Southern finished in second place. The boys' squad was without the service of one of its top runners, Eric Rexrode, who is sidelined for health reasons.

The Southern girls, coached by Louis Newcomb, finished with 46 points to defeat Hampshire with 60, Allegany with 73, Keyser with 83, Westmar with 97, Fort Hill with 151, and Frankfort with 164. All seven members of Southern's team were among the top 23 finishers.

Amy Snyder placed seventh individually with a time of 21:04 to lead the Runnin' Rams, while Erin Hoalcraft, Beth Sauder, and Angie Sincell placed ninth, 10th, and 11th, respectively. Katelyne McBee and Faryn Shaffer were the 14th and 15th finishers, while Keri Strubin placed 23rd.

The top two runners in the girls' race were Susan Davis (18:13) and Jennifer Davis (18:52), both from Hampshire.

Hampshire won the boys' title with 51 team points, followed by the Rams with 58, Frankfort with 85, Westmar with 112, Fort Hill with 121, Keyser with 128, Allegany with 162, and Beall with 166.

The Rams, coached by Carl Booth, were led by Casey McBee, who placed fourth with a time of 16:57. Beau Gibson was sixth in 17:15, and Rusty Strubin and Ted Wolf finished 11th and 12th, respectively.

Zach Bittinger of Westmar won the boys' individual title with a time of 16:16, one secoad ahead of West Garrett of East Hardy.

Southern's Matt Frederick finished sixth and Steve Eiswert placed ninth in the boys' junior varsity race, which was won by Matthew Gallery of Hampshire.

Southern also competed in the 16th annual Frostburg State University Invitational, in which both Southern teams placed eighth out of dozens of teams. Beau Gibson placed 12th to lead the Southern boys.

John Handley High School won the boys' race, while Sherando captured the girls' team title.

The Rams will host Preston in a meet next Tuesday at the Broadford Park course, beginning at 4 p.m. or shortly thereafter, which will conclude their regular season.

Rams' Netters On The Upswing, Take Second Win

Southera High School's volleyball team faltered in the Frankfort (W.Va.) Invitational Tournament on Saturday, but roared back to sweep Oldtown Tuesday with the leadership of Jennifer Teagarden, who tallied 19 service points. After a frustrating start, the Rams now have a pair of victories to their credit, against six losses.

After pool play among the Frankfort tourney participants was completed, Southeru was in sixth place with an 0-8 mark for the day. Parkersburg (W.Va.) South eventually downed the hosts in the finals to take the tournament crown.

At Oldtown, Teagarden's fine performance was aided by eight points provided by Keri Niner. Jessica Saturday had nine kills, and Teagarden added three kills.

Southern won the junior varsity match, 15-7, 15-0. Amy Parvack and Nikki Ravenscroft each had six service points.

The Rams are scheduled to host Flintstone tonight, and a road trip to Mt. Savage follows on Wednesday. Both contests begin at 6 p.m.

Lakers' Tide Rising After A Perfect Week; Record Now 14-6

It was five up and five down for the women's volleyball team of Garrett Community College as the Lakers took on and put down all takers for five consecutive wins. Essex, Westmoreland (twice), Community College of Allegheny South Campus, and Beaver were each swamped by the Laker wave, and GCC now stands at 14-6 on the season overall, and 4-2 in Maryland JUCO play.

The week's action opened with a pair of Friday matches on the McHenry court against Essex and Westmoreland, and Erica McBride's 21-service point total led the Lakers to victory in both matches.

Garrett downed Essex in straight games, 15-9, 15-8, and 18-16. McBride had 13 service points and went 20 for 21 on serve with a pair of aces. Melissa Yutzy provided 10 service points, and Andrea Barrick was 25 for 29 on attack with 13 kills. Mindy McCarty, a former Northern High School linchpin, was nine for 11 on serves with two aces, and 15 for 18 on attack with eight kills. Former Southern High School star Sindy Niner tallied six service points, going 12 for 13 from the line with two aces, and was 17 for 20 on attack with a pair of kills.

The Lakers took the nightcap from Westmoreland with scores of 15-7 and 15-7. McBride led in service points again with eight points, going 11 for 12 on serve with one ace and 14 for 16 on attack with eight kills. Kerri Sines, former Husky standout, added seven service points and was 10 for 11 on serve. McCarty had four service points, going six for seven on serve with a pair of aces and 12 for 15 on attack with four kills. Crystal Kimble was a perfect seven for seven from the service line and 10 for 27 on sets with 15 assists.

A trip to West Mifflin, Pa., netted the Lakers their third victory of the week Saturday, as they downed host CCAC by scores of 15-4, 15-7, and 15-8.

Crystal Kimble scored 12 service points with one ace, and had 17 assists, while McCarty tallied 11 points, 10 kills, and 12 assists. McBride added eight service points and a pair of aces, and also had eight kills.

A road rematch with Westmoreland on Tuesday resulted in a three-game sweep of the hosts (game scores were not available). McBride's 15 for 16 serving performance on the night for 11 points and one ace led the Lakers to victory. Lana Groves was 12 for 13 with eight service points and Sines was nine for nine with eight service points. A strong attack from Barrick, who mounted an 18 for 22 tally with nine kills, was aided by Kimble's 15 for 15 performance with seven kills, Niner's 15 for 18 total with five kills, and McBride's 14 for 21 total with five kills. McCarty was 41 for 52 in sets for the evening with 16 assists, while Kimble wa 28 for 27 with nine assists.

At home against Beaver last night the Lakers proved inhospitable hosts by downing their guests 15-1, 17-15, and 18-16.

Thirteen service points by Barrick led Garrett's offense, as she went 17 for 21 with six aces, and four for four on the attack with two kills. Kimble had nine service points, going 17 for 17 with two aces. McCarty went 24 for 28 on the attack with 15 kills, and tallied seven service points. McBride had 12 klls and was 28 for 32 on the attack, two for three on blocks, a pair of which resulted in scores for the Lakers; she also provided five service points.

Garrett's next outing comes Monday evening as the Lakers host Hagerstown Community College and CCAC South. Play gets underway at 6 p.m.

Leverenz Wins Pair Of Races For Dickinson

Rachel Leverenz, former multi-sport standout at Northern High School, continues to lead the Dickinson College women's cross country team, as the freshman recorded a pair of victories in races this past week.

Leverenz was the top finisher for the third time in four races last week when she won the Littie 3 individual title against Franklin & Marshall, and Gettysburg colleges. There were 49 runners in the competition, with Levereuz finishing the 3.1-mile course in 19 minutes, 30.5 seconds.

Her second victory of the week was in a race against Elizabethtown and Messiah colleges last Friday, as she crossed the finish line first among 38 runners. Her time was 19:28.

Leverenz, who was an honor student at Northern, is the daughter of Neil and Jann Leverenz, Accident.

SIMON BIRCH

Rated PG - Running time: 1:53

One of my favorite novels of all time happens to be A Prayer For Owen Meany by John Irving. Therefore, I must strive to be objective when judging the film version, Simon Birch, directed by Mark Steven Johnson, who also adapted Irving's novel for the screen. Comparing the film to the book would be unfair since the story must be considerably boiled down to be told within two hours. Owen Meany is a rich, complex tale involving morals and religion, which if produced in toto would be 12 hours long. So as a film, Simon Birch hits on the major points made in the novel, and though the story is vastly simplified, it is still quite meaningful and enjoyable.

Simon Birch is a boy born small, with what the narrator refers to as a "wrecked voice." That narrator is Jim Carrey, the adult version of Joe Wenteworth, Simon's boyhood friend. We only see Carrey for a few minutes at the beginning and end of the film, but his voiceovers run throughout, explaining the long story of why Simon is the reason he, Joe, believes in God.

Although 12-year-old Simon (Ian Michael Smith) is constantly made fun of for being physically diminutive, he feels God has a purpose for him to fulfill, that he is "God's instrument." Meanwhile, Joe (Joseph Mazzello) suffers from his own embarassment: He is a bastard, born out of wedlock to his attractive but mysterious mother Rebecca (Ashley Judd). No one but Rebecca knows who Joe's father was, and she isn't telling. When she brings home an affable boyfriend named Ben Goodrich (Oliver Platt), Joe is unimpressed, but Simon likes him. Simon's parents never regarded him as anything other than a freak and a bother, so he knows the value of an adult who respects children as people. This is why he loves Rebecca, although he admits he also likes her breasts.

When a freak accident takes Rebecca's life, Joe becomes obsessed with knowing the identity of his father. He and Simon speculate constantly about which member of the small town population could be the man who impregnated Rebecca all those years ago. The day he finds out is the day that turns his entire life, and his faith, around. And he has Simon Birch to thank for it.

This movie is quirky and unpredictable, with pretty cinema and beautiful music. Johnson's pacing is rather uneven, though, and the objectives of the characters sometimes get bogged down in lengthy plot digressions. The acting on the part of 15-year-old Mazzelo is real and quite touching, and Smith does a fair job in his debut performance, with an awesomely difficult character. It's clear he was chosen for this role more for his physical appearance than his acting talent. Judd is breezy and attractive, and Platt's growing relationship with the boys is sensitive and at the same time strong.

Simon Birch is a touching story, painted beautifully on the silver canvas by cinematographer Aaron E. Schneider. It is not destined to be a box-office smash, but shows off some of the subtler talents of several up-and-coming Hollywood artists, on both sides of the screen. ★★★★

Rated PG - Running time: 1:17

For a time now, it has seemed that everything Steven Spielberg touches turns to gold. And it looks like it's gonna stay that way. While he is still riding high on the critical acclaim of his summer blockbuster Saving Private Ryan, his company, Dreamworks SKG, has released a spectacular computer-animated cartoon that is sure to give Disney's upcoming A Bug's Life a run for its sugar grains. Antz, with its impeccable graphics and star-studded cast of voices, is colorful, visual, and spectacular throughout, with a great story and humor for people of all ages.

Written by Todd Alcott and Chris Weitz, and directed by Eric Darnell and Lawrence Guterman, all relative newcomers, Antz may not have been "touched" by Spielberg in any other capacity than being produced by Dreamworks, but the lead character's unmistakable resemblance to E.T. is clearly a nod in his direction.

That lead character is an ant called Z-4195, or "Z" for short. Played by Woody Allen, Z is just as neurotic and self-searching as any of Allen's characters, suffering from feelings of insignificance and inadequacy among his millions of co-workers. His friend Azteca (Jennifer Lopez) cheerfully whacks away with her pick axe (yes, ants use pick axes) and tries to convince him to go with the flow.

While Z is pondering his station in life, the queen (Anne Bancroft) is trying to convince her daughter, Princess Bala (Sharon Stone) to accept her destiny: to be the next queen and the wife of army leader General Mandible (Gene Hackman). Yes, apparently, ants get married. Mandible, though he defers properly to the queen, has secret plans to destroy the masses and move his elite forces to a different, stronger colony. His aide, Colonel Cutter (Christopher Walken) is dubious of this idea, but has learned the first ant rule: Never question authority.

Out for a little aphid juice at the ant bar, Z meets Weaver (Sylvester Stallone), an army ant who envies Z for his access to those foxy ant workers. When he casts an eye on Azteca, Weaver makes a deal with Z to switch places for a day. Little does Z know that tomorrow is the day of Mandible's planned assault on a colony of termites. He just wants to be in the grand review so that he can have another place at Bala, who danced with him while "slumming it" in the bar.

Z comes back a battle hero and sole survivor of the termite attack, mainly because he kept out of the way during the fighting. With his newfound fame, he launches an attempt to overcome the proletarian mentality that plagues his huge clan, and to make Bala see him as something more than just another worker.

Antz is a great deal of fun and full of spectacularly colorful images, with many cameo appearances by other celebs, including Danny Glover as a good-hearted soldier and Dan Aykroyd and Jane Curtin as a couple of snooty bees. The story of Z and his friends works on many levels, with action scenes to keep the kids interested and lots of hilarious jokes aimed at Mom and Dad's generation. It is unmistakably an "American" film, carrying the message (if you want to look that deeply) that liberty and free choice are necessary rights to be sought and cherished by all. Even ants.

Antz is rated PG, mainly because of some "hells" and "damns," and some cartoon violence. But it is one of those films that deserves to be seen on the big screen. So go now. If you miss it before it goes to video, you'll be sure to suffer a sinking feeling in your thorax. ★★★★★

A NIGHT AT THE ROXBURY

Rated PG-13 - Running time: 1:27

Little did we know in 1975 that the offbeat NBC television show known as Saturday Night Live would still be running a quarter of a century later. The show and its producer, Lorne Michaels, have won Emmy after Emmy, spawning hundreds of hilarious sketches, dozens of memorable characters, and several feature films. The success of The Blues Brothers (1980), the first of the SNL spinoff movies, gave the impression that the feature industry would be a lucrative avenue for ideas based on the show's sketches. But most of the subsequent SNL-based films have been forgettable (with the possible exception of Wayne's World (1992), which did cause a ripple). A Night At The Roxbury, starring SNL veterans Will Ferrell and Chris Kattan, is definitely no exception. Though the sketches featuring the two head-bopping losers have sometimes been hysterical on the show, the premise just doesn't translate to a feature film.

Why is this? It's because the whole point of these guys is that they have no lives. They have no personalities, they have almost never had any lines except the occasional "What's up? Wanna dance?" spoken to an attractive but disgusted female who subsequently gets bounced off the set by their overexcited dancing style. Trying to infuse these characters with a story is killing the whole joke. What works in the three-minute scene is that we don't know who they are or why they got there. But in this film, written by Ferrell and Steve Koren, their lame story is explained in painfully shallow terms.

The guys are two brothers, Steve and Doug Butabi, whose father (Dan Hedaya) runs a silk flower shop in New York City. The boys work there part time, but just like John Travolta's character in Saturday Night Fever, they only work to make money for club hopping. Unlike Travolta's character, however, they never get into the clubs they want. They usually stand in line outside, trying to look cool in their shiny silk shirts, rubbing their noses and hitting on women. Finally, Doug (Kattan), "the smart one," gets an idea: If they can't get into the Roxbury, they will open a club of their own.

This is all well and good, but their father has other plans. He wants Steve (Ferrell), "the looker," to marry the girl-next-door, Emily (fellow SNL-er Molly Shannon), whose father (Dwayne Hickman) owns a lamp shop. Then the two stores can be combined and Steve and Emily can be co-owners of the first lamp-and-flower boutique in history. Emily, who claims to have a crush on Steve, is all for this idea, but Steve is not interested.

Finally, through an accident, they do get into the Roxbury and are therefore mistaken by everyone as important. For a short period they enjoy the sweet life of celebrity, and try to implement their plan to get a new club started. But they are soon discovered to be the losers that they are, and are back on the street in no time.

Despite the fact that Ferrell and Kattan are two of the funniest, most energetic people on SNL right now, this film's story is pointless and most attempts at humor fall flat. Directors John Fortenberry and Peter Markle do nothing to help the situation, presumably because they feel Ferrell and Kattan know what they're doing, trying to breathe life into characters that have none. But these guys are meant to be monosyllabic, two-dimensional cutouts. Forcing them to live longer than five minutes is too painful to watch. ★½

WHAT DREAMS MAY COME

There have been a number of films that speculated about what awaits us all after we leave this plane of exisitence, and many of them have dealt with a protagonist who breaks the rules of heaven to seek out a lover on the other side. Some memorables include Heaven Can Wait (1978), Made in Heaven (1987), Ghost (1990), and, earlier this year, City Of Angels. And the latest in this genre is Vincent Ward's What Dreams May Come, a dark romance about the impressionistic view of heaven by a man who loved art almost as much as he loved his wife.

The first thing that must be said about this film its that its use of color is astounding. The combination of majestic scenery and exquisite computer graphics makes a nice blend between reality and fantasy, using vibrant colors to represent life (heaven) while black and white stand for death (hell). Unfortunately, Ward's treatment is heavy on imagery and light on meaning. While beautiful to look at, the film is so full of trite sentimentality and overdramatic brooding that the subject matter is undermined. The fact that almost every character cries at some time or other should be a telling point.

The first 20 minutes of this movie, adapted from Richard Matheson's novel by Ronald Bass, is like an extra-sappy Hallmark commercial. We meet Chris Nielsen (Robin Williams) and his artist wife Annie (Annabella Sciorra) when they are newly in love, and then move forward about 15 years to when they have two teenagers, Ian (Josh Paddock) and Marie (Jessica Brooks). The family scenes are so sugary-sweet, we can't help knowing that we're being set up for the fall. Chris and Annie are devastated when the kids are killed, but at least they still have each other.

After Chris has his own tragic accident, he falls into the beautiful land of oil paint that is his heaven. He is like an ant walking around on a still-wet Monet painting, squishing huge globs of blue and red paint off the flowers and into his fingers. Soon he meets Aloert, his guardian angel (Cuba Gooding Jr.), who leads him around explaining the ins and outs of eternal life. This period is visually impactful but overly expository. Albert practically leads Chris around by the hand, explaining everything--not so much for his benefit as for ours.

When Albert learns that Annie has committed suicide, he informs Chris that she won't be strolling down the acrylic path to greet him, because suicides go to "a different place." Natually Chris chooses to go against all odds and travel to hell to retrieve his beloved. He runs into the kids along the way, and learns that the reason he could never reach Annie after they died is the same reason he still can't.

For people who like art and color, What Dreams May Come may be a favorite. For those who like weepy romances, it's sure to please. But if you enjoy a meaty story with a minimum of sentimental manipulation, you may be disappointed. Though Bass's screenplay means well, it tends to overexplain and oversimplify. What should be subtle, thought-provoking issues are big, fat moral lessons driven home with a sledgehammer. Still, it deserves merit simply for being a breathtakingly beautiful treat for the eyes. ★★★★

Frank Harvey To Perform At Oak Park Church

Frank Roughton Harvey, well-known Christian dramatist, will be coming to the Oak Park Church of the Brethren October 18-21. He will be portraying a series of Biblical characters "designed to make the scripture come alive and add new meaning and insight into some of the well-known persons of the Bible."

Harvey was originally ordained by the Methodist Church and was encouraged to continue in the unique field of drama. "He brings a wealth of research to each of the characters he so uniquely portrays and has been invited to perform at churches, colleges, and state and national conventions throughout the world," stated a church spokesperson.

The public is invited to attend these services, which will begin at 7 p.m. each evening. There will be no admission charge; however, a free-will offering will be taken. A nursery will be provided. For more information, persons may call the Oak Park Church at 301-334-2243.

Wolf To Instruct Teaching Poetry To Children Class

The Continuing Education and Training Division of Garrett Community College will offer a course titled Teaching Poetry to Children at the McHenry campus from October 13 to October 29. This course will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

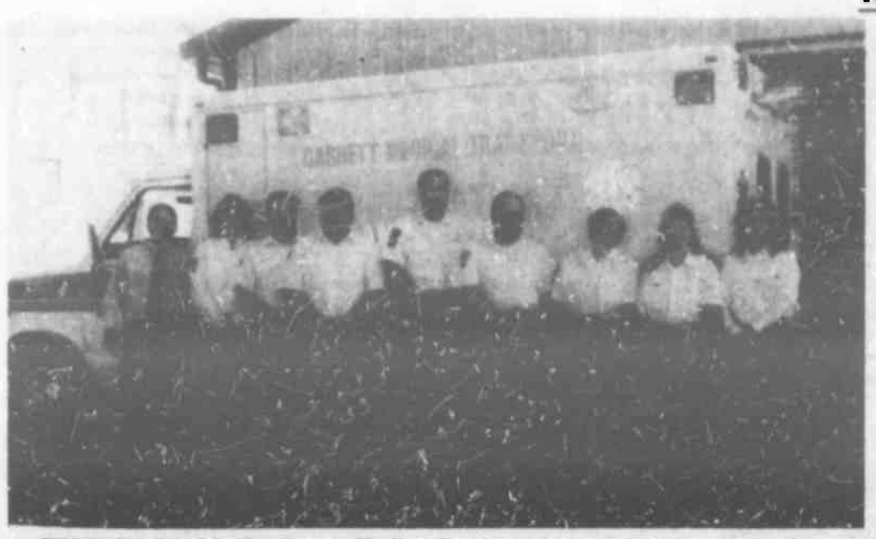
The instructor, Debra Wolf, who is experienced in teaching and writing poetry, has designed this course primarily to assist teachers in stimulating a child's creativity; however, others may find these sessions of equal interest. The class will concentrate on the following objectives: showing children how to read and write poetry, assisting children in making visual aids for poems, utilizing poetry as a tool for reading skills, and helping to enable children to become better writers.

The tuition for this 12-hour course is $26 plus a $4 registration fee. Although pre-registration is preferred, participants may also register at the first session. For additional information and registration, interested persons may contact GCC's Continuing Education and Training Division at 301-387-3069.

All High School Seniors Invited To College Expo

Garrett County high school seniors are invited to attend the Mountain Top College Expo, Monday, Oct. 12, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the McHenry House of the Wisp.

The exposition will offer information to students on opportunities to pursue education following high school graduation. Providing this data will be representatives from about 60 colleges and the armed services.



Financial aid workshops are scheduled to help families take advantage of opportunities to obtain financial assistance. Seniors attending the event will also be able to register to win three $500 scholarships, which are sponsored by several local businesses.

An additional support service will be offered at the expo in the form of the computer program Visions. This tool performs inquiries into two- or four-year colleges, technical schools, and career opportunities.

Expo committee member Joanny Martin noted that though graduating students and their parents are encouraged to attend, all members of the community are also invited.

For further information, persons may contact Joanny Martin at 301-746-8669.

Gentle Touch Electrolysis

Gentle Touch Electrolysis, owned and operated by Nancy Feather, L.E., is now located at Valley View Professional Center, the new office building across from Yough Glades Elementary School. Ms. Feather is a graduate of the National Institute of Clinical Electrology, and is licensed by the Maryland State Board of Electrologists.

The practice stresses universal health precautions, including handwashing, gloves, disinfecting, and sterilization.

Unwanted or excess hair growth is a very common problem, said Feather. There are times in a woman's life when she may produce more hair than she is comfortable with. Those times are puberty, pregnancy, and menopause, and happen because of hormonal changes. However, hormonal changes are not the only causes of unwanted hair growth. Other factors are disease, medication and hereditary factors.

"Because excessive hair growth, especially on the face, is considered by many to be a masculine trait, it often has negative effects on the way a woman views herself," Feather said. "Many of the women who come in are humiliated and feel as though they are the only ones in the world who have this problem. They may have tried a depilatory, tweezing, waxing, sugaring, or a variety of other methods, only to find that the hair always returns.

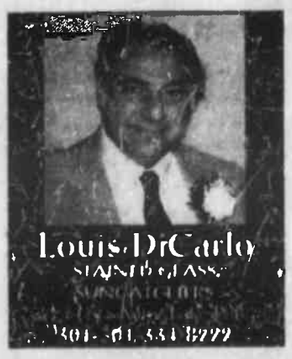
"Electrolysis is the only proven means of permanent hair removal. Even laser treatment hair removal has not proven to be permanent, merely long term. In this day and age, everyone wants a quick fix for whatever problem they are experiencing. Electrolysis is not an overnight cure. People believe that if they have one treatment the hair should be gone forever. Although one treatment on a fine, shallow (rellus) hair may be enough, for a deep, coarse (terminal) hair, it will probably take several treatments to achieve permanent results. The hair that does reappear after treatment will become less coarse, not as deep as before, and will begin to take longer to reappear between treatments. Permanent results will be achieved by destruction of the follicle (natural opening in the skin that the hair grows from) and the hair-germinating cells (cells which trigger the next hair to be produced). Once that is done, that follicle can never produce hair again. If you are patient you will see positive results."

Electrolysis is not only for women, the operator says. Some men experience unwanted hair on their ears, nose, neck, or back, or some may just like to have beard shaping done.

Feather said electrolysis can be done on eyebrows, cheeks, chin, upper lip, ears, nose, neck, underarms, chest, back, stomach, bikini line, legs, and toes.

"You no longer have to be self-conscious or embarrassed by unwanted hair. There is something you can do about it," Feather said. Interested persons may call 301-334-6200 with questions or for an appointment or a free consultation. If there is no answer, callers may leave a message and their call will be returned in a way that is confidential and professional.

Local Student Earns Scholarship In Med Program



Carrie Filsinger, a 1998 graduate of Southern High School, has accepted a scholarship to Fairleigh Dickinson University in Madison, N.J. She has been accepted into the Direct Medical Program, a seven-year program which consists of three years of undergraduate study and four years of medical school.

While at Southern, Carrie was in the marching band, editor-in-chief of the yearbook, and a member of the National Honor Society. Upon graduation, she received the Lions Club Science Award, the Army Reserve National Scholar/Athlete Award, Honor Graduate, Governor's Merit Certificate, and the Presidential Academic Fitness Award.

She was also active in athletics, winning the Southern Garrett Athletic Association Female Scholarship Award. She was active in JV basketball and played softball four years.

Carrie is the daughter of Mike and Lona Filsinger of Swanton. She is the granddaughter of Mick and Rosemary Filsinger, Deer Park, and Roy and Marie Mullenax, Horse Shoe Run, W.Va.

Freedom Chapel Plans Gospel Sing

A celebration of praise is scheduled at Friendsville's Freedom Chapel along Bear Creek Road, on Friday, Oct. 9, beginning at 7 p.m. Assembling for this gospel sing will be numerous musicians and singers from the area.

Distance Learning Offerings On The Increase At GCC

The word "Communiversity" on the wall of the Technology Center at Garrett Community College will be an apt description of the college in the spring semester of 1999 as an increased number of courses are offered via electronic media. "These courses will be offered by compressed video, interactive video, cable television, and the Internet, making them accessible in some cases to students in their homes," said Dr. Terry Norris, coordinator of distance learning.

Courses to be offered through compressed video will be available to students at the McHenry campus or at the Maryland National Guard Armory in Oakland. These courses scheduled with the Maryland Community College Teleconsortium are Windows 95, Microsoft Excel, Accessing the Internet, Introduction to Algebra, Intermediate Algebra, Introduction to Philosophy, and Special Topics in Education: Creative Storytelling.

Interactive video courses will be available to students at Northern and Southern high schools, GCC's McHenry campus, and on FrontierVision at scheduled times. These courses are Pre-Calculus Math, World Civilization Since 1650, Composition II, Introduction to Literature, and Principles of Sociology.

In addition to these courses by television, the first web-based Internet course is being planned for students who have Internet access. Titled Introduction to Computers, the course will be offered on-line so that students can take it anywhere, anytime.

In the future, Norris said, GCC may offer College of the Air, satellite, and videotaped courses.

Persons desiring further information about these distance learning courses may call Norris at GCC at 301-387-3043.

RECOGNIZING BUSINESS WOMEN - The Grantsville mayor and town council joined the Grantsville Area Business and Professional Women in recognizing October 19-23 as National Business Women's Week. Mayor Fred Holliday signed a proclamation stating that working women constitute 62.7 million of the nation's work force, and women-owned businesses account for over one-third of all firms in the country. Women provide employment for one of every four U.S. workers. The major goals of business and professional women are to promote equality for all women and to help create better conditions for business women through the study of social, education, economic, and political problems. In the photo above, seated left to right are council president Barry Beachy, Fred Holliday, and Grantsville BPW president Amy Herman. Standing in row two are BPW members Ruth DiPaolo, vice president, Brenda Butscher, Martha Sabold, and Ruth Newman. In row three are council members Richard Towers, James McRobie, Ronald Oilkim, and Jim Wilburn.

Yough Glades PTG Raises Funds For Playground

The Yough Glades Elementary School's Parent Teacher Group (PTG) will hold a bake sale at the school during Autumn Glory weekend. The sale is scheduled for Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Raffle tickets on a cedar chest, handcrafted by Kenneth and Rita Hardesty, will also be available at the bake sale.

With the goal of purchasing playground equipment for Yough Glades School, the PTG has been raising funds since the school opened in February.

No money was available to build a playground at the time the school was constructed, so the PTG initiated efforts to get contributions from businesses, and to plan projects and activities that would bring in the money necessary to purchase equipment.

Being the newest school in Garrett County caused the group to get off to a slow start. "It was a little difficult at first. Some people didn't know who we were," said PTG president Robin Beckman.

The obstacle was overcome by PTG members, who have held several fund-raising events to benefit Yough Glades School. They have raffled two hogs, donated by businesses; appealed to the Lions Club; are collecting General Mills cereal box tops; and have planned additional projects throughout the school year, including a pizza sale, a candy sale, and a Christmas event.

The PTG is not affiliated with any other parent-teacher organization. The group is independent and is open to any member of the community who is interested in Yough Glades. "At present we are having a PTG membership drive. Dues are $1 per year and meetings are the second Monday of the month," Beckman said.

GGBA Addressed By Micro-Business, Marketing Experts

Spectalists in developing and enhancing small businesses spoke to the members of the Greater Grantsville Business Association last week during a meeting at Penn Alps Restaurant. Mikal McCartney and Cathy Clocker presented hints, tips, and details of options accessible to owners of local small businesses.

McCartney, director of Garrrett County Community Action's Microworks program, offered those present information on support systems available for micro-enterprises. She underscored the importance of small businesses in today's economy. "Small business has grown tremendously in this country. It is the backbone of our economy," she said.

To strengthen this form of enterprise, Microworks provides an array of training, technical assistance, classes, workshops, and personal counseling. Loans are also available for start-ups, expansions, business plan development, and cash flow.

McCartney urged GGBA members to become pro-active. "When large companies come into the area, they are given incentives. We need to encourage county officials to develop policies to support small businesses," she said.

Clocker, a local marketing expert, offered those present suggestions on how to increase business. She noted that "off" days can be opportunities to promote products or services.

Clocker stressed the importance of helping customers and clients to feel comfortable while doing business. She suggested children's activity areas where possible.

Health Care Summit Slated At Rocky Gap

The Maryland State Office of Rural Health, the FORVM for Rural Maryland, and the Maryland Rural Health Association will host Rural Maryland's Development and Health Care Summit on November 9-10 at Rocky Gap Lodge and Golf Resort in Cumberland. This is the first joint initiative among these three organizations to collaborate in addressing rural development and health care issues, and conduct their annual meetings. This special event offers a wide variety of topics of appeal to a broad audience throughout rural Maryland. Physician continuing medical education credit will be offered.

Proposed topics for the summit include: Pfiesteria: A Rural Maryland Challenge; Electric Utility Restructuring; What's Ahead for Rural Maryland in the 1999 General Assembly; Rural America: Politics and Action; A Mini-Agricultural/Small Business Forum; A Telecommunication Center featuring Internet Course on Rural Resources and Grateful Med; an Update on the Maryland's Children's Health Program; Dental Health in Rural Maryland; Funding Rural Health Network Development; Paying for Telehealth; and Fetal Infant Mortality Reporting. In addition, several special events will take place during the summit. They include: the FORVM for Rural Maryland's Annual Meeting; the Maryland Rural Health Association's Fourth Annual Meeting; and a reception and awards ceremony.

For registration information, persons may call Becky Whitehill, 301-777-9150, ext. 102. For more information about the conference, persons may call Marita Novicky, 410-767-5942.

REAL ESTATE, REAL EASY™

THE SIGN OF AN EXCEPTIONAL SALES ASSOCIATE.

Dear Ms. Seib;

On September 18, 1998 my wife and I settled on property we found in McHenry, Md. While we looked for some time we were assisted by your Sales Associate Denise Sanders. . . Ms. Sanders was most helpful during the entire process. She was honest and available at a moment's notice to show property that we expressed an interest in.

We wanted you to know of Ms. Sanders' assistance as we had talked to other Agents from other companies and never received any follow-up in our quest to find property. Denise was the only one to 'hang in there' with us and this is greatly appreciated.

We wanted to say THANX ! to your company and especially to Denise Sanders for a successful conclusion to our purchase of property in Garrett County.

Sincerely,
John L. Grumbach

Denise Sanders,
Sales Associate

YOUR BETTER HEALTH IS OUR LIFE'S WORK

As a pharmacist member of the Health Team, our chief duty is to supply the potently fresh, specific medicines your physician prescribes for you.

In our prescription department are thousands of different medicines, so we can dispense the exact ones prescribed. In order to be able to fill any prescription, even those prescribed by distantly located physicians, the leading drug firms rush their new products to us as soon as they are released for safe use.

Planning and Planting

"A lovely scene," one might comment, "but is this appropriate for the time of the year?" A point well taken, but read on...

In the autumn, when breezes were yet balmy, gardeners planned and planted beauty to burst forth next spring on those still chilly mornings when glorious colors would be so welcomed. They bought bulbs of unremarkable appearance and put them in the ground with faith in the promises of the Creator. During the winter, the bulbs transformed.

Similarly, we must cultivate kindness, especially when circumstances are difficult, planting the Word of God in our hearts each week as we worship at our chosen church or synagogue. Knowing that as inner love grows we will be transformed and display a beauty of the spirit that shall brighten our days and those of others. This takes a little planning and a lot of planting so begin planning weekly worship now. Spring will be here sooner than you think. "You are God's field." 1 Corinthians 3:9

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

SALVATION THROUGH POLITICS?
October 11, 1998

Background Scripture:
I Samuel 7:15 through 8:22
Devotional Reading:
I Peter 2:13-17

The other night on television there was some extensive footage of the national convention of one of our major political parties. I was amazed at the emotional pitch of the delegates. It doesn't really matter which political party was involved or even the year it took place, for this is par for the course in American political life. It appeared that these people had just chosen, not a presidential candidate, but a Messiah who was going to bring in the Kingdom of God.

"That's just harmless political enthusiasm," someone assured me. But I am not really certain that it is harmless. Enthusiasm is one thing, but false expectations are something else. Too many people approach politics as a way of salvation. Elect the right candidate, they believe, adopt the right political ideology and we will be able to solve our most enduring and deepest problems.

I may once have believed that, but I have learned that we elect fallible human beings, who, along with their virtues, have weaknesses and failings like those of us who elect them. To pretend that they are something else is to indulge in a kind of idolatry that we have long been warned against by our Judaic-Christian heritage. As Dwight W. Morrow put it, "Any party which takes credit for the rain must not be surprised if its opponents blame them for the drought."

BECOMING THE 'MESS'

In The Presidents' Men, Patrick Anderson speaks of the emotions with which the outgoing administration views the incoming team: "The departing warrior's only consolation, in this dark hour, lies in the assurance that,

Two NBC dramas portray family struggles

Tate Donovan

There's more than geography separating the McCallister family of New York's Hell's Kitchen and the Connolly clan of Hawaii, as viewers will see when two new dramas, the meaty Trinity and the fluffy Wind on Water, debut this week on NBC.

Trinity, about the tensions and troubles of five grown Irish-Catholic siblings, premieres Friday, Oct. 16. The ensemble cast is headed by Tate Donovan as Kevin, a priest.

Also starring are Bonnie Root as Amanda, a schoolteacher; Charlotte Ross as Fiona, a stockbroker; Sam Trammell as Liam, a hustling union organizer; Justin Louis as Bobby, a police officer; and Kim Raver as Bobby's wife, Clarissa.

Jill Clayburgh and John Spencer make occasional appearances as parents Eileen and Simon.

In Trinity, Wells says he wants to capture "the basic conflict and dynamic which is driving the American family. I think an Irish family, because of the influence of the church, and a heritage which requires that you remain close, is a good place to examine that tension."

Series creator Matthew McNair Carnahan purposely gave the characters careers that would generate differing points of view and shifting allegiances.

"I really wanted to pit as diverse a group against or with one another as possible ... and (yet) ultimately express that they're family," Carnahan says.

That's a lot to bite off, and the Trinity pilot is an overburdened hour.

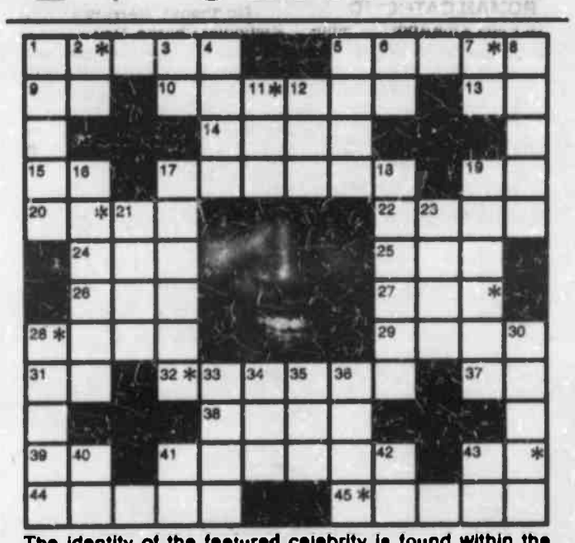
NBC has not succeeded with a family-centered melodrama in recent years, and the expanding Dateline franchise has left few time slots unclaimed.

"My assumption is the show will get off to a slow start," Wells says, conceding the target audience on Fridays is "a group of people who plan to go out but never quite make it."



For those still on the couch 24 hours later, there's Wind on Water, debuting Saturday, Sept. 17.

Six time zones from New York, the Connollys of Hawaii try to hold onto their piece of paradise. Concocted by soft-porn impresario Zalman King and professional surfer Matt George, the coming-of-age drama is long on looks, with Bo Derek as an unmatronly mother. William Gregory Lee and Brian Gross play her sons, extreme-sports gladiators who spend much of the pilot engaged in a surf contest with a local rival (Shawn Christian).

Lee Horsley (Matt Houston) is wasted in his first bad-guy role, as a land-grabbing snake of a neighbor. Jacinda Barrett, who broke into show business on MTV's The Real World, plays his turncoat daughter.

More conversation piece than story, Wind on Water should have been billed as a limited series, for that's just what it will be: an eye-dazzling Hawaiian vacation of six weeks ... or shorter.

TV-PIPELINE

By Taylor Michaels

Q: Can you explain why the lead role in Young Hercules was recast for the new Fox series? I enjoyed Ian Bohen in the part in the two-hour movie pilot, as well as in several episodes of Hercules: The Legendary Journeys. –Chris Porter in Texas.

A: "Ian has a recurring role on Dawson's Creek," Hercules executive producer Robert Tapert explains, "and when we were picked up as a series, he weighed his options and decided it would be better for him not to move to New Zealand. As it turned out, this actually worked to our advantage."

Tapert is alluding to the fact that he and the show's other producers decided to make the new half-hour weekday series more of a lighthearted "buddy adventure," for which they felt 17-year-old Canadian actor Ryan Gosling was more suitable.

Q: My sister insists that Larry and Laurence Fishburne are the same person. I say no. Who is right? –Alma Green, Vero Beach, Fla.

A: She is, but the actor hasn't been billed as "Larry" since his appearance in a 1992 film titled Deep Cover.

Q: Did Ken Curtis ever play anything else before or after his role as Deputy Festus Haggen on Gunsmoke? –Jim French via e-mail.

A: Absolutely. Curtis, who died at the age of 74 on April 29, 1991, was a veteran character actor with more than 40 film and TV credits. After Gunsmoke left the air in 1975, Curtis co-starred in the miniseries Black Beauty, the TV series How the West Was Won and The Yellow Rose, and the film Conagher – his final appearance – in 1991.

Ian Bohen

Before Gunsmoke, he costarred on TV's Ripcord, appeared in such movie hits as Mister Roberts, The Alamo and The Searchers, and did guest shots on TV shows including Wagon Train and Rawhide. Curtis also provided a voice in Walt Disney's animated Robin Hood.

Q: Are Diane and Michael Keaton related? Married? –A.L.K., Florence, S.C.

A: Neither. The actress, who has never been married, was born Diane Hall – hence the last name of her Oscar-winning alter ego, Annie Hall. The actor's real name is Michael Keaton Douglas.

Q: Will you please tell my know-it-all friend that she is wrong when she says David Boreanaz (Buffy the Vampire Slayer) is married? Also, how old is he? –Sharon via e-mail.

A: Boreanaz married his girlfriend, Ingrid, earlier this year. He is 27 years old. His TV character, the vampire Angel, is a little older!

KISTA THOMAS

AMANDA MILLER

APRIL ENLOW

Three local women have been awarded scholarships by the Garrett Community College Foundation to attend college this year, according to Bretta Reinhard, GCCF advancement officer.

Kista Thomas, daughter of Sam and Sharon Thomas of Accident and 1996 graduate of Northern High School, is enrolled in the Office Technology program with plans to become a legal or medical secretary. She has received the Bell Atlantic Scholarship and the GCC General Scholarship. In high school she participated in basketball and track, was on the Honor Roll, and was named to Who's Who Among American High School Students. She works as secretary at the American Red Cross office and helps on the farm. in her spare time she enjoys painting and ceramics.

Amanda Miller, daughter of Clayton and Dani Miller of Oakland and 1997 graduate of Southern High School, is majoring in accounting at GCC where she plans to receive her A.A. degree and then transfer to Frostburg State University. In high school she was a member of the National Honor Society. She is currently employed as a gymnastics instructor at the Creations School of Dance and Gymnastics. She has received the McDonald's Scholarship and the GCC General Scholarship.

April Enlow, daughter of William and Kristen Enlow of Friendsville and 1998 graduate of Northern High School, is enrolled in the Agricultural Management program at GCC. She plans to complete the degree program and then transfer to get her bachelor's degree. Enlow commented that she feels that more people her age should get interested in agriculture because it is everyone's concern. She has received the Michael Vaughn Vitez Memorial Scholarship and the Hazel Fratz Wright Scholarship. In high school Enlow was FFA president, Livestock Association county representative, varsity track team's most valuable hurdler, student athlete of the month, member of the crop judging team, and member of the Business Club. She was also named to Who's Who Among American High School Students. She is a member of the Farm Bureau and has held offices in 4-H. For recreation she enjoys swimming, skiing, video archery, and hunting.

Notices Sent To Unclaimed Property Owners

Notices from the Maryland State Comptroller's Office are arriving in mailboxes of people across the nation who are known to be owners of unclaimed bank accounts, insurance benefits, wages, security deposits, and the contents of safe deposit boxes.

IRS recently compared Maryland unclaimed property accounts with its address database and mailed the comptroller's notices to those whom a current address was found. The IRS does not share the address information with the comptroller's office, but mails the notices to account owners at the current addresses.

"If you get a notice, please respond because if you receive one it's virtually certain that we have money for you," said Maryland State Comptroller Robert L. Swann. "These individuals may have moved or changed their last names and did not notify the state, their financial institutions, or other businesses that ntay owe them money."

Because of these kinds of outreach efforts, the state comptroller's office returned $10,830,155 in unclaimed funds to 8,977 individuals and businesses for fiscal year 1998. The average claim amount was $1,206. The office also advertises the most recently reported names of unclaimed property owners in local newspapers each spring and fall. The 1998 fall ad supplement will run October 12 through 24 this year.

Maryland law requires financial institutions, utilities, insurance companies, and other corporations to report to the state comptroller any bank accounts, security deposits, wages, insurance benefits, and the contents of safe deposit boxes which are unclaimed after five years. "There is no time limit on claiming the money that is rightfully yours," Swann said. "You can claim the funds any time, and legitimate heirs can claim the funds after the original owner's death."

Those who miss the ad inserts or don't get a notice from the IRS can still find out if they are the owners of unclaimed property by calling the office at 410-767-1700 in the Baltimore area, or toll-free 1-800-782-7383 outside Baltimore. The website address is www.marylandtaxes.com.

The organization works with clients from a wide range of industries to link their people, processes, and technologies to their strategies.

ATTENTION

Southern Garrett Alumni Band

With the Autumn Glory Festival creeping up on us once again, it is time to start thinking about Alumni Band. Last year we were small in numbers, but big in both spirit and sound. All of the alumni that stuck it out last year, as well as all of those that watched from the parade route are invited to join in. We had a great deal of people that didn't hear that we were going to march last year, so spread the word around so that we can be the biggest band on the street!

Practice will be held at "The Band Room" on Friday, Oct. 9 at 7:00 p.m.

If you can't make the practice, just catch up with us at the parade line-up on Saturday, Oct. 10.

If there are any questions, call Christine Chaney-Cropp at (304) 599-9102 or E-mail Aaron at adcropp@ereis.com.

FSU To Host London Aquila Theatre Company

The Frostburg State University Cultural Events Series will present the Aquila Theatre Company of London's The Comedy of Errors on Tuesday, Oct. 13, at 8 p.m. in the FSU Performing Arts Center.

"The play is one of Shakespeare's most vibrant and sparkling works. In this inventive and charming comedy, two pairs of identical twins from the same household are torn apart by a devastating shipwreck. But, as the delightful story unfolds, the audience learns that all is not as it seems. Mistaken identity, assumed personae, hilarious intrigue, and whimsical family relationships abound in this witty tale," stated an FSU spokesperson.

Under the direction of producer Peter Meineck and artistic director Robert Richmond, Aquila Theatre of London is one of the United Kingdom's foremost touring companies.

The Aquila Theatre will offer a pre-performance discussion from 7 to 7:30 p.m. in the Pealer Recital Hall of the Performing Arts Center.

Seating is reserved for the play's performance. For information, ticket reservation and prices, persons may contact the FSU Lane Center Information Desk at 301-687-4411.

This event is supported in part by a grant from the Mid-Atlantic Arts Foundation in partnership with the Maryland State Arts Council, the National Endowment for the Arts, the Corning Incorporated Foundation, and the Capezio Ballet Makers Dance Foundation.

DIGNITARY VISITS ELKS - The members of the Oakland Elks Lodge #2481 were honored this week by a visit from the highest ranking Elk in the Western District, Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Charles H. Koonaka Jr. While in Oakland, Koonaka joined members of a high level Elks committee to conduct the annual review of Lodge operations. Coinciding with the visit of this Elk dignitary was the annual Elks fall conference, hosted by the Oakland Lodge and its Exalted Ruler, Russell Eddy. Over 400 Elks, spouses, and guests from Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia gathered at Deep Creek Lake to attend workshops on various topics, including effective Lodge administration and membership recruiting techniques. Workshops were conducted by Elk recruiting expert Emilie Brady and state membership chair Carroll Wagner. Some of the conference participants pictured above, left to right were Don Moss, Frederick; Greg Wilkes, Hagerstown; Oakland Exalted Ruler Russell Eddy; District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Charles H. Koonaka Jr.; W. Lee Ridenour, Hagerstown; Joseph Beach, Hagerstown; and J. Gordon Alexander, Frederick.

Arts Council Seeks Applicants For Mini-Grants

Senior art exhibits, afternoon coffeearts, special after-school programs, children's theatre projects, and poetry readings are just some of the activities that could be funded through the Maryland State Arts Council's (MSAC) Fiscal Year 1999 Mini-Grant Program. MSAC is an agency of the Maryland Department of Business & Economic Development.

The Mini-Grant Program is open to not-for-profit organizations such as civic groups, libraries, museums, religious organizations, schools, or social clubs which are open to the public and accessible for persons with disabilities. The program, which awards grants of up to $1,000, is designed to assist community-based organizations in producing and presenting arts activities in their communities.

Mini-grants are awarded four times a year, and organizations may submit only one application per deadline and may receive only one mini-grant per fiscal year. The next grants for fiscal year 1999 will be awarded for activities taking place between January 1, 1999, and March 31, 1999. The deadline for applications is October 16, 1998.

Grant applications may be obtained by calling the Maryland State Arts Council at 410-767-6555 or TDD/TTY 410-333-4519. Applicants are encouraged to contact the Maryland State Arts Council to speak with the appropriate staff member before an application is submitted. Completed applications for the January 1 mini-grants must be postmarked on or before October 16, 1998, or hand-delivered by 5 p.m. that day to the Maryland State Arts Council offices at 601 N. Howard Street, Baltimore.

The remaining deadline for the fiscal year 1999 Mini-Grant Program is January 15, 1999, for activities taking place between April 1, 1999, and June 30, 1999.

For more information about the Mini-Grant Program, persons may call the Maryland State Arts Council at 410-767-6555.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY RECEIVES DONATION - A $800 donation has been made to the Garrett County Historical Society by Garrett County native Forrest Walling, now a resident of La Belle, Fla., in his father's name, Wiley William Walling. The elder Walling was a lifelong resident of Oakland and Mtn. Lake Park, and is remembered for his service as a fishing guide to President Grover Cleveland during his honeymoon, which he and his bride Lucy spent at Deer Park in 1886. Walling was a finishing carpenter by trade, as well having served as a deputy game warden for 43 years until his death in 1872. Shown above is the Garrett County Historical Society Museum, located on Second Street in downtown Oakland, which will have special hours of operation during this weekend's Autumn Glory Festival: 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 8—Saturday, Oct. 10, and 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 11.

Audio Cassettes Cover Alzheimer's Disease Advice

A new audio cassette is available at the Ruth Enlow Public Library that provides advice to people caring for a patient with Alzheimer's disease.

"Steps for Caregivers: Caring for Person's with Alzheimer's Disease," covers topics that include modifying the home environment, understanding and improving communication, planning activities, and understanding challenging behaviors. Narrated by television star Shelley Fabares, the cassette is made available by the Western Maryland Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association.

For further information on Alzheimer's disease and additional audio cassettes, videos, and books that provide information on the illness, interested persons may call Donna McClintock of the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-8253 or 301-895-3122. The Western Maryland Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association may be reached toll-free at 1-800-696-6830.

Persons caring for an individual with Alzheimer's disease are reminded that a family/caregiver support group meeting of the Western Maryland Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association meets in Garrett County on the last Monday of each month, with the exceptions of December, June, July, and August, at various locations. Further information on this support group is available from McClintock at the phone numbers listed above.

Northern GOP Women Convene

The Northern Garrett County Republican Women's Club met Sept. 29 at Hill Top Inn. President Carolyn Ganoe introduced the guest speakers, Brenda Arnold, domestic violence advocate/investigator, and Lt. Larry Gnegy of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. They both explained their duties in detail.

They said that domestic violence has become a serious problem and laws are changing for the victim for her protection. "It all comes down to power and control by the aggressor with emotional abuse, economic abuse, isolation, intimidation, threats, using male privilege, sexual abuse, and using children," Arnold said. Spousal abuse also affects the children and carries on from one generation to the other. There is help for the victims by going to a shelter, where they and children find protection and help at no charge.

The business meeting followed. Carolyn Ganoe and Brenda Butscher will attend the federation meeting Nov. 13 and 14 in the Ramada Convention Center in Hagerstown. A card of thanks was read from Hospice for the contribution given in memory of Martha Glotfelty, a former member of the House of Delegates. A get-well card was signed by each for Sheila O'Neill's brother, a cancer victim. Brenda Butscher won the fruit basket, which netted $42.

An auction will be held at the next meeting, Oct. 27. There will be no meeting in November, but the Christmas luncheon will be held in December, during which the club will have the fruit basket again.

Members present were: Brenda Butscher, Cleda Baker, Carolyn Ganoe, Mary Durst, Cora Bowser, Leanna Layman, Louise McKenzie, Helen Keller, Orpha Miller, Stella Edwards, Lillian Crowe, Zaola Robeson, Laura Turner, Lois Rowe, Twila Mae Fike, Retta Hununel, Sheila O'Neill, and Gloria Nyheim.

Woodland Owners Able To Secure Advice Locally

John R. Toston of Friendsville, pictured above, is one of 30 Marylanders who were trained in forest and wildlife management recently through the Coverts Project, a natural resources program of the Maryland Cooperative Extension. Toston is now available to assist other woodland owners and managers with methods to improve their wildlife habitat, forest health, timber production, woodland recreation, and aesthetics through sound forest management practices.

Toston received extensive classroom and field training through the Coverts Project, which is named for thickets that shelter wildlife. As a coverts operator Toston is part of a statewide network of volunteers helping Maryland's 25,000 private woodland owners better manage their properties through education and contacts with forestry and wildlife professionals and resources.

Nearly 42 percent of Maryland is woodland and 85 percent of that woodland is in the hands of private landowners, half of whom own 10 acres or less. These woodlands, which provide wildlife habitat, wood products, watershed protection, and recreation opportunities, are subject to reduction and fragmentation. Although some landowners and others think the best action for woodland is none, that is not necessarily so according to the Cooperative Extension. An active management plan that includes sound tree planting and cutting practices will produce a variety of tree growths and habitats that increase wildlife populations.

In the seven years of the Coverts Project in Maryland, almost 200 volunteers have completed the Coverts training and are sharing forest and wildlife management with others in their communities. For farther information on the Coverts Program, interested persons may contact the Garrett County Extension Service at 301-334-6960 or Toston at 301-746-4273.

Domestic Violence To Be Addressed At BPW Meeting

"Choice, Independence, and Dignity Denied" is the title of a program on domestic violence that will be presented at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women of Garrett County, set for Thursday, Oct. 15, at 8:30 p.m. at the Will O' the Wisp. The guest speaker will be Linda Spassil, executive director of the Dove Center, the county's domestic violence/sexual assault resource center.

"In commemoration of both the National Business Women's Week [of] October 19-23, and Domestic Violence Prevention Month, the group will focus upon the travesty that choice, independence, and dignity is denied to individuals who experience domestic and family violence," said BPW spokesperson Susan Athey-Oxford.

"A short yet profound video titled 'One Slap Leads to Another' will be shown, [and] there will be a candlelight vigil to tribute victims who, because the violence proved fatal, were unable to fulfill their dreams of becoming business and professional women," Athey-Oxford said.

Persons interested in further information on the meeting may contact Joanne Harsh at 301-334-0585.

Thank You

We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those involved in the care of Joseph A. Umbel.

Thanks to the Northern Garrett Rescue Squad, Terry Spear, Cumberland & Garrett County hospitals and staff, the doctors who provided care and treatment, local churches, Newman's Funeral Home and Pastor Mike Robinson. All of the flowers, cards, thoughts and prayers, phone calls, and food were greatly appreciated.

A special thanks to Cuppett & Weeks Nursing Home staff — your caring and kindness were greatly appreciated and will never be forgotten.

The Everlasting Light

Those we love must some day pass beyond our present sight
Must leave us and the world we know without their radiant light.
But we know that like a candle, their lovely light will shine to brighten up another place more perfect, more divine,
And in the realm of Heaven,
where they shine so warm and bright,
Our loved one lives forever in God's eternal light.

We the children of Norma Savage would like to thank everyone for their kindness during our time of loss. Words can never express how we feel. A special thanks to Newman Funeral Home for their help and kindness, Rev. Burlin Wilhelm, special thanks to Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home, Nurses and Aides, without you she wouldn't have made it as long as she did, to all who sent food, flowers, and cards. To her grandsons who were pall- bearers, and to her grand-daughters for their beautiful music.

May God bless each and every one of you.

Oedipus Rex
by Sophocles, Kenneth Cavander Translation
October 9, 10, 16, 16 & 17 at 8 pm, October 11 at 2 pm
Timeless...Powerful...A play that keeps us emotionally on edge as we watch this King, this public hero, pledge to rid his people of the curse affecting them. As his search unfolds we watch as his worst nightmare becomes his most feared reality.
"Sophocles is the most skillful of Greek Dramatists in mastery of dramatic structure: His Oedipus Rex is often called 'the most perfect of Greek Tragedies'." — OSCAR G. BROCKETT

A Doll's House
by Henrik Ibsen
November 20, 21, December 3, 4, & 5 at 8 pm, November 22 at 2 pm
A Doll's House tells us that it is the primary duty of every person to discover who s/he is- a message that is certainly as valid today as it was in 1879
Actress Janet McTeer, who played Nora in the 1997 Tony Award-winning Broadway revival, explains that one must, above all, see A Doll's House as a portrait of a marriage ... the story of two people whose marriage is disintegrating. If you let the play be what it is intended to be, you find it is not a feminist play, but in fact a humanist play, from which you can draw feminist conclusions."

Q. I have a set of Bottoms-Up glasses made of jade green glass. Each glass must be placed on the table upside down because the bottom is not flat. The maidati glass looks as if a woman is bent over the glass, her arms holding it, her feet on the side, and her bottom the rounded bottom of the glass. Why would a set of cocktail glasses have to be empty to be put down? When were they made?

A. You have a set of Bottoms-Up cocktail glasses. The name refers to both the position of the woman on the glass and to the idea that you can't put the glass down unless it is "bottoms up."

The idea of a glass that you had to hold until it was empty was not new. Early 19th century "hunt cups" shaped like dog heads or fox heads were handed to those mounted on horses for the hunt. The riders drained the glass then put it down.

Your Bottoms-Up glasses were made in the 1930s by the McKee Glass Co. McKee had seen pottery glasses made by White Cloud Farms of Rock Tavern, N.Y. McKee copied the idea and later bought the White Cloud pottery.

The pottery pieces were made showing the woman with her legs apart. To make the glass pieces less suggestive, the McKee designers modeled the woman with her legs held tightly together.

Home Tips

CHECK IT OUT – Whenever we go on vacation, I always make a list of the clothes I'm taking and then check them off as I pack. But I never take a copy of that list with me.

During a recent trip, a new outfit I'd purchased for the trip was taken from the closet at the hotel we were in.

I did not wear the outfit while there but was going to after we'd flown somewhere else, where we'd planned to meet friends for a special reunion. Our first night there, I noticed the outfit was missing. I worried somewhat but concluded that I'd forgotten to pack it.

When we got back home, I discovered that the outfit was not here and I had, in fact, listed it as being packed. It was an expensive, dressy outfit and I was much disheartened at its loss.

In the future, I'll always take my list and carry it in my purse, where it will be readily available for a nightly check. Needless to say, there is very little one can do when such a thing occurs and you don't realize it for several days, but it might have been different if I had noticed the loss during a nightly check while on vacation.

I hope this helps prevent such a loss to another traveler. Rita D., Toms River, N.J.

ON THE RECORD – I keep my "action" file going all the time. It contains such items as correspondence that needs an answer, recipes not yet tried, a note or a phone call I need to make and, especially, notes on anything I have ordered through the mail that has not arrived.

During the first week of each month or on days when I have a few minutes to spare, I pull out the file and try to make a few phone calls, write a letter or do something useful instead of wondering, "What do I need to do today?". Jeannie S., Ghent, N.Y.

JULIA ROBERTS: NOT JUST A PRETTY WOMAN

These days, Julia Roberts isn't just a pretty woman. She's a pretty happy woman. Besides steady boyfriend actor Benjamin Bratt, she's had two hit movies last year and currently commands more than $12 million per film, higher than any other actress.

Roberts has also weathered a long list of failed romances and movie flops. The trademark smile – a mile wide and supernova bright – masks her determination. Born in 1967 to parents who ran a theater school, November's Biography magazine cover girl always knew she would be an actress, inventing starring roles for herself as a child. After graduating from high school, Roberts headed for Manhattan and eventually won a role in the quirky coming-of-age comedy, "Mystic Pizza." This led to "Steel Magnolias," "Pretty Woman" and two Golden Globes. At 23, she was America's sweetheart.

But her personal life plummeted. First she ended her engagement to "Steel Magnolias" co-star Dylan McDermott. Then she canceled her wedding to "Flatliners" co-star Kiefer Sutherland, and briefly dated "Speed 2" star Jason Patric before marrying country crooner Lyle Lovett. The union barely lasted two years.

Roberts retreated to regroup. Afraid of being pigeonholed, she made some bad movie choices. She passed on "Sleepless in Seattle," opting for thrillers like "Sleeping with the Enemy" or somber dramas like "Mary Reilly." Now turning 30, she's back on track and recognizes what audiences expect of her. She's balancing crowd-pleasing comedies with the meatier roles she relishes. "My Best Friend's Wedding" was a box office smash, followed by "Conspiracy Theory" with Mel Gibson. Her next film, due in December, is a two-hanky tale titled "Stepmom," about a dying woman (Susan Sarandon) who teaches her ex-husband's new girlfriend how to raise her kids. In "Runaway Bride," she will finally reteam with Richard Gere. Roberts concedes, "I think I'm moments away from coming into my own."

Garrett County 4-H Clubs Celebrate National 4-H Week

National 4-H Week is an annual observance held during the first full week of October, this year running from Sun., Oct. 4 to Sat., Oct. 10.

During National 4-H Week, appropriate activities are arranged nationally and in each state, county, and most local communities. A major aim is to enlarge the "image" so that the public realizes opportunities for youth that are available through 4-H youth development programs.

In Garrett County, several clubs set up displays in their communities, and many 4-H members take part in the Autumn Glory Festival, some by marching in the parade on Saturday carrying the maple leaf signs announcing the awards given to various floats to celebrate National 4-H Week as well as Autumn Glory.

The objectives of 4-H and National 4-H Week are to encourage more youth to take advantage of 4-H opportunities; to encourage more adults to volunteer as 4-H local leaders, and by doing so, to enrich their own lives besides serving youth; to acquaint the public with today's 4-H program that adapts to meet the needs of today's youth; to recognize the important contribution of parents to 4-H and influence their continued cooperation; to acknowledge the support of 4-H friends, partners and donors and express appreciation to them; and to report accomplishments of the past year and consider future needs and plans.

4-H club membership is open to all youth ages 9 to 19. To find out how to join one of the following clubs or for more information about 4-H, those interested may call the Garrett County Extension Service at 301-334-6960.

Bittinger 4-H Club, Bittinger fire hall, Bittinger, meets the first Monday of each month.

Grantsville 4-H Club, Casselman Valley Sportsman's Club, Grantsville, meets the first Monday of each month.

North Glade 4-H Club, 4-H Building, Kurt's Korner, Rt. 495, meets the third Thursday of each month.

North Star 4-H Club, Accident fire hall, Accident, meets the second Tuesday of each month.

Red House 4-H Club, St. John's Lutheran Church, Red House, meets the first Wednesday of each month.

Ryan's Glade 4-H Club, White Church Community Building, Rt. 560, White Church, meets the third Tuesday of each month.

Saddle Tramps 4-H Club, Extension Office, 1916 Maryland Highway, Mtn. Lake Park, meets the fourth Monday of each month.

Country Kids 4-H Club, Deer Park Community Building, Deer Park, meets the third Tuesday of each month.

National 4-H Week October 4 - 11

4-H Information Workshop Planned At College Park

4-H volunteers and volunteers of youth programs are gathering on the University of Maryland campus to gain new and updated information about 4-H projects, 4-H programs, volunteer development, and creative ways to work with youth of all ages. This learning and sharing opportunity will take place Sat., Nov. 7, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Animal Science and Agricultural Engineering Building, University of Maryland, College Park.

The events of the day will include educational displays, guest speakers, special recognition for Outstanding State 4-H Volunteers, and details about the statewide 4-H Volunteer Leaders Association. Seminar sessions include Basic Sewing, Workforce Preparation, Service Learning, Disabled Audiences, Learn and Earn, Youth and Adult Partnerships, Conflict Resolution and many, many more.

A $12 registration includes lunch, the program and a bag of goodies. Interested persons are invited to make plans to have a wonderful day of fun and educational experiences.

This program is sponsored by the 4-H program of the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service. For more information, those interested may contact John English at 301-403-4248.

Small Grain Seeding Is Now Under Way

Small grain seeding continued into ita second week as barley was reported at 33% seeded for the state. Last week, barley was only being reported to have started. Nevertheless, barley planting is on par with ita five-year average and slightly ahead of the previous year. Rye plantings were at 13%, which is behind both its five-year average and the 1997 average. Wheat planting, at 10%, followed barley's pattern and was ahead of both averages. Precipitation in some parts of the state helped to prepare the soil for planting, while lack of rain in most areas slowed the process for farmers.

Harvesting of corn for grain moved to 52% complete. Corn harvesting was still ahead of the previous and five-year averages. Harvesting of silage stands at 90% complete and should finish up in this coming week. Soybean harvesting got underway this week as 6% of Maryland soybeans were reported as harvested. The dry weather in many parts of the state pushed the percentage turned to 77%.

Sorghum turning color was at 80%, a seven point jump from last week's report. Despite the advance, sorghum turning falls behind the previous-year average and the five-year average. Sorghum harvesting moved up five points to 20% complete.

The hay harvest continued as Maryland farmers have started on their fifth cutting of alfalfa. Fourth cutting of other hays is reported as 75% finished. This was above the previous year average of 68% and 24 points above the five-year average.

Topsoil moisture condition was 20% very short, 50% short and 30% adequate. Subsoil moisture condition was 32% very short, 50% short and 18% adequate.

Maryland's crop progress for the week which ended on Oct. 4, listing the item and the percentages for this week, last week, last year, and the five-year average, follows.

Small grain planting progress: barley 33, --, 29, 33; rye 13, --, 20, 23; winter wheat 10, --, 7, 7.

Development: field corn, mature 91, 80, 88, 90; soybeans, turning 77, 65, 65, 76, shedding leaves 46, 26, 45, 50; sorghum, turning color 80, 73, 94, 87, mature 40, 31, 56, 67.

Harvesting progress: apples 60, 37, 72, 60; corn, grain 52, 50, 22, 41, silage 90, 80, 84, 82; Soybeans 6, --, 9, 6; sorghum 20, 15, 13, 18; other hay, 4th cutting 75, 57, 68, 51; alfalfa hay, 4th cutting 85, 73, 78, 82, 5th cutting 20, --, 6, 12.

Farming In Maryland.....

Production Of Crops Reported For September

The September forecast for corn and soybean yields in Maryland were down from the August expectations. Based on Sept. 1 conditions, the corn for grain crop was expected to average 100 bushels per acre, 5 bushels lower than last month's yield of 105 bushels per acre, but 10 bushel higher than last year's final yield of 90.

Corn for grain production was estimated at 42 million bushels, 12% more than last year's production 37.35 million bushels. Lack of precipitation in much of the state, especially in the lower Eastern Shore and southern Maryland put a damper on the projected corn yield for the state.

Soybean expectations seemed to follow the pattern of corn and was forecasted at 26 bushels per ace. The yield estimate was 3 bushels per acre less than last month's projection and 2 bushels less than last year's yield. The production for soybeans came to 12 million bushels, 19% less than what was estimated for last year. Like corn, the lack of rain for most of the state has hurt the early and late bean crops.

Corn grain production across the United States is forecast at 9.74 billion bushels, up 2% from last month and up 4% from 1997. Based on Sept. 1 conditions, yields are expected to average 132.0 bushels per acre, up 2.0 bushels from last month and up 5 bushels from a year ago. If realized, this would be the second largest production and the second highest yield on record. Acreage for harvest is estimated at 73.8 million bushels, unchanged from last month and virtually unchanged from 1997.

Soybean production is forecast at a record high 2.91 billion bushels, up 3% from Aug. 1, and up 7% from last year's record of 2.73 billion bushels. The yield forecast, at 40.6 bushels per acre, increased 1.1 bushels from last month and is 1.6 bushels above the 1997 final yield. If realized, this will be the second highest yield on record. The record yield of 41.4 bushels was set in 1994. Acreage for harvest is estintated at a record 71.6 million acres, unchanged from Aug. 1 but up 2% from 1997.

Farm Bureau Calls On Congress To Move Emergency Farm Aid Package

The American Farm Bureau Federation has called on Congress to provide emergency supplemental funding of several billion dollars to help the nation's farm and ranch families, given the magnitude of the current economic crisis facing agriculture.

"Net farm income is projected to fall by $7.4 billion this crop year," said AFBF President Dean Kleckner. "A $500 million disaster allocation will not begin to address this shortfall. Because the agenda to which Congress committed is woefully incomplete, Congress must focus on immediate remedies to redress producers."

The request for emergency aid for farmers is one of the key items in a report from presidents of 10 state Farm Bureaus, appointed by Kleckner to a committee to review the farm economy. The committee was led by Texas Farm Bureau President Bob Stallman.

The Farm Bureau report said Congress must avoid abandoning the market-based policies of the FAIR Act.

"The loan program is intended as a method to lessen pressure to sell at harvest time and spread sales throughout the marketing year," Kleckner said. It is a marketing tool for producers, not an income support program.

Among the committee's recommendations addressing short-term needs is a "sanctions indemnity program" to compensate producers for the impact of trade-related problems on current market prices. Congress will be asked to provide immediate funding for a "sanctions indemnity payment" for both program and minor crops.

The Farm Bureau leaders emphasized that a crop disaster assistance program is needed. They believe the $500 million in emergency funding included in the Senate agricultural appropriations bill is insufficient. They said that any disaster assistance should be implemented in a way that maintains the integrity of the crop insurance program.

Kleckner said, "We must avoid sending a signal to producers that discourages them from further participation in the program. The present crop insurance program is so inflexible it cannot be adjusted to unique situations. The program is not capable of responding to multiyear disasters. Supplemental crop insurance payments must be made for those suffering from disasters."

The Farm Bureau report also calls for a disaster feed assistance program to aid livestock producers; enhanced funding for the P.L. 480 program; credit relief from Farm Service Agency-guaranteed farm ownership and operating loans; immediate entrance of additional acreage into the conservation reserve program; and extended assistance for farmers since projections indicate 1999 crop prices will not improve significantly.

Long-term needs include fast-track trade negotiating authority; full-funding for the International Monetary Fund; sanctions reform to allow greater flexibility for food exports to restricted countries; additional funds for the market access program and foreign market development program; and establishment of Farm and Ranch Risk Management accounts to help farmers save pretax income for "rainy days."

GOP Offers Farm Aid Plan To Congress

House and Senate Republicans have unveiled a $3.9 billion farm relief package, which will likely be included in the yet-uncompleted agriculture appropriations bill. The GOP plan counters a more costly $5 billion Democratic measure that was defeated in the Senate. The failed Democratic plan centered on a Farm Bureau-opposed move to lift the cap on marketing loan rates.

The American Farm Bureau Federation called the new Republican plan a welcomed step, but cautioned Congress that the relief measures should not be paid for at the expense of other agriculture programs.

The Republican proposal includes $2.25 billion for crop disaster losses, $75 million for emergency livestock feed assistance, and $1.65 billion in direct payments to help offset the loss of export markets. The additional direct payments will be made only to farmers holding Freedom to Farm contracts.

Recently, the administration and Democratic congressional leaders met to discuss another version of a farm aid package. The administration had earlier proposed lifting the marketing loan rate cap, the major difference between the two parties' farm aid proposals.

"Congress must act quickly to provide necessary help for agricultural producers before adjourning this session," said AFBF President Dean Kleckner. "We are troubled, however, at the lack of a funding mechanism. We understand Congress is looking for ways to offset the $3.9 billion from other agricultural programs. We hope Congress has sufficient concern about the farm economy to approve emergency supplemental funding."

Conferees to the agriculture appropriations bill were expected to complete work on the package by the end of last week.

MARYLAND 4-H HORSE JAMBOREE RESULTS - The Maryland State 4-H Horse Jamboree was recently held at the Carroll County Agricultural Center in Westminster. 4-H'ers observed and participated in a number of activities including horse demonstrations, public speaking, horsemanship contest, tours and workshops. Representing Garrett County in the Horsemanship Contest and Dirty Pony Contest were the following members of Saddle Tramps 4-H Club: (pictured from left to right) Erin Hoalcraft, Senior Horasmanship, white; Lora Teets, Intermediate Horsemanship, white; Beth Sweitzer, Intermediate Horsemanship, red; Krieten Baker, participant in the Dirty Pony Contest; Roxann Hoalcraft, Intermediate Horsemenship, white; Christy Hoalcraft, Senior Horsemenship, white; Jessica Upole, Senior Horsemanship, white; and Brittany Wotring, Intermediate Horsemanship, red. Adults/leaders who participated were: Connie Hoalcraft, Amanda Upole, Marietta Felix, and Lisa Sweitzer.

Last Minute Info On Farm Aid Package

Senate Republicans sent their $4.1 billion farm aid package to President Clinton on Tuesday despite his admonition "not to leave town" before adding more money.

Clinton reiterated his intention to veto the bill in a strongly worded statement issued late Tuesday. "If Congress insists on sending me an agriculture bill that fails to respond fully to the needs of America's farmers, then I will have no choice but to veto the bill," he said.

Clinton and the Democrats have pushed a $7.3 billion plan that would rely mostly on giving farmers an extra $5 billion through a program that subsidizes growers when commodity prices fall below set levels.

The 55-43 Senate vote for the smaller package sets the stage for Clinton's certain presidential veto.

Take Advantage of Cash Discounts

During the next few months many of the Agricultural Supply Businesses will be offering "early-bird" discounts on many of their farm products. These cash discounts are an easy way to make money. The money saved from discounts goes directly to the profit column. If you have money laid away, push the pencil to see if the discount will save you more money than the savings is earning. Also, talk to your banker to see if a line of credit could be established to take advantage of the discounts.

Accidents Impact the Farm Business

All of the hustle and bustle about getting things done lure us into shortcuts and intermediate fixes. These shortcuts can lead to accidents, which can have a critical impact on your farm business. Farm occupations represent 10% of all fatal work injuries. Twenty-one percent of the farm injuries are caused by tractors and machinery. Each year 150,000 to 200,000 people up to age 21 are injured on U.S. farms. As a result, agricultural workers have a disability rate 1.5 times higher than all of the other industries combined.

Most accidents and injuries do not have to occur. Being in the "wrong place at the wrong time" is not justification or an excuse for an accident. Prevention and planning today can minimize the potential for accidents. Following are some tips to consider.

- Maintain equipment and make sure it is working properly.
- Make sure all guards are in place.
- Have parts and tools available for equipment that frequently breaks down.
- Properly train your family members and employees on safe use of equipment.
- Tailor jobs to match youthful skills, maturity, and judgment.
- Have a designated and well-organized work area for "quick fix" repairs.
- Use the tractor seat belt.
- Size the tractor to the attachment to assure control.

Increasing your farm safety in a continual commitment. Experience is a wonderful thing. It enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again.

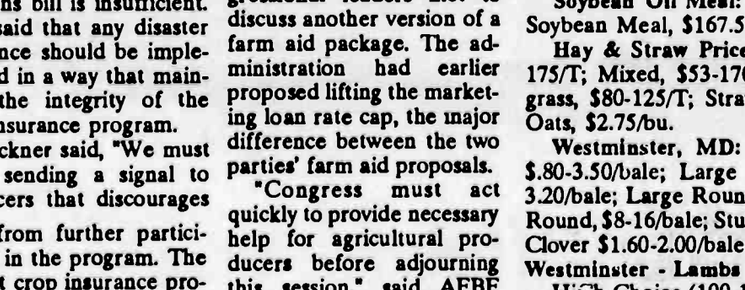
Ag Statistics Service Reports On Chicken & Eggs

Laying flocks in Maryland produced 72 million eggs during July 1998, of which 64 million were table eggs and 8 million were hatching eggs. The average rate of lay was 71.5%. The average number of layers on hand during July 1998 was 3,246,000. On August 1, none of the layers in Maryland were being molted and 37.0% of all layers had been through a molt.

Egg production across the United States totaled 6.68 billion during July 1998, up 4% from the 6.44 billion produced during July 1997. Production included 5.64 billion table eggs and 1.04 billion hatching-type eggs.

Hatching eggs included 982 million from broiler-type flocks and 57 million from egg-type flocks. The total number of layers during July 1998 averaged 308 million, up 3% from the average for July 1997. July egg production per layer was 21.7 eggs, compared to 21.5 a year earlier. On August 1, 3.9% of the layers in the U.S. were being molted and 21.7% had been through a molt.

Egg-type chicks hatched during July totaled 36.6 million, up 8% from July 1997. Additional egg-type hatching eggs in incubators on August 1 totaled 28.9 million, up 2% from the previous year.



The July 1998 hatch of broiler-type chicks, at 723 million, was up 2% from July of the previous year.

Anaual Seedling Sale

Clements State Tree Nursery Superintendent Dave McCurdy and his staff say they have mixed emotions about the first day of October.

On one hand, they're excited about selling an estimated 1.5 million seedlings to be used for reforestation, erosion control, Christmas tree establishment, shelter belts, windbreaks, and wildlife. On the other hand, they know they'll be very busy for the next several weeks.

The seedlings are made available each year to landowners, community groups, and companies who place orders with the nursery. The trees are not to be used for resale and are to be planted in West Virginia.

"I take the phone off the hook until exactly 8 a.m.," said McCurdy. "Otherwise, I'd be getting calls at 4 in the morning." McCurdy and his nursery staff raise most of the trees from seed bought from private gatherers. They care for the trees for the next one to three years until they are healthy enough to distribute.

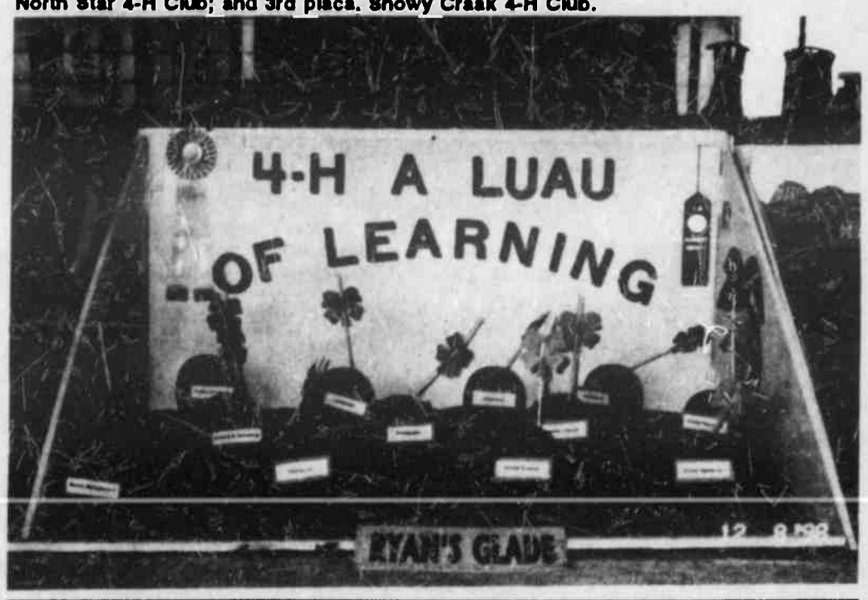
"Most of the hardwoods go out when they are one year old. The pines go out after two or three years," said McCurdy. "We make sure they get what they need to be strong."

Part of that strengthening process is the state-of-the art treatment of some trees with the Mycorrhizae inoculation.

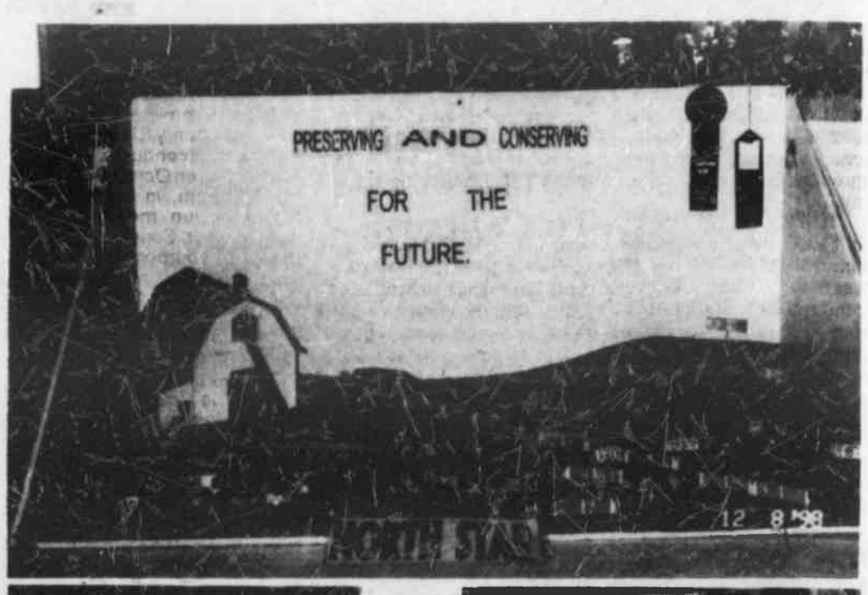
"Most people haven't realized the difference this treatment makes because our weather has been pretty mild. In severe, dry weather, the Mycorrhizae makes the roots more efficient, and can be the life or death factor in younger, smaller trees," he added.

McCurdy explained that Mycorrhizae is a fungus which works in cooperation with the roots of the tree to provide better nutrient and water delivery.

The seedlings will be available until next spring in packages of 25 to 500, and will cost between $11 and $80 per 100. For more information about seedling purchase, you can call the Clements State Tree Nursery at 304-675-1820 or stop by the WVU Extension Office on 115 W. Court Street in Kingwood for an order form.



WV Quality Assurance Sale



There will be a feeder calf sale at Franklin, W.Va., on October 9, at 1 p.m. For further information or a list of calves, contact the WVU Extension Office at 329-1391.

SWANTON, MARYLAND 21561

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court of Garrett County, Equity Case No. 8807 CIVIL, the undersigned Trustees will sell at public auction to take place AT THE FRONT OF THE GARRETT COUNTY COURTHOUSE LOCATED AT 203 SOUTH 4TH STREET, OAKLAND, MARYLAND 21550 ON OCTOBER 19, 1998 AT 2:18 O'CLOCK P.M.

ALL THAT LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS thereon situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and described as follows:

PROPERTY ADDRESS: LOT 12, SUN VIEW HEIGHTS, SWANTON, MARYLAND 21561

The property is in fee-simple and improved by a DWELLING.

The property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition without either express or implied warranty or representation, including but not limited to the description, fitness for a particular purpose or use, structural integrity, physical condition, construction, extent of construction, workmanship, materials, liability, zoning, subdivision, environmental condition, merchantability, compliance with building or housing codes or other laws, ordinances or regulations, or other similar matters, and suoject to easements, agreements and restrictions of record which affect the same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $2,500.00 payable in cash, certified check or by a cashier's check will be required from purchaser at time of sale, balance in cash upon final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court of Garrett County, interest to be paid at the rate of 17.99% PER ANNUM on unpaid purchase money from date of sale to date of settlement. The secured party herein, if the purchaser, shall not be required to post a deposit or pay interest. The purchaser will be required to complete settlement of the purchase within FIVE (5) DAYS of the ratification of the sale by the Court. In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, the aforementioned deposit shall be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the purchaser. Taxes and water rent, if any, to be adjusted to date of sale. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or matropolitan district charges to be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, recordation, transfer taxes and all other costs incident to the settlement shall be borne by the purchaser. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason (and the property is purchased by someone other than the noteholder), there shall be no abatement of interest. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from date of sale forward. If the Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title or a resale is to take place for any reason, the purchaser's (s') sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the aforementioned deposit. Upon refund of the deposit this sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustees.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners and the Garrett County Planning Commission will conduct a joint public hearing on October 14, 1998 at 1:30 p.m. in the Planning Commission meeting room (Third Floor, Courthouse, Oakland). The purpose of the meeting will be to receive public comments on the County's draft Land Preservation and Recreation Plan. The plan identifies actions to enhance park and recreation opportunities within the County and its municipalities as well as actions for protecting and preserving Garrett County's natural resources. The Plan will also enable Garrett County to remain eligible for Maryland Program Open Space funding which is the primary funding sources for acquiring and developing new local parks and for improving existing parks in Garrett County. Copies of the draft Plan are available in the Planning Office, Room 307, Courthouse. Interested citizens are welcome to attend.

By Order of The Board of County Commissioners and the Garrett County Planning Commission.

SOUTHEAST CONVEYANCE SYSTEM AQUATIC CROSSINGS
A. PROPOSAL SECTIONS
I. INVITATION TO BID

Receipt of Proposals

Sealed bids marked "Bid for the Southeast Conveyance System Aquatic Crossings" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse Room 200, Oakland, Maryland 21550, until 11:00 a.m. on 0th day of November, 1998, and then and there the bids will be publicly opened and read.

General Description of Work

This project will include the following:

1. Approximately 500 LF 8-inch pressure sewer to be hung on the new Glendale Road Bridge, and
2. 1285 LF of twin 6-inch pressure sewer, approximately 700 LF of which will cross under Deep Creek Lake at North Glade Cove.

Pre-Bid Conference

A pre-bid conference will be held on Friday, October 23, 1998, at 2:00 p.m. in the office of the Owner to answer any questions concerning the Bidding Documents. All bidders are invited to attend.

Bidding Documents

Bidding Documents will be available for inspection during regular working hours at the Office of the Owner.

Bidding Documents may be obtained from the Owner upon written request and remittance of full payment of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each set with checks made payable to the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. Payment will not be refunded, said payment being retained by the Owner to cover cost of printing, handling and shipping. Requests for Bidding Documents shall be submitted to:

Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc.
313 East Alder Street
Old Courthouse, Room 200
Oakland, Maryland 21550

All bids must be made on the required Bid form. All blank spaces for Bid prices must be filled in in ink or typewritten, and the bid form must be fully completed and executed when submitted.

The Owner reserves the right to waive the right to waive any informalities or minor defects, or to reject any and all Bids. Any Bid may be withdrawn prior to the above scheduled time for the opening of Bids or authorized postponement thereof. Any Bid received after the time and date specified will not be considered. No Bidder may withdraw a Bid within 90 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Should there be reasons why the Contract cannot be awarded within the specified period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

Bidders must satisfy themselves of the scope-of-work by examination of the site and a review of the Bidding Documents including Addenda. After Bids have been submitted, the Bidder shall not assert that there was a misunderstanding concerning the quantities of work or of the nature of the work to be done.

The Bidding Documents contain the provisions required for the work included in the Project. Information obtained from an officer, agent or employee of the Owner or any other person shall not affect the risks or obligations assumed by the Contractor or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the Contract.

Bid Security and Bond Requirements

There are no bid securities or bond requirements for this project. Progress payments will be made for work in place and a ten percent (10%) retainage will be held on all work until the project is completed and the contract requirements are satisfied. Retainage in the amount of five percent (5%) of the final construction cost will be held for a one (1) year warranty period. Bidder may elect to provide a maintenance bond for one hundred percent (100%) of the construction cost in lieu of the five percent (5%) retainage.

The Owner may for any reason whatsoever, determine that it is not in its best interest to award a Contract. In that event, the Contract award will not be made by the Owner and the Owner will not then be liable for any payments whatsoever to the Bidder. Extension of time beyond the ninety (90) day period of the award may be made only by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

The party to whom the Contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement within ten (10) calendar days from the date when Notice of Award is delivered to the Bidder. The Notice of Award will be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and contract forms. In case of failure of the Bidder to execute the Agreement, the Owner may, at his option, consider the Bidder in default.

The Owner within ten (10) days of receipt of an acceptable Agreement signed by the party to whom the Contract was awarded, will sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the Agreement. Should the Owner not execute the Agreement within such period, the bidder may, by Written Notice, withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of notice by the Owner.

A conditional or qualified Bid will not be accepted.

Award will be made by the Owner to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over the work shall apply to the Contract throughout.

Time For Completion

The successful bidder will be required to fully complete contract work within ninety (90) consecutive calendar days from and including the date of receipt from the Owner of formal notice to proceed.

Award of Contract

The award of any contract will be made by the Owner.

Bidders are cautioned that bids that are deemed by the Owner to be obviously unbalanced may be rejected.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any proposal for failure to comply with all requirements of this notice or of any of the Bidding Documents; however, it may waive any minor defects or informalities at its discretion.

The Owner further reserves the right to reject all proposals, or to award a contract or contracts which in its judgment is in the best interest of the Owner.

Nondiscrimination of Employment

BIDDERS ON THIS WORK WILL BE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH THE PRESIDENT'S EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 11246. THE REQUIREMENTS FOR BIDDERS AND CONTRACTORS UNDER THIS ORDER ARE EXPLAINED IN 41 CFR 60.4.

Notice of Requirement for Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities

Bidders and offerors are cautioned as follows: By signing this bid or offer, the bidder or offeror will be deemed to have signed and agreed to the provisions of the "Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities" in this solicitation. The certification provides that the bidder or offeror does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color, or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a de facto basis. The certification also provides that he will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a bidder or offeror to agree to the Certification of Nonsegregated facilities will render his bid or offer non-responsive to the terms of solicitations.

STANDING TIMBER FOR SALE

CONTRACT: PG-04-99

The Maryland State Forest & Park Service is offering for sale the following timber on 20 acres of Compartment 13 of Garrett State Forest. Said timber is estimated to cut 184,861 Bd. Ft. of live hardwood saw timber according to the International ¼" Saw Kerf Rule and 77 standard cords of hardwood pulpwood, more or less. All tallied trees 11" DBH and larger with at least one 16' log to an 8" top DIB with less than 50% defect were tallied as sawtimber.

Timber is located on the east side of Harrington manor Rd., approximately ¼ mile north of the entrance to Herrington Manor State Park. Timber is offered for sale subject to the following conditions:

1. Timber will be shown at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 20, 1998. Anyone interested in seeing this timber can meet at the Harrington Manor State Park entrance, at the above date and time.

2. Contract/Bid Forms will be available at the showing or from Potomac-Garrett State Forest Hdqts., 1431 Potomac Camp Rd., Oakland, MD 21550, 301-334-2038.

3. A Security Bond in the amount of ten percent of bid amount must be posted upon submission of the bid to the Maryland State Forest & Park Service.

4. The operator must be a registered Forest Product Operator to be awarded successful bidding.

5. A Performance Bond in the amount of ten percent of bid amount must be posted upon acceptance of the contract by the State of Maryland. The Security bond may be applied to cover the Performance Bond.

6. Bids will be received until 1:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 4, 1998, at which time they will be opened publicly.

7. Bidder may pay 50% of bid price on acceptance of Contract, with the remaining 50% payable within 90 calendar days from bid acceptance. If buyer selects this option, the delayed payment must be covered by a payment surety bond in form acceptable to the State.

8. All timber volumes noted in this offering are estimates. Parties bidding on this timber should determine such volumes to their own satisfaction. No adjustments on the basis of volumes will be made with buyers.

GARRETT COUNTY SANITARY COMMISSION SOUTHEAST CONVEYANCE SYSTEM PUMPING STATIONS

A. PROPOSAL SECTIONS
I. INVITATION TO BID

Receipt of Proposals

Sealed bids marked "Bid for the Southeast Conveyance System Pumping Stations" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse, Room 200, Oakland, Maryland 21550, until 11:00 a.m. on 6th day, November, 1998, and then and there the bids will be publicly opened and read.

General Description of Work

This project will be for a new flushing station for Thousand Acres, modifying existing Pumping Station 11-3 by using a parallel station. The new parallel station for 11-3 will be a submersible station with two submersible pumping units, valve vault and controls.

Pre-Bid Conference

A pre-bid conference will be held on Friday, October 23, 1998, at 2:00 p.m. in the office of the Owner to answer any questions concerning the Bidding Documents. All bidders are invited to attend.

Bidding Documents

Bidding Documents will be available for inspection during regular working hours at the Office of the Owner.

Bidding Documents may be obtained from the Owner upon written request and remittance of full payment of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each set with checks made payable to the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. Payment will not be refunded, said payment being retained by the Owner to cover cost of printing, handling and shipping. Requests for Bidding Documents shall be submitted to:

Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc.
313 East Alder Street
Old Courthouse, Room 200
Oakland, Maryland 21550

All bids must be made on the required Bid form. All blank spaces for Bid prices must be filled in in ink or typewritten, and the bid form must be fully completed and executed when submitted. The owner reserves the right to waive any informalities or minor defects, or to reject any and all Bids. Any Bid may be withdrawn prior to the above scheduled time for the opening of Bids or authorized postponement thereof. Any Bid received after the time and date specified will not be considered. No Bidder may withdraw a Bid within 90 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Should there be reasons why the Contract cannot be awarded within the specified period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

Bidders must satisfy themselves of the scope-of-work by examination of the site and a review of the Bidding Documents including Addenda. After Bids have been submitted, the Bidder shall not assert that there was a misunderstanding concerning the quantities of work or of the nature of the work to be done.

The Bidding Documents contain the provisions required for the work included in the Project. Information obtained from an officer, agent or employee of the Owner or any other person shall not affect the risks or obligations assumed by the Contractor or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the Contract.

Bid Security and Bond Requirements

There are no bid securities or bond requirements for this project. Progress payments will be made for work in place and a ten percent (10%) retainage will be held on all work until the project is completed and the contract requirements are satisfied. Retainage in the amount of five percent (5%) of the final construction cost will be for a one (1) year warranty period. Bidder may elect to provide a maintenance bond for one hundred percent (100%) of the construction cost in lieu of the five percent (5%) retainage.

The Owner may for any reason whatsoever, determine that it is not in its best interest to award a Contract. In that event, the Contract award will not be made by the Owner and the Owner will not then be liable for any payments whatsoever to the Bidder. Extension of time beyond the ninety (90) day period of the award may be made only by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

The party to whom the Contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement within ten (10) calendar days from the date when Notice of Award is delivered to the Bidder. The Notice of Award will be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and contract forms. In case of failure of the Bidder to execute the Agreement, the Owner may at his option, consider the Bidder in default.

The Owner within ten (10) days of receipt of an acceptable Agreement signed by the party to whom the Contract was awarded, will sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the agreement. Should the Owner not execute the Agreement with such period, the Bidder may, by Written Notice, withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of notice by the Owner.

A conditional or qualified Bid will not be accepted.

Award will be made by the Owner to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over the work shall apply to the Contract throughout.

Time For Completion

The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within two hundred seventy (270) consecutive calendar days from and including the date of receipt from the owner of formal notice to proceed.

Award of Contract

The award of any contract will be made by the Owner.

Bidders are cautioned that bids that are deemed by the Owner to be obviously unbalance may be rejected.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any proposal for failure to comply with all requirements of this notice or of any of the Contract Documents, however, it may waive any minor defects or informalities at its discretion.

The Owner further reserves the right to reject all proposals, or to award a contract or contracts which in its judgement is in the best interest of the Owner.

Nondiscrimination of Employment

BIDDERS ON THIS WORK WILL BE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH THE PRESIDENT'S EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 11246. THE REQUIREMENTS FOR BIDDERS AND CONTRACTORS UNDER THIS ORDER ARE EXPLAINED IN 41 CFR 60.4.

Notice of Requirement for Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities

Bidders and offerors are cautioned as follows: By signing this bid or offer, the bidder or offeror will be deemed to have signed and agreed to the provisions or the "Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities" in this solicitation. The certification provides that the bidder or offeror does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color, or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a defacto basis. The certification also provides that he will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a bidder of offeror to agree to the Certification of Nonsegregated facilities will render his bid or offer non-responsive to the terms of solicitations.

By: Wendell R. Bettzel, Administrator

Garrett County NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners will conduct a Public Hearing to obtain the views of citizens on COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND HOUSING NEEDS, and to offer citizens the opportunity to review an application which Garrett County proposes to submit to the State on or before the November 13, 1998 deadline for same. The hearing will be held at the Commissioners' Meeting Room in the Garrett County Courthouse at 9:00 a.m. on October 13, 1998.

On the same date and time the Board of County Commissioners will also conduct a hearing to review and offer an opportunity to comment on the performance of the following CDBG grant previously funded through the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development. This grant will be the Crellin Head Start Project. The grant was awarded to the Garrett County Board of Commissioners and is being administered by the Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., through a subrecipient agreement.

The Small Cities Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program is a federally sponsored program designed to assist units of general local government with activities directed toward neighborhood and housing revitalization, economic development, and improved community facilities and services.

Maryland's Program is administered by the Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD), in close cooperation with the Department of Business and Economic Development (DBED).

The Maryland Program reflects the State's economic and community development priorities and provides public funds for activities which meet the following national objectives, in accordance with the Housing Community Development Act of 1974, as amended:

(1) give maximum feasible priority to activities which will benefit low and moderate income persons and households having an income equal to or less than the Section 8 lower income limits established by HUD;

(2) aid in the prevention of elimination of slums or blight;

(3) meet other community development needs of an urgent nature, or that are an immediate threat to community health and welfare.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record, if any.

The property is improved by a DWELLING.

TERMS OF SALE: $9,000.00 cash or by certified check will be required of the purchaser, (other than the above named Note holder or THE SECRETARY OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT) at the time and place of sale, balance of the purchase money in cash upon final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County and to bear interest at 10%, per annum from the day of sale to the day of settlement. In the event the above named Note holder purchases the property no deposit will be required and the requirement of interest on the balance of the purchase price shall be waived. All charges for conveyancing, recording, stamp taxes, transfer taxes, certificate of title, etc., to be at the cost of the purchaser. All other expenses, water rent, and real estate taxes and all other assessments and public charges, payable on annual basis including special paving tax, if any, to be adjusted to the date of sale, and assumed thereafter by purchaser.

Time is of the essence and terms of sale are to be complied with within ten days after final ratification thereof by the Court, otherwise the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. This sale is subject to Ratification by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. If the sale is not ratified, or if for any reason the Substituted Trustees are unable to convey clear, marketable title, the sale shall be void and the purchaser's sole remedy shall be the return of the deposit.

GARRETT COUNTY SANITARY COMMISSION SOUTHEAST CONVEYANCE SYSTEM FORCE MAINS AND GRAVITY SEWERS

A. PROPOSAL SECTIONS
I. INVITATION TO BID

Receipt of Proposals

Sealed bids marked "Bid for the Southeast Conveyance System Force Mains and Gravity Sewers" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse Room 200, Oakland, Maryland 21550, until 11:00 a.m. on 6th day November, 1998, and then and there the bids will be publicly opened and read.

General Description of Work

This project will include the following:

1. 7652 LF 10-inch force main from Pumping Station 11-3 to an existing sanitary manhole in Glendale Road, approximately 1900 LF east of Rte. 219.

2. 3095 LF 8-inch pressure sewer from a manhole in Beckman's Peninsula Road, approximately 1000 feet north of North Glade Cove to Pumping Station 11-3.

3. 1903 LF of twin 6-inch pressure sewer in two locations: a) from the end of Beckman's Peninsula Road, approximately 125 LF north of North Glade Cove to the above-mentioned manhole in Beckman's Peninsula Road; and b) from the Thousand Acres Flushing Station to the south shore of North Glade Cove.

4. 4040 LF of 8-inch gravity sewer on the north side of Little Snaggy Mountain on Thousand Acres, discharging at the Thousand Acres Flushing Station.

5. 2092 LF of 3-inch low pressure sewer force main on the north side of Little Snaggy Mountain, also discharging into the above-mentioned 8-inch gravity sewer.

Pre-Bid Conference

A pre-bid conference will be held on Friday, October 23, 1998, at 2:00 p.m. in the office of the Owner to answer any questions concerning the bidding documents. All bidders are invited to attend.

Bidding Documents

Bidding Documents will be available for inspection during regular working hours at the office of the Owner.

Bidding Documents may be obtained from the Owner upon written request and remittance of full payment of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each set with checks made payable to the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. Payment will not be refunded, said payment being retained by the Owner to cover cost of printing, handling and shipping. Requests for Bidding Documents shall be submitted to:

Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc.
313 East Alder Street
Old Courthouse, Room 200
Oakland, Maryland 21550

All Bids must be made on the required Bid form. All blank spaces for Bid prices must be filled in in ink or typewritten, and the bid form must be fully completed and executed when submitted.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any informalities or minor defects, or to reject any and all Bids. Any Bid may be withdrawn prior to the above scheduled time for the opening of Bids or authorized postponement thereof. Any Bid received after the time and date specified will not be considered. No bidder may withdraw a Bid within 90 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Should there be reasons why the Contract cannot be awarded within the specified period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

Bidders must satisfy themselves of the scope-of-work by examination of the site and a review of the Bidding Documents including Addenda. After Bids have been submitted, the Bidder shall not assert that there was a misunderstanding concerning the quantities of work or of the nature of the work to be done.

The Bidding Documents contain the provisions required for the work included in the Project. Information obtained from an officer, agent or employee of the Owner or any other person shall not affect the risks or obligations assumed by the Contractor or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the Contract.

Bid Security and Bond Requirements

There are no bid securities or bond requirements for this project. Progress payments will be made for work in place and a ten percent (10%) retainage will be held on all work until the project is completed and the contract requirements are satisfied. Retainage in the amount of five percent (5%) of the final construction cost will be held for a one (1) year warranty period. Bidder may elect to provide a maintenance bond for one hundred percent (100%) of the construction cost in lieu of the five percent (5%) retainage.

The Owner may for any reason whatsoever, determine that it is not in its best interest to award a Contract. In that event, the Contract award will not be made by the Owner and the Owner will not then be liable for any payments whatsoever to the Bidder. Extension of time beyond the ninety (90) day period of the award may be made only by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

The party to whom the Contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement within ten (10) calendar days from the date when Notice of Award is delivered to the Bidder. The Notice of Award will be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and contract forms. In case of failure of the Bidder to execute the Agreement, the Owner may, at his option, consider the Bidder in default.

The Owner within ten (10) days of receipt of an acceptable Agreement signed by the party to whom the Contract was awarded, will sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the Agreement. Should the Owner not execute the Agreement within such period, the Bidder may, by Written Notice, withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of notice by the Owner.

A conditional or qualified Bid will not be accepted.

Award will be made by the Owner to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over the work shall apply to the Contract throughout.

Time For Completion

The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within one hundred fifty (150) consecutive calendar days from and including the date of receipt from the Owner of formal notice to proceed.

Award of Contract

The award of any contract will be made by the Owner.

Bidders are cautioned that bids that are deemed by the Owner to be obviously unbalanced may be rejected.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any proposal for failure to comply with all requirements of this notice or of any of the Contract Documents; however, it may waive any minor defects or informalities at its discretion.

The Owner further reserves the right to reject all proposals, or to award a contract or contracts which in its judgment is in the best interest of the Owner.

Nondiscrimination of Employment

BIDDERS ON THIS WORK WILL BE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH THE PRESIDENT'S EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 11246. THE REQUIREMENTS FOR BIDDERS AND CONTRACTORS UNDER THIS ORDER ARE EXPLAINED IN 41 CFR 60.4.

Notice of Requirement for Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities

Bidders and offerors are cautioned as follows: By signing this bid or offer, the bidder or offeror will be deemed to have signed and agreed to the provisions of the "Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities" in this solicitation. The certification provides that the bidder or offeror does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color, or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a de facto basis. The certification also provides that he will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a bidder or offeror to agree to the Certification of Nonsegregated facilities will render his bid or offer non-responsive to the terms of solicitations.

Theft, VOP Net Oakland Man Jail Term

An Oakland man who had entered a not guilty plea to a theft charge, incurred while he was already serving two probation sentences, was handed an eight-month jail term in last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings.

Todd William Riley, 23, was most recently arrested in September by Garrett County sheriff's deputies following an investigation into a theft of a Sega Game Gear video game. Riley was accused of taking the video game, valued at $150, from a Mtn. Lake Park residence as he moved out in August; the next day he allegedly pawned the game in a Keyser, W.Va., pawnshop.

After Riley pleaded not guilty to the charge of misdemeanor theft in court last week, Judge Ralph M. Burnett handed down a conviction and sentenced Riley to four months in jail.

The theft occurred as Riley was serving concurrent probation terms for previous convictions on charges of controlled dangerous substance abuse via the inhalation of paint fumes and fourth-degree sex offense for engaging in allegedly consensual sex with a juvenile. The judge revoked probation in each instance and handed Riley a 60-day reimposed jail sentence for each probation violation, to be served consecutively.

Added together, the reimposed sentences and the theft conviction sentence bring Riley's total jail time to eight months.

In other district court news, a Grantsville man was sentenced to two weeks in jail after he pleaded guilty to a fourth-degree sex offense charge.

Michael Lee Kitzmiller, 22, was handed a 30-day sentence, all but 14 days of which were suspended, fined $355, and was placed on one year of supervised probation. Kitzmiller had been charged after his arrest by sheriff's deputies in May for allegedly engaging in consensual sex with a juvenile. An additional charge of second-degree assault was not prosecuted.

Maximilian Andrew Paape Jr., 35, Swanton, who had pleaded not guilty to a charge of second-degree assault stemming from a domestic altercation at his residence, was convicted and received a 30-day sentence with all but two days suspended and one year of unsupervised probation. He had been arrested in July by sheriff's deputies.

Leonard Francis McKenzie, 71, Frostburg, pleaded guilty to a charge of second-degree assault and received a 30-day suspended sentence, a $300 fine, and one year of supervised probation. State troopers had arrested McKenzie in June for allegedly threatening a juvenile with an axe.

Harold Dean Michaels, 46, Oakland, pleaded guilty to a charge of misdemeanor theft stemming from his July arrest by sheriff's deputies in connection with a shoplifting incident at Treasure Island. He received a 30-day sentence, all but two days of which were suspended, and six months of unsupervised probation.

Ricky Wayne Lewis, 37, Swanton, pleaded guilty to charges of trespass and disorderly conduct and received a 60-day suspended sentence, a $50 fine, and one year of unsupervised probation. The charges stemmed from his August arrest by sheriff's deputies after a domestic-related incident at his residence.

Shane Matthew Oester, 20, Salisbury, Pa., was sentenced after an earlier conviction on a fourth-degree sex offense charge and received a 60-day suspended sentence and one year of supervised probation. He had been arrested in January by state troopers for allegedly engaging in consensual sex with a juvenile. An additional charge of second-degree assault was not prosecuted.

Chad Edward Steyer, 20, Mtn. Lake Park, was sentenced after an earlier conviction on a marijuana possession charge and received a six-month sentence with all but seven days suspended, a $355 fine, and one year of supervised probation. He had been arrested by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force in March for allegedly selling marijuana. An additional charge of manufacturing marijuana with the intent to distribute was not prosecuted.

Howard Richard Platter, 27, Frostburg, was sentenced after an earlier conviction on a charge of second-degree assault and received a 30-day suspended sentence, one year of supervised probation, and an order to make a $100 restitution payment to the Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Resource Center. Platter had been arrested by state troopers in April after a domestic incident.

Edward Perry Batie Jr., 36, Fort Hill, Pa., pleaded guilty to a possession of marijuana charge and was handed a probation before judgment (PBJ). He also received a $155 fine, six months of unsupervised probation, and an order to complete 40 hours of community service. A traffic stop in Grantsville in June led to Batie's arrest by state troopers, who found suspected marijuana in his vehicle.

Michael Wade Jones, 22, Oakland, and Zachary Ian Pitzer, 19, Tunnelton, W.Va., each received PBJs after pleading guilty to marijuana possession charges. The pair had been arrested in April by state troopers who found marijuana in their vehicle after a traffic stop in Oakland. Jones, the vehicle's driver, received a $155 fine, six months of unsupervised probation, and 40 hours of community service. Pitzer received a $100 fine, six months of unsupervised probation, and 40 hours of community service.

Matthew Scott Doyle, Bethlehem, Pa., pleaded guilty to charges of marijuana possession and driving while under the influence of drugs, which had stemmed from his arrest following a traffic stop near Accident by state troopers in April. He was banded a PBJ, and received a $300 fine, a 30-day sentence, all but two days of which were suspended, and one year of supervised probation.

Charges of second-degree assault and disorderly conduct were placed on the stet docket in the case of Robert Ickes, 70, Salisbury, Pa. The charges stemmed from a domestic-related incident at the Ridge Restaurant on Keyser's Ridge in June which resulted in his arrest by state troopers.

Charges of disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace faced by George David Moore, 21, Oakland, were stetted. He had been arrested by the Oakland City Police in July after allegedly engaging in drunk and disorderly conduct at several different locations in Oakland in the span of one evening.

A charge of trespass faced by James Milton Thomas Jr., 21, Accident, was stetted. He had been arrested by sheriff's deputies in May for loitering in the Browning's Foodland parking lot after having previously been warned not to do so.

Coleen Renee Eilifritz, 29, Eglon, W.Va., was granted a sentence revision to reflect a PBJ on a misdemeanor theft conviction.

Travis Lee Buckel, 19, Grantsville, was granted a sentence revision to reflect a PBJ on a misdemeanor theft conviction.

Dennis Ray Swartzentruber, 46, Oakland, was granted a sentence revision to reflect a PBJ on a felony malicious destruction of property conviction.

Dean Francis Norton, 36, Mtn. Lake Park, was granted a sentence revision on a second-degree assault conviction to reflect time already served in jail, and the balance of his sentence was suspended.

Steven Christopher Bargy, 19, Accident, received a sentence revision to reflect a PBJ on a felony theft charge conviction.

Jessica Dawn Yost, 19, Accident, received a sentence revision to reflect a PBJ on a misdemeanor theft conviction.

Christopher Steven Warnick, 19, Grantsville, received a sentence revision to reflect a PBJ on a marijuana possession conviction.

Steven Lawrence Dawson, 19, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a charge of second-degree assault stemming from a May arrest by sheriff's deputies following a domestic incident.

Timothy Dale Shaffer, 34, Terra Alta, W.Va., was not prosecuted on a charge of felony theft stemming from his August arrest by sheriff's deputies for allegedly selling a rifle that did not belong to him.

Mike Andres, 40, Frostburg, was found not guilty of two counts of second-degree assault.

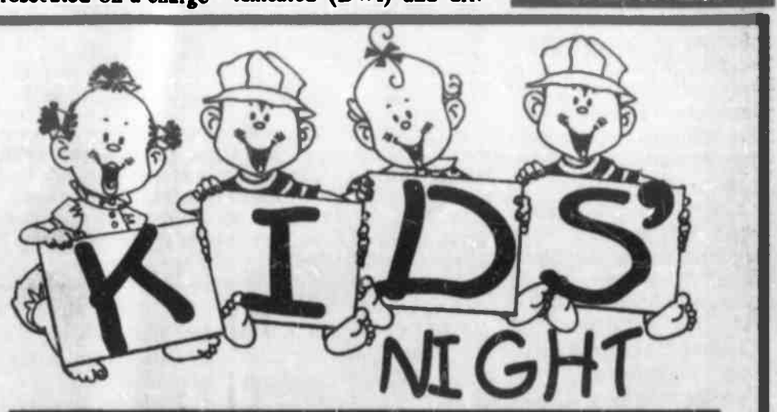
DWIs



Several driving while intoxicated (DWI) and driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs (DUI) sentences were handed down by Judge Burnett recently.

RESA To Hold Conference For Local Educators

Frostburg State University will host the first annual Regional Education Service Agency (RESA) "Technology in Teaching Conference" for area educators on Friday, Oct. 30, from 2 p.m. to 5:15 p.m., and Saturday, Oct. 31, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sessions for both days will convene in the lobby of the FSU Performing Arts Center.

The purpose of the conference is to demonstrate and to encourage the use of information technology in the classroom by featuring presentations by regional educators. Technology vendors will also be present to display and demonstrate their products.

Conference presentation topics will include: "Web Applications for the Classroom," "Teaching Through Interactive Video," "Digital Video For The Classroom," "Creating Multimedia Classroom Presentations," and "Funding Information Technology For Classroom Use." Each presentation will last approximately 30 minutes and be followed by a brief discussion period.

Saturday's luncheon, sponsored by Bell Atlantic, will feature guest speaker Richard N. Rose, director of the University of Maryland Academic Telecommunications Systems (UMATS). He will address the topic "Telecommunication Initiatives in Maryland."

As director of UMATS, Rose is responsible for University of Maryland System's in-house telecommunications, alumni development operations, office automation, training for various data processing applications, distance education, and the telephone PBX system. Among his other duties, Rose is also a technical assistant for over 30 national and international publications.

Early registration is encouraged for the conference. Preregistration, which guarantees a luncheon reservation, will be accepted until Friday, Oct. 16. Conference packages are for single days, or both days are available.

For information and registration, persons may contact the RESA office at 301-777-3525.

This event is sponsored by Bell Atlantic, RESA, Allegany College, FSU, Garrett Community College, Hagerstown Community College, and Kunz Inc.

Persons with disabilities may request accommodations through the ADA Compliance Office, 301-687-4102, TDD 301-687-7955.

Rev. Menker To Host Trip To The Holy Land

Harmon "Mel" Menker, pastor of the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, will host his fourth trip to the Holy Land in January. The 10-day trip, which will begin January 25, will include such biblical sites as: Chorizim, the Mount of the Beatitudes, the Sea of Galilee, Capernaum, the Jordan River, Cana, Nazareth, Caesarea, Mt. Carmel, Megiddo (Armageddon), Qumran, Jericho, the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane, Bethany (the tomb of Lazarus), Bethlehem (Church of the Nativity), the Old City of Jerusalem, the Pool of Bethesda, the Via Dolorosa, the Church of the Holy Sepuichre (Christ's tomb), the Temple Mount, the Upper Room, King David's tomb, the House of Caiaphas the High Priest, and the Garden Tomb, among others.

The group will travel with Educational Opportunities, a Christian-based, non-profit organization, which is the largest tour host to the Holy Land in the world.

The basic cost of the tour is $1,728, which covers round-trip air fare from BWI Airport, deluxe motorcoaches, first-class motel accommodations, guided sightseeing, all entrance fees, a breakfast buffet and dinner daily, a Bible study guide, evening lectures, and the services of E.O. staff on site in Israel. There are special discounts available for clergy and their spouses visiting the Holy Land for the first time.

A brochure is available from Pastor Menker and can be obtained by telephoning 301-334-5906. He is also available to visit with individuals/groups to provide more details and answer questions.

DAR Chapter Holds Meeting

The Youghiogheny Glades Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met for a luncheon meeting recently at the Rowlesburg, W.Va., Methodist Church. Members of the Rowlesburg Historical Society and their guests were present.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Charles Thomas, DAR regent, conducted the DAR ritual and business meeting. Mrs. John Ayersman, president of the Rowlesburg Historical Society, then presented a video of the historical sites of Rowlesburg, and a walking tour of the sites concluded the program.

Loch Lynn Church Of God To Host Revival Services

The Loch Lyan Church of God will host revival services with a youth emphasis, Oct. 11-14, at the church located on First Avenue.

The speaker, Bill Snyder, Orlando, Fla., was campus pastor at Oklahoma State University, the regional Chi Alpha representative for College Campus Ministries, and has served as a pastor and evangelist. His most recent project was beginning a home missions church in Orlando. He and his wife, Wendy, have two children, Clinton and Elizabeth.

The services will begin Sunday at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m., and Monday through Wednesday at 7 p.m. A variety of music and drama will be presented each evening as area youth groups minister nightly.

The services are open to the public, and Pastors Ivan and Cindy Ackerman, along with the church's congregation invite all to attend.

Medicines for Glaucoma Treatment

Glaucoma is an increase in the pressure within the eyeball. The pressure (called intraocular pressure) builds from fluid in the eye. Either there is excess production of fluid or there is a fluid drainage problem. The buildup of pressure, if left untreated, can result in damage to the optic nerve and loss of vision (blindness). In the healthy eye the normal intraocular pressure ranges from 10 to 20 mm mercury. Someone with a reading in the 21 to 30 mm range is considered at risk for glaucoma. Risk factors for glaucoma include a family history of the condition, old age, and certain diseases (e.g., hypertension, diabetes, and hyperthyroidism). Treatment of glaucoma focuses on reducing the intraocular pressure. Laser therapy is directed at opening up the canal that drains fluid from the eye. There are several types of medications used to treat glaucoma.

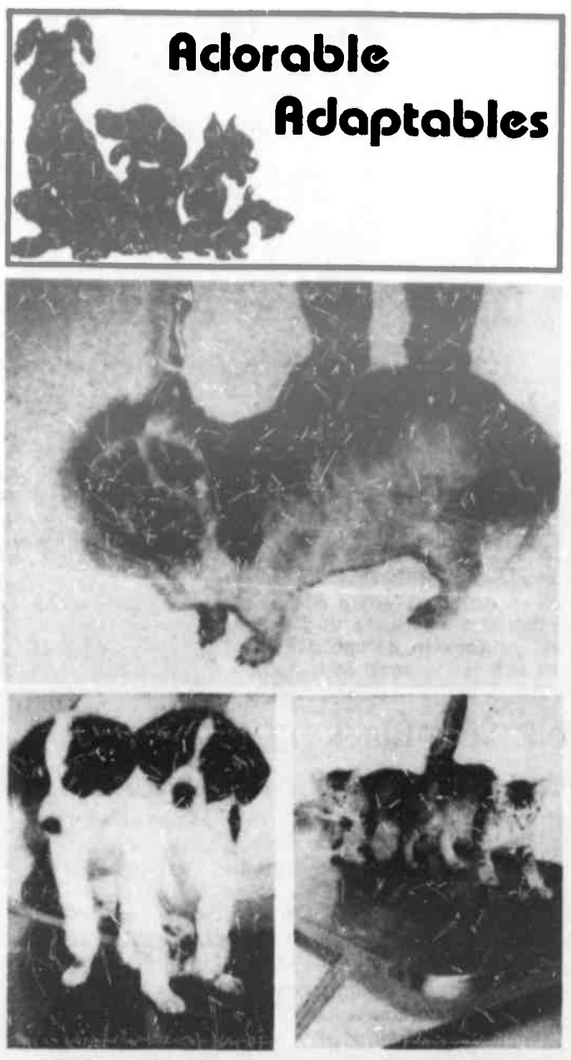
Rev. Teets Named GCMH Chaplain Of The Month

Reverend Charles E. Teets has been selected as the first individual to be honored as Chaplain of the Month, a new recognition program established by Garrett County Memorial Hospital as an expression of appreciation for the service chaplains provide to the hospital's patients, their families, and the staff.



Rev. Teets, who joined the hospital's chaplaincy program in 1986, serves on the Chaplaincy Board's executive committee and is the scheduling coordinator. As a member of the chaplaincy program, Teets accepts week-long assignments as Chaplain of the Day. During that time he makes daily visits to minister to the patients, their families, and staff. As scheduling coordinator, Teets is responsible for obtaining chaplaincy coverage throughout the rest of the year.

"Reverend Teets is one of the most dedicated and caring pastors I've ever met," said Charlotte Garner, volunteer coordinator for GCMH. "He goes above and beyond the call of duty to see that Garrett Memorial has chaplaincy coverage at all times. He is a good role model for all of us."

Rev. Teets was born in Tunnelton, W.Va., in 1923. He attended Tunnelton High School, from which he graduated m 1941. He attended classes at Marshall College in West Virginia, Huntington College in Huntington, Ind., and the United Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio. He served appointments at Cottageville Charge, Cottageville, W.Va.; Roxalana Church, Dunbar, W.Va.; and Terra Alta Charge, W.Va. Teets was pastor at the Crellin/Underwood churches for 30 years. He retired from the Pennsylvania Conference United Brethren in Christ in 1988. After retirement he served the Gortner Union Church and Brookside Church of the Brethren Church as interim pastor for seven years.

"I accepted Christ as my savior and received my call to the ministry in 1953. I was ordained in 1961," said Teets. "Serving as chaplain at the hospital has been one of the most rewarding times of my ministry."

Adorable Adaptables

FSU Office Of Public Safety Receives Awards

The Frostburg State University Office of Public Safety has recently been named as the recipient of two categories of Governor's Crime Prevention Awards. These awards are issued throughout the state to qualifying law enforcement officers and departments within all jurisdictions.

The FSU Campus Police received a Category A Award for "outstanding overall crime prevention efforts having incorporated an overall outstanding crime prevention program as an integral part of their daily operations."

This award, one of 19 such awards issued statewide, recognizes the ongoing efforts of the FSU department to maintain its many crime prevention programs, including drug abuse, personal, elderly and youth, residential and commercial, and bike safety.

Staff members continue to attend training sessions, increasing their ability to deal effectively with sexual assault and drug interdiction situations. Recognizing the damaging effects of hate crimes to the university campus and working to combat these problems, two officers maintain an active role in the campus National Coalition Building Institute Chapter.

"Because we have been so successful m winning this award for the last several years, it would be easy to underestimate its significance," stated Brian Shanley, director of the FSU Office of Public Safety. "In fact, though, this prestigious award bolsters our reputation as the safest campus in Maryland."

FSU was listed as the safest campus in Maryland by the 1997 report from Healey Roman Associates, a Massachusetts industrial research firm, ranking safety among four-year institutions of higher education.

Receiving Category E Awards, known as the Governor's Crime Prevention Achiever's Awards, were individual FSU Public Safety Department members Karl Hartig, supervisor, and Dennis Durst and Allen Shirk, officers. These department members were recognized for their ongoing efforts in conducting surveys of campus facilities and programs to better continue crime prevention.

"I am pleased by the three officers who won the individual awards," Shanley added. "It is tangible proof of the connection that all the officers make with the community they serve."

Tree Seedlings Available From DNR At Cost

The John S. Ayton State Forest Tree Nursery of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Forest Service is offering seedlings, at cost, to individuals and organizations wishing to plant trees on a minimum of a quarter-acre of land. The sale of these seedlings, at cost, is one of the ways that DNR's Forest Service works to help individuals and organizations invest in the future.

Individuals with one-fourth acre or more are encouraged to plant trees as stream buffers and windbreaks, to improve wildlife habitat, and for erosion control. Neighbors may work together to plant one-fourth acre along their property lines, and communities are encouraged to plant seedlings in parks and other common areas. Seedlings are offered in minimum quantities: 250 conifer seedlings in multiples of 50, and 100 hardwood seedlings in multiples of 25.

To encourage the planting of riparian buffers in the state of Maryland, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will offer at no cost a maximum of 425 tree seedlings or 1,200 shrub seedlings per acre to private landowners. The landowner must have a forest plan for the riparian area that the landowner wants to reforest. The riparian buffer is generally limited to the 100-year floodplain, or to the crest of the hill in steep valleys.

Individuals who are interested in planting trees on their property in the spring of 1999 are advised by the DNR Forest Service to contact their local forester for additional information and guidance in planning the planting, because proper site preparation is extremely important. Seedling orders will be taken until February 28, 1999, but seedlings are sold on a first-come, first-served basis, so order early.

Landowners who are planning to plant more than one acre may be eligible for one of the many incentive programs offered by the state or federal government, and may call the Forest Service office at Mt. Nebo, 301-334-3296, for further information about these programs.

Landowners or groups interested in purchasing seedlings for planting next spring can also place their order by contacting the John S. Ayton Forest Tree Nursery at 1-800-TREES-MD (1-800-873-3763). The 1999 catalog may be viewed by visiting the DNR nursery's website at <www.dnr.state.md.us/forests/nursery>.

GCC's Oakland Center To Host Calligraphy Class

A Basic Calligraphy course is being offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College. This course will be held at the Oakland Center of GCC beginning Tuesday, Oct. 13. Sessions are scheduled to be held each Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon for a total of six sessions.

After learning this art of beautiful writing, students may use their skills for poster lettering, writing notes, or addressing cards and invitations. The cost for this course is $21 for tuition plus a $4 registration fee. Students will need a basic calligraphy pen set to use during instruction. For more information, interested persons may call 301-334-8304.

NHS Student Participates In NASA Program

Joshua Neubert, a senior at Northern Garrett High School, recently completed a research internship at Northwestern University in Chicago, Ill. He was one of seven nationally selected high school students attending the NASA High School Summer Research Program. The students joined 10 university students to investigate problems in astrophysics and planetary science.

Students worked daily on a project headed by a university researcher. Scientists presented seminars each Friday afternoon, and at the end of the summer, participants presented their research.

Neubert worked under the mentorship of Dr. Mark Robinson, organizing the data from the HIRES (HIgh RESolution) telescope on the Clementine space mission, which photographed the moon. The resulting high resolution maps are being used to determine possible sites for water, landing sites, and base station locations on the moon.

A representative of the European Space Agency (ESA) visited Dr. Robinson's research team to coordinate efforts for an ESA planned rover spacecraft to land on the moon and investigate the presence of water. The surveys of data from Neubert's work would be part of this effort.

An honor roll student at Northern, Neubert has won numerous awards for his academic and extracurricular activities. He was awarded second place in a national astronomy competition for a project on asteroid orbits and was selected grand champion at the Western Maryland Regional Science Fair. He is on the school's Science Bowl, math and academic teams.

Joshua Neubert resides in Grantsville and is the son of Cathy and John Neubert.

"DEATH ENDS ALL"

I was talking to an atheist one day, and he said, "I do not believe, Dr. Wilson what you are preaching."

I said, "You have told me what you do not believe; perhaps you will tell me what you do believe."

He replied, "I believe that death ends all."

"So do I," I said.

"What! You believe that death ends all?"

"I certainly do," I answered. "Death ends all your chance for doing evil; death ends all your joy; death ends all your projects, all your ambitions, all your friendships; death ends all the Gospel you will ever hear; death ends it all for you, and you go out into the outer darkness. As for myself, death ends all my wanderings, all my tears, all my perplexities all my disappointments, all my aches and pains; death ends it all, and I go to be with my Lord in glory."

"I never thought of it that way," he said.

The outcome was that I led that man to Christ just by agreeing with him that "death ends all."

- Dr. Walter Wilson
